This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

REPORT

ALBANY, N. Y., January 1, 1903

To the Governor

The undersigned respectfully submit the twentieth annual report of the State Civil Service Commission, covering the year 1902.

Statutory changes

The legislature of 1902 extended the limit of time for provisional appointments in cities to two months (chap. 355, Laws 1902); did away with the probationary appointment in the case of veterans of the civil war, limited the positions from which veterans and volunteer firemen might be removed without a hearing and due cause shown to those of private secretary, cashier and deputy, and extended the veteran preference clauses of the civil service law to non-competitive positions (chap. 270, Laws 1902).

Litigations

The past year has been notable on account of the number of proceedings which have been brought in the courts to compel the Commission to change the classification by transferring certain positions from the competitive to the exempt class.

The uniformity of policy that characterizes the administration of the federal civil service law seems to be impracticable under the state act. The president of the United States, as the single head of the federal executive civil service, controls without judicial interference the heads of departments in matters of exemptions. Acts in violation of his policy he can restrain by reason of the fact that the heads of all departments are his appointees and are removable by him. In this state the rules of the State Commission affect not only the subordinates of appointees of the governor, but also the judicial civil service and the subordinates of elective state officers and county and city officers. Public officers who are independent of the governor do not feel constrained to acquiesce in the classifications of this Commission as approved by the governor, and they resort freely to the courts to compel changes in classifications which do not meet their approval.

It is a noteworthy fact that while many of the refusals of this Commission to exempt from competition have been attacked in the courts, no exemption granted by it has been made the subject of judicial review. In the neighborhood of one hundred distinct legal proceedings have been instituted against the State Civil Service Commission within the past year.

No proceeding against the State Civil Service Commission has as yet gone to the Court of Appeals on a question of classification. The relevant cases in the Court of Appeals were all instituted against parties other than the State Commission and the decisions went off on questions other than that of correct classification. They have been followed in proceedings against the Commission directly involving questions of classification, by the Appellate Division, Fourth Department, in Blust v. Collier et al., 62 App. Div. 478, and by judges at Special Term, and have been considered as controlling by the lower courts in all such cases, and particularly in those instituted against us during the past year. A brief review of these Court of Appeals decisions and their effect upon the litigation of the past year is therefore proper.

Chittenden v. Wurster, 152 N. Y. 345, decided in 1897, was a taxpayer's action against the fiscal officers of the city of Brooklyn and eleven exempted employees to restrain the payment of the salaries of the latter. The only point actually decided by the court in that case was that such action would not lie under the then existing civil service law. The positions were, for the most part, mere clerkships. They had been put in the exempt class by the municipal commission. Their right to be there was not passed upon, but in the opinion of the court Judge Haight (Judges Bartlett, Martin and Vann concurring) said that competitive examinations are impracticable for confidential positions. Judges Gray and O'Brien each wrote a long dissenting opinion in this case, and Judge Andrews concurred with Judge Gray.

In the case of People ex rel. Crummey v. Palmer, comptroller of Brooklyn, 152 N. Y. 217, the relator was a veteran volunteer fireman. He had been appointed assistant warrant clerk in the office of the comptroller and was discharged without a hearing. He brought mandamus to compel reinstatement. The question was whether Crummey occupied a "confidential relation" to the comptroller. If not, he was protected from arbitrary removal and his discharge was improper as the law then stood. Judge Haight said: "Such a relation arises whenever a continuous trust is reposed by one person in the skill and integrity of another," and the court held that the relation of Crummey to the comptroller was confidential. Judges O'Brien and Vann dissented.

The case of People ex rel. Flood v. Gardiner, district attorney of New York county, 157 N. Y. 520, decided in 1899, was also a removal case. The same question as in the Crummey case arose as to a subpoena server in the office of the district attorney, and the court held that the subpoena server occupied a "strictly confidential relation" to the district attorney. Judge Haight, with whom concurred Judges Bartlett and Martin, dissented.

People ex rel. Sweet v. Lyman, state excise commissioner, 157 N. Y. 368, decided in 1898, involved a similar question in connection with the position of special excise agent. Judge Martin, in the opinion of the court, says "that the position of special agent is confidential there is little doubt. * * * The Civil Service Commission cannot change the actual status of a position by declaring one which is actually confidential not to be so."

The present law was not in force when the above opinions were written. Section 13 of the White act, last sentence, provides that "When the position to be filled involves fiduciary responsibility, the appointing officer, where otherwise permitted by law, may require the appointee to furnish a bond or other security and shall notify the state or municipal commission of the amount and necessary details thereof." It is, therefore, a question whether the above Court of Appeals cases are now to be regarded as applicable in any event to positions of fiduciary responsibility. No court has as yet regarded this provision as seriously affecting the classification of confidential positions, although it has been repeatedly brought to the attention of the courts in all proceedings against the present State Commission.

The lower courts have, in the proceedings against the present Commission by employees of sheriffs, registers and county clerks, compared each case with the positions affected by the Court of Appeals cases cited above, and have almost invariably held, on the authority thereof, that such county employees were in the exempt class.

It is the confident hope of the Commission that when the pending litigations reach the Court of Appeals that court will narrow its definition of the term "confidential" and hold that not all confidential positions are in the exempt class. The Commission does not subscribe to the mere dictum of a bare majority of the court of last resort that competitive examinations are impracticable for all confidential positions. When we consider that the constitution of the state makes competition the rule and exemption the exception, that candidates for examination are compelled to submit certificates of character from not less than three well known reputable citizens before they can enter the examination, that three names are submitted to the appointing power from which he makes his choice, that the appointment is at first on probation only, that the civil service law places practically no restrictions upon removals, except in special cases, that the appointee must rely on his own merit and fitness and not on political influence to retain his place and that the alternative of competition is too often patronage rather than confidence, it seems difficult to maintain that no confidential position can be satisfactorily filled by competition.

Kings county — On the 1st of January, 1902, the offices of county clerk, sheriff and register of Kings county became salaried offices under chapters 704, 705 and 706 of the Laws of 1901. The civil service rules had been extended by the Commission, with the approval of the governor, to the county service of New York, Kings, Erie, Queens and Richmond counties on June 16, 1900, but prior to January 1, 1902, the subordinates of the Kings county officials above mentioned were placed in the exempt class as being the employees of the head of the office, paid wholly from his fees and not from public funds. The above statutes made the subordinates in said offices the employees of the county, paid from the public treasury, and, by the terms of the statutes, their appointment was to be made "subject to the provisions of the civil service law."

The Commission proceeded, with the approval of the governor, to classify as exempt the attorneys, deputies and secretaries in each of said offices, but it left in the competitive class, in the office of the sheriff, the positions of equity clerk, assistant equity clerk, accountant, bookkeeper, deputy warden, assistant clerk, keeper, matron, assistant deputy sheriff and van-driver; in the office of the register, the positions of chief clerk of records, chattel mortgage clerk, assistant chattel mortgage clerk, chief clerk of copyists, tickler clerk, mailing clerk, messenger, entry clerk and comparer; in the office of the county clerk, the positions of messenger, index clerk, equity clerk, chief of old records, comparing clerk, docket clerk, document searcher, copyist and custodian. Said officers for the most part refused to abide by said classification and made their appointments in most instances without regard to the eligible lists established by this Commission, and, as a result, thirty de facto employees in the sheriff's office, thirty-eight in the register's office and sixteen in the county clerk's office, all holding positions classified as competitive, thereupon instituted, in the Supreme Court, separate proceedings for peremptory writs of mandamus (eighty-four in all) against the State Civil Service Commission, to compel said Commission to certify to the legality of their appointments on the ground that their positions were exempt by law because of the impracticability of competition and that, therefore, their appointments were proper notwithstanding the classification of their positions as competitive by this Commission.

The following is a statement of the result of such proceedings to date:

Sheriff's office — Mr. Justice Dickey, on February 25, 1902, granted peremptory writs of mandamus against the Commission, ordering it to strike from the competitive class and place in the exempt class the following positions: Equity clerk, assistant equity clerk, accountant, bookkeeper of jail, deputy warden of jail, assistant clerk, keeper of jail, matron of jail, assistant deputy sheriff, van-driver.

The Commission has complied with said writs in the cases of equity clerk, assistant equity clerk, bookkeeper of jail, deputy warden of jail and assistant clerk. It has taken an appeal therefrom, or entered into a stipulation to abide the event of an appeal, in the cases of accountant, keeper of jail, assistant deputy sheriff and van-driver. The appeals were argued in the Appellate Division, Second Department, on May 26, 1902, but no decision has yet been handed down by said court.

Register's office — Mr. Justice Gaynor, on March 29, 1902, granted peremptory writs of mandamus against the Commission, ordering it to strike from the competitive class and place in the exempt class the following positions: Chief clerk of records, chattel mortgage clerk, assistant chattel mortgage clerk, chief clerk of copyists, tickler clerk, mailing clerk, messenger, entry clerk, comparer.

The Commission has complied with said writs in the cases of chief clerk of records, chief clerk of copyists, chattel mortgage clerk, assistant chattel mortgage clerk, tickler clerk and entry clerk. It has taken an appeal, or entered into a stipulation to abide the event of an appeal, in the cases of mailing clerk, messenger and comparer. The appeal was argued in the Appellate Division, Second Department, on May 16, 1902, but no decision has as yet been handed down by said court.*

Justice Marean granted like writs in cases of copyist and assistant index clerk, from which appeals have been taken.

County clerk's office — Mr. Justice Marean granted peremptory writs against the Commission in the cases of equity clerk, document searcher, comparing clerk and messenger, but refused same in cases of copyist, index clerk and clerk of old records. The Commission has complied with said writ in the case of equity clerk and taken appeals in the other cases decided against it.

Mr. Justice Gaynor granted the writ in the case of one custodian in the office of the register, but held that other custodians were not exempt. The Commission has taken an appeal in the former case.

Copies of the opinions of Judges Dickey, Gaynor and Marean are printed in full in the appendices.

To reduce the vast expense incident upon these litigations, the Commission has felt constrained to prosecute appeals in test cases only and has entered into stipulations that the other cases appealed should abide the event of the test cases; meanwhile the pay-rolls of relators to be certified pursuant to the several writs obtained by them.

Board of coroners, borough of Manhattan, New York city — Recently the board of coroners, borough of Manhattan, New York city, has brought proceedings against the municipal civil service commission of New York city and the State Civil Service Commission, asking for a peremptory writ of mandamus compelling the commissions to put the positions of clerk to each coroner in the borough of Manhattan, and the positions of physician to each of the four coroners of the borough of Manhattan in either the exempt or non-competitive class. Justice Hall, of the Supreme Court, has issued an order directing that mandamus issue against the municipal civil service commission of the city of New York, directing said commission to place forthwith in the exempt class of the said municipal civil service rules the position of clerk to each coroner of the borough of Manhattan, and to certify its action in making said positions exempt to the State Civil Service Commission for its approval. The motion for a mandamus against the State Civil Service Commission was denied. A decision upon the application in the case of coroners' physicians has not yet been rendered.

Sheriff, New York county — The Commission also has been served with papers in proceedings for peremptory writs of mandamus, brought by Sheriff O'Brien of New York county, and others, to compel the classification in the exempt class of the positions of assistant deputy sheriff and prison guard in the department of the sheriff of New York county. The application was argued on Monday, December 22d. No decision has as yet been rendered.

Municipal investigations

By section 6 of the civil service law the State Civil Service Commission is given power to make investigation concerning, and to report upon all matters touching the enforcement and effect of the provisions of that law and the rules and regulations prescribed thereunder, concerning the action of any examiner or subordinate of the Commission, or any person in the public service, in respect to the execution of the law. No power is given to the municipal commissions by the civil service law to conduct such investigations. The State Commission may, therefore, properly conduct investigations in aid of municipal commissions and for its own guidance in making recommendations of statutory changes or changes in its rules, and to give publicity to the evidence. By section 10 of the civil service law this Commission also has power by unanimous vote of the three commissioners, with the written approval of the governor, to remove any municipal civil service commissioner for incompetence, inefficiency, neglect of duty, or violation of the civil service rules, after service upon the accused commissioner of a copy of the charges, with an opportunity to make a personal explanation in self-defense, but, although the Commission may investigate the conduct of any other officer, state or municipal, with reference to the civil service law, it has no power to remove him for violation of the same, nor to revoke any of his illegal acts, nor to afford redress to any person who has been illegally removed or whose rights under the civil service law have in any other respect been violated.

Benefit may accrue as the result of investigations conducted by the State Commission. The municipal commissions may be put into possession of material information otherwise inaccessible to them. Citizens may be apprised of many of the acts of their public servants which otherwise might be done in secret; at the present time the civil service statute does not make it compulsory upon public officials to state their reasons for the removal of any of their subordinates, and consequently, citizens, as well as the parties more directly in interest, are often unable, without an investigation by the State Commission, to learn the reasons and motives of public officials in exercising their powers of appointment and removal.

Conduct which is in violation of the law may, as a result of the publicity of an investigation, be more clearly brought to the attention of prosecuting officers, and persons who believe that they have been removed in violation of the law may thus obtain information which will enable them to determine the question of the propriety of the institution of legal proceedings to procure reinstatement.

But it is not the proper function of the State Commission to institute local judicial proceedings, civil or criminal, based on violations of the civil service law. Such duty devolves upon tax-payers and citizens, interested parties, and the local authorities. The people of each municipality have the constitutional right to have their local offices administered by officers selected by themselves and subject only to such state supervision as may properly be imposed by law.

The present condition of affairs in some of the municipalities, so far as the administration of the civil service law is concerned, leads the Commission to believe that closer supervision of the city civil service is essential to the proper enforcement of the law. Experience has shown us that the municipal commissioners welcome the visits of a representative of the State Commission and express their appreciation by giving hearty co-operation. Better results can be obtained by a uniform system of inspection than by occasional investigations of complaints. The Commission proposes during the coming year, by one or more of its members or its secretary or its chief examiner, to officially visit each city in the state at least once for the purpose of inquiring into the method of the administration of the civil service law, and to ascertain whether the municipal commissioners and other city officials faithfully discharge their duties in respect to compliance with said law.

Rochester — The Commission met in Rochester in response to formal complaints of misconduct against the municipal civil service commission which was in office in the year 1901. Sessions were held on January seventeenth and eighteenth, February fourteenth and fifteenth and April first, and testimony was taken concerning examinations held for promotion to the position of battalion chief in the fire department, and to the position of captain in the police department, and generally concerning the enforcement of the civil service law. The reports of the Commission were filed April eighth and the same are set forth in full in the appendices.

Rome — The Commission has also conducted, through its secretary, an investigation as to the administration of the civil service law and rules in the city of Rome. A complaint was made to the Commission by Merritt B. Kingsley, of Rome, under date of October seventh, alleging that an inspector of paving was being employed under the title of "laborer." The secretary was directed to visit Rome and make a general investigation concerning the enforcement of the civil service law in said city and to report his findings to the Commission, which report was duly made, approved by the Commission and made public.

Recommendations as to legislation

1. Removals -- The Commission is of the opinion that in order to secure compliance with the present provisions of the civil service law forbidding removals for political reasons, the act should be amended so as to provide that no removal of any person in the competitive class of the classified service should be valid unless and until a statement setting forth legal and sufficient reasons for such removal is filed with the proper civil service commission and the person removed has had notice thereof and an opportunity to reply thereto. As the law now stands removals for political reasons are prohibited but removals for no reason whatever are permitted, except in cases of veterans, etc., and in other special cases, and the burden is thrown upon the faithful and efficient employee to establish the fact that his removal was for political reasons. The burden should fall upon the officer making the removal to justify his act — at least by stating in writing over his own signature a valid reason therefor. The rule of the federal civil service provides that "no removal shall be made from the competitive classified service except for just cause and for reasons given in writing; and the person sought to be removed shall have notice and be furnished a copy of such reasons, and be allowed a reasonable time for personally answering the same in writing. Copies of such reason, notice and answer and of the order of removal shall be made a part of the records of the proper department or office." Under the decision of the New York Court of Appeals in People ex rel. Percival v. Cram (164 N. Y., 166), the State Civil Service Commission and the municipal commissions have no power under the present law to make such a rule. Under the decision of the same court in People ex rel. Kennedy v. Brady (166 N. Y., 44), if the reasons stated by the appointing power under such a law or rule are sufficient upon their face to justify the removal, the courts will not review such removal.

The Commission is not of the opinion that the right of a trial on charges of misconduct, subject to judicial review thereof in the courts, should be further extended, but it recommends such legislation as will require a formal written statement of valid reasons for removal and permit a written answer thereto as a prerequisite to removals from positions in the competitive class in all cases. Such a proceeding would give to the public information as to the manner in which their officers are exercising their powers of appointment and removal.

2. Exception from competition — Section 14 of the civil service law provides that three classes of positions in the competitive class may be filled without competition, as follows:

1. Whenever there are urgent reasons for filling a vacancy in any position in the competitive class and there is no list of persons eligible for appointment after competitive examination, the appointing officer may nominate a person to the state or municipal commission for non-competitive examination, and if such nominee shall be certified by such commission as qualified after such non-competitive examination, he may be appointed provisionally to fill such vacancy until a selection and appointment can be made after competitive examination, but such provisional appointment shall not continue for a longer period than two months, nor shall successive temporary appointments be made to the same position under this subdivision.

2. In case of vacancy in a position in the competitive class where peculiar and exceptional qualifications of a scientific, professional or educational character are required, and upon satisfactory evidence that for specified reasons competition in such special case is impracticable and that the position can be best filled by the selection of some designated person of high and recognized attainments in such qualities, the state or municipal commission may suspend the provisions of the rule requiring competition in such case, but no such suspension shall be general in its application to such place, and all such cases of suspension shall be reported in the annual reports of such commissions with the reasons for the same.

3. When the services to be rendered by an appointee in the state service are for a temporary period not to exceed one month and the need of such service is important and urgent, the appointing officer may select for such temporary service any person on the proper list of those eligible for permanent appointment without regard to his standing on such list.

Rule VIII, paragraph 9, reads as follows:

The commission may by special action except from examination under these rules any person engaged in private business who shall render any professional, scientific, technical or other expert service of an occasional and exceptional character to any state officer, and whose compensation in any one year shall not exceed $300; provided, that such limitation of compensation shall not apply to any such person employed by the governor, comptroller, or attorney-general; and further provided, that the commission may suspend such limitation of compensation by special resolution in other cases. All exceptions granted under this section, with the reasons therefor, shall be set forth by the commission in its next annual report.

Under this provision we have authorized numerous appointments to be made without competition. Some provision of this nature seems absolutely essential to the efficient administration of the law, and, for that reason, such a rule has been in force for a period of years. The whole rule is entitled "Appointments to positions in the competitive class," and paragraph 9 is in terms the addition of a fourth class of exceptions from competition of positions in the competitive class, to those specified by section 14 of the law.

The law (section 13) provides that the competitive class shall include all positions in the classified service except such positions as are in the exempt class, the non-competitive class or the labor class, and that appointments shall be made or employment given in all positions in the competitive class that are not filled by promotion, transfer, etc., by appointment of those graded highest in open competitive examination, except as in the act otherwise provided. The only exceptions from competition contained in the act are those found in section 14 above quoted.

The law provides (section 12) that "no office or position shall be deemed to be in the exempt class unless it is specifically named in such class in the rules." This compels the enumeration, separately, in the rules, with the approval of the governor, of each position in the exempt class and prohibits general exemptions by description merely. It is somewhat doubtful if paragraph 9 of rule VIII is technically within the power of the Commission to make rules, treated as a provision either for exemption or for exception from examination of positions in the competitive class merely.

We would, therefore, recommend to the legislature the adoption of an amendment to section 14 of the law, expressly giving to the State Commission power to except from examination in such cases of the occasional employment of persons engaged in private business as are now provided for by rule VIII, section 9, where it is made to appear that competition is impracticable.

3. Collateral attack; review of classifications — Under the former civil service law the Court of Appeals held that the classification of positions in the civil service by this Commission was not subject to collateral attack but was to be respected by all unless and until it was changed by direct legal proceedings against the Commission. No appointment was, therefor, valid except when made in accordance with the classification as it existed at the time of making such appointment. The appointing power was obliged first to mandamus the Commission to exempt a position classified by it in the competitive class, before it could make an appointment to fill such position.

Under the present law the exemptions made by the Commission are subject to collateral attack under section 27 of the civil service law, which permits any taxpayer to bring an action against the disbursing officer to restrain the payment of an appointee holding a position alleged to have been improperly classified as exempt, notwithstanding the fact that his pay-rolls are properly certified by the Commission.

It has been held that the classification of a position in the competitive class is also subject to collateral attack under section 19 of the law, by any civil employee who may, after receiving an appointment made in defiance of the classification and after the Commission had refused to certify his pay-roll on that account, maintain a proceeding by mandamus to compel the certification of his pay-roll, without regard to the classification, on the ground that the position held by him is improperly classified.

The Commission has thus been divested of its judicial functions in deciding matters of classification, and has been reduced to the mere ministerial function of attempting to record, as best it may, an ideal and pre-existing classification of the positions in the civil service, subject to the danger of making clerical mistakes in so doing. A position should be held to be in the class where the Commission, with the approval of the governor, places it, unless and until, in a direct proceeding against the Commission, the court orders the classification to be changed. The classification should not be subject to collateral attack in any case, but should be respected as long as it stands. This, however, requires legislation. As it is now, we are parties to judicial proceedings merely to defend not the good judgment of the Commission, but the absolute accuracy of its classification. The proceedings of the Commission in refusing or granting exemptions should be subject to review by certiorari and not by mandamus, and section 2140 of the code of civil procedure should control the court issuing the writ. Any resident taxpayer should be permitted to institute proceedings to compel the placing of a position in the competitive class. Only the appointing power should have the right to institute a proceeding to compel the placing of a position in the exempt class.

We, therefore, respectfully recommend to the legislature that the civil service law should be amended so as to limit the right of attack by legal proceedings upon the classifications of the Commission to direct proceedings against the Commission, that the Commission be given power to hear, try and determine each claim for exemption, and that its decision be final as to all questions of fact, where there is evidence to support its findings, subject in all cases to the approval of the governor.

4. Elective officers; legislative officers and employees — The civil service law (section 8) puts in the unclassified service, among other positions, "all elective officers" and "all legislative officers and employees." Both these terms are too vague and indefinite, and should be more strictly defined in the act. There has been a tendency to hold that officers and employees of boards of aldermen in cities, and boards of supervisors of counties are both elective and legislative employees. (Matter of Shaughnessy v. Fornes, 172 N. Y. 323.)

The municipal service

But few changes in the municipal civil service rules and classifications have been made during the year, except in New York city.

Chapter 466, Laws of 1901, made many amendments to the charter of Greater New York, and it became necessary for the municipal and State Civil Service Commissions to revise the classification of the municipal departments and offices to conform with the changes required by the charter amendments. The municipal civil service commission submitted proposed amendments to its rules, including numerous changes in classification, together with the reasons therefor, and the same were considered at meetings of the State Commission held January 1st, 2d and 4th. The revised classification was approved January 4, 1902.

Many additional amendments to the New York city rules have been considered during the year, and for the most part have been approved. The State Commission refused, however, to approve certain exemptions, together with a rule giving the municipal commission arbitrary power to set aside eligible lists without hearing the persons affected thereby.

Amendments to the rules governing the civil service of the following cities have been approved: Albany, Auburn, Buffalo, Jamestown, Mount Vernon, Olean, Rochester, Syracuse, Utica and Watertown.

Proposed amendments to the civil service rules of the following cities have been returned by the Commission without approval: Albany, Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse.

Two new cities were created during the year, viz.: Fulton and Plattsburgh. The mayors of the cities promptly appointed municipal civil service commissions and the commissions as promptly began the preparation of rules and regulations. By request the secretary of the State Commission visited these cities and advised and aided the local commissions in the preparation of the rules, with the result that most excellent rules were submitted to the State Commission. The rules for the city of Fulton were approved May 17th, and those for the city of Plattsburgh June 9th.

In the appendices will be found the rules for these cities, together with the amendments to city rules approved, and the proposed amendments which did not receive favorable action; also a synopsis of the reports of the municipal civil service commissions, showing the work in the municipal service during the year.

Appendices

The appendices of this report will contain, among other things, the report of the chief examiner and the statistical tables concerning examinations, appointments, removals, resignations, etc., to which attention is particularly invited; also table showing the number of positions classified in each department and institution with the exception of laborers, amendments to municipal civil service rules, amendments to the state civil service rules and regulations, special reports, court decisions, rulings of the Commission, and roster of state and county employees.

Conclusion

In conclusion the Commission acknowledges the assistance and support of all who have aided it in the enforcement of the civil service law and the rules, and it especially acknowledges the assistance given by Attorney-General Davies and his deputies, Messrs. Warner and Mason, the Civil Service Reform Association and the Association of Civil Employees in the litigations which have been such a prominent feature of its work during the year.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Chief examiner's annual report

CHIEF EXAMINER'S ANNUAL REPORT

ALBANY, N. Y., December 31, 1902

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.— I have the honor to submit the following report of the examination division for the calendar year 1902.

Organization of the division

The only changes in the organization of the division during the year have been the resignation of Mabel E. Paterson and Rose J. Mehan as stenographers taking effect August 1st and November 4th, respectively. The vacancies have been filled by the appointment of Viola P. Sherrill and Ellen G. Tobin.

During the greater part of the year it was found necessary to employ a temporary examiner at $75 a month. Franklin B. Holmes was employed in this capacity from January 13th to June 30th, and Nathan Beckwith from August 1st to October 31st. These appointments were made from the eligible list during the periods of especially heavy work incident to the examinations for the Kings county service and the general examination for clerks and stenographers and resulted in a considerable saving of time and expense as compared with the employment of outside examiners on a per diem basis.

The expenses for special and expert examiners for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1902, was $1,120.94, which is slightly more than that reported last year, on account of the greater number of candidates examined.

Statistics of examinations

The work of the examination division for the year may be summarized as follows:

Examinations of 1901 completed in 1902

	Number of examinations.	Number of candidates.

The number of candidates appearing in open competitive examinations is the largest in the history of the Commission. The statistics for the last seven years are as follows:

	Candidates examined.	Applications received.

New examinations

The largest new examinations held during the year were those for the Kings county service, made necessary by the statutes of 1901 changing the Kings county clerk's, register's and sheriff's offices from a fee to a salary basis, and thereby transferring a large number of positions from the exempt to the competitive class. As the questions of classification of the statutory places had not been settled and as the Commission ruled that the former incumbents of places under the fee system could not be continued and the positions would have to be filled by original appointment, an attempt was made to supply eligible lists for all positions that would probably fall in the competitive class. Examinations were held on January 25th for bookkeeper, clerk, custodian and messenger in the county offices generally, docket clerk and equity clerk in the county clerk's office, special clerk and custodian of map room in the register's office, assistant clerk and equity clerk in the sheriff's office, and bookkeeper, keeper, matron and van driver in the county jail. For these positions 1112 candidates were examined and the eligible lists reported from time to time up to April 16th. On March 15th examinations were held for assistant deputy sheriff, and deputy warden of jail, at which thirty candidates were examined. I made personally several visits to the county offices, having conferences with the heads of the offices, their counsel, deputies and various employees. In spite of the lack of reliable information as to the duties of the various positions due to the inexperience of those in authority and to the great haste necessary in the preparation of these examinations, I believe that the questions were excellent for their purpose and that the eligible lists would have furnished the best candidates for the positions involved almost without exception. The county officers, except the county clerk, refused in most cases to make their appointments from the lists, preferring to appeal to the courts for a ruling as to the validity of the classification. From the county clerk and register, who made in all about sixty appointments from the lists, we have had repeated expressions of satisfaction and no complaints concerning the efficiency of the persons appointed.

Other new examinations held during the year were for draughtsman in the state paleontologist's office, associates in clinical psychiatry and in neuro-pathology in the pathological institute, inspector of highway work, special agent in the department of public works, tailor and cutter in the Erie county penitentiary, assistant in photographic chemistry in the cancer laboratory at Buffalo, instructor in engraving, typewriter in the office of Queens county commissioner of jurors, preparator in the state paleontologist office, matron in the Erie county jail, assistant Bertillon indexer, deputy mine inspector, assistant superintendent in houses of refuge for women, marine engineer, bacteriologist, assistant engineer and foreman for the Richmond county park commission, instructors in steam and gas fitting and in shoemaking. Besides these, the usual number of general and technical examinations have been called. A complete list of the examinations for the year is given in the appendix.

Many examinations have had to be repeated during the year on account of the small number of applicants. The continued prosperity of the country and general increase in wages and cost of living make many of the salaries paid by the state seem ridiculously small, and it is hard to find sufficient qualified applicants for such positions. The positions for which examinations have been repeated, with the number of examinations held for each, are:

Positions.	Number of examinations.
Woman officer	5
Guard, Elmira Reformatory	3
Apothecary	3
Clerk, Regents' office	3
Physician, first and second grades	2
Examiner in English, Regents' office	2
Assistant civil engineer	3
Leveler	3
Rodman	2
Assistant in entomology, State Museum	2
Woman physician	3
Trained nurse	3
Physician, third grade	2
Stenographer, first, second and third grades	2
Instructor in printing	2
Page	2
Architectural draughtsman	4
Engineering draughtsman	2
Assistant electrical engineer	2
Matron, Erie county jail	2

Medical and physical examinations for guard, keeper and similar positions have been continued, and the superintendents and wardens of prisons and reformatories report that they consider this feature an important supplement to the mental examination for such employees.

The cost by cities for local examinations, covering room rent, local and medical examiners, is as follows:

Binghamton	106 00
Buffalo	153 72

	$2,267 25

The appropriations available for the current fiscal year are:

Salary of chief examiner:
Appropriation.		$3,600 00
Expenses of chief examiner:
Balance.	$243 78
Appropriation.	400 00	643 78
Salaries of examiners:
Appropriation.		$4,400 00

Part of appropriation.		$1,620 00
Expenses of examinations:
Balance.	$2,859 02
Appropriation.	3,000 00	$5,859 02

The probable appropriations necessary for the fiscal year 1902-3 are, in my judgment, as follows:

Salary of chief examiner.		$3,600 00
Expenses of chief examiner.		500 00
Salaries of examiners:
Senior examiner	$2,400 00
Technical examiner	1,400 00
Junior examiner	1,000 00	4,800 00
Expenses of examiners and stenographer.		300 00
Salaries of clerks:
Stenographer.	$900 00
Stenographer.	720 00	1,620 00
Expenses of examinations.		4,500 00
Total.		$15,320 00

The only increases suggested are in the items of chief examiner's expenses, $100; expenses of examinations, $1,500, and salary of senior examiner, $400. In the first two items large cuts were made last year on account of the balances then standing to their credit, and the amounts should now be at least partially restored to their former figures. I suggest an increase in the salary of the senior examiner, not only on account of the ability and value of the present incumbent, but also in consideration of the importance of his duties and the natural requirements of the position.

Non-competitive examinations

The number of persons examined for positions in the non-competitive class is 2286. The majority of these examinations are conducted by the local boards of examiners in the various institutions, but the papers are given some review in the office of the Commission, and are all recorded there. In some cases we are called on to furnish questions for these examinations to the local boards, and such assistance is promptly afforded. For the positions in the Department of Public Buildings and the Forest, Fish and Game Commission the non-competitive examinations are conducted directly by the Commission's examiners. Such examinations have numbered thirty-one for the year. No important changes in the non-competitive classification have been made during the year.

Miscellaneous

A new edition of the manual of examinations was issued about July first, and the supply on hand will probably last until about May 1, 1903. A new supply should be prepared in time to replace the present one when exhausted.

A new form of mailing list has been prepared on which are entered the names of those who desire information of all examinations, as well as those who inquire about special examinations of infrequent occurrence for which no date is fixed at the time of the inquiry.

Promotion examinations have been held from time to time, as shown by the table appended hereto. As the system of competition for promotion becomes better understood the questions arising are more easily and promptly settled without the necessity of appealing to the Commission for a ruling in each case.

Unsatisfactory features of the administration of the civil service law and rules in the smaller cities of the state are often brought to the attention of the Commission. These are in most instances due to a lack of understanding of the proper procedure under the rules. The Commission's experience with an inspector for the city service is sufficient to demonstrate the value of such work. I would suggest that there are many opportunities during the year for the secretary and chief examiner to visit the various cities of the state with little expense or loss of time and make some inspection of the work of the local commissions and give suggestions for feasible improvements. In this way I believe much good could be accomplished and assistance rendered which the municipal commissions would appreciate highly.

SPECIAL REPORTS UPON INVESTIGATION OF ADMINISTRATION OF CIVIL SERVICE LAW AND RULES IN THE CITY OF ROCHESTER

State Civil Service Commission:

IN THE MATTER OF THE INVESTIGATION OF THE EXAMINATION FOR PROMOTION TO THE POSITION OF BATTALION CHIEF IN THE FIRE DEPARTMENT OF THE CITY OF ROCHESTER, HELD SEPTEMBER 20, 1901, INSTITUTED UPON THE PETITION OF THOMAS W. COLE.

Statement of facts

The examination in question was open only to captains in the department, the grade of captain being next below that of battalion chief. The scheme of weights applied in fixing the ratings was: for written examination, 5; for ladder test, 1; for service, 4. Among the questions in the written examination were four questions which are referred to in the testimony as the pressure questions, as follows:

"9. What is the water pressure ordinarily used in steam fire engines?

"10. In this pressure and 500 feet of fire hose about how high could you throw a 1¼ inch stream, standing on the ground?

"11. What is the range of pressure in the down-town districts in the Hemlock system?

"12. What is the ordinary fire pressure in the down-town districts in the Holley system?"

These questions were propounded by the city engineer, who furnished to the chief examiner of the municipal commission a set of answers. Upon the first rating of the papers these answers were assumed to be correct and the rating was made accordingly. After the examination numerous appeals were received, most of which related to the four questions mentioned. After consideration by the municipal commission typewritten copies of the answers of the several candidates, without anything to indicate their identity, were prepared and submitted to the city engineer, Mr. Fisher, who re-rated the answers. In such re-rating he found that although the answers first propounded by him were theoretically correct upon the considerations then before him there were other elements which he had not considered which affected seriously the answers, especially to question ten. The answers of the candidates to question nine were also submitted to one Mumford, an extra engineer in the fire department, the secretary of the commission reading to him the answers of the candidates and recording his rating upon such answers. The ratings of Messrs. Fisher and Mumford were before the commission at the time the appeals were determined and where there was any serious difference in the ratings the ratings of Mr. Fisher were followed. As a result of the appeals and re-ratings the petitioner, Cole, was reduced from second to fifth place on the eligible list, and one, Cregan, who in tho first instance, was rated low on the list, with a standing of 72%, received a new mark of 91, was placed at the head of the eligible list and appointed. The questions presented are in part the same as those in the police captains' examination.

Findings

1. The complaint is within the power of the State Civil Service Commission to investigate under subdivision 3 of section 6 of the civil service law.

2. In view of the unsatisfactory nature of the records kept by the fire department, the Commission was justified in omitting the elements of efficiency, punctuality, attention and general good conduct in arriving at the service rating. For the same general reason the assignment of weights cannot be said to be so grossly unfair as to vitiate the results of the examination.

3. The ladder test was a proper one and the weight assigned to it was not excessive.

The duties of the position of battalion chief are to be on the ground at all fires, to take charge of the firemen arriving on the first call and to have entire charge until the arrival of the chief. At small fires the battalion chief is frequently in charge until the fire is extinguished. It is well known that in order properly to direct the work of the firemen the officer in charge must be able to know of his own knowledge, the location, extent and nature of the fire and to gain this information at the earliest possible moment after his arrival on the ground. He should, therefore, be able to go quickly by ladder or otherwise, as the circumstances may demand, to any necessary point in order to gain this information. He should be a man of activity and agile. A time test in climbing ladders would seem to be particularly adapted to measure these elements of fitness in firemen, and in fact better than any other single test that could be devised.

4. Upon the discovery of the inequalities in rating affecting the whole examination it was in the descretion of the municipal commission, under rule XV, to take any proper steps to correct the errors made, even to the extent of cancelling the whole examination and calling a new one, and its decision to re-rate the papers upon competent advice should be sustained if possible.

No facts are alleged or testimony given attacking the integrity of the conduct of the examination or of the papers in the hands of the Commission when the various ratings were made. It is not alleged or proven that any candidate had knowledge of the questions to be asked or that the answers of any of the candidates had been modified between the examination and the time of the final rating. The methods adopted to obtain competent advice for a proper re-rating of the papers seems to have been well advised. No evidence has been given that the rating finally arrived at was not a just one. Although every precaution should be taken that correct methods of marking are adopted and that the correct markings are arrived at before the identity of the candidates is disclosed yet when errors of principle in rating are discovered after the provisional list has been made up and the identity of the candidates disclosed and the Commission takes the steps indicated by the testimony in this case to procure fair and disinterested advice from persons ignorant of the identity of the candidates on which to base its re-rating, it would seem to have taken all the precautions necessary for justice and fairness between the candidates. There are some elements in an examination which cannot be rated without knowledge of the identity of the candidates and the fact that the examiner may possibly know whose paper he is marking is not fatal to the result unless it is shown that this knowledge had some effect upon the rating.

5. It is not shown that the employment of Mumford prejudiced the ratings of this petitioner or of other candidates in the examination.

It is true that the rule of the municipal commission prohibit the employment "as an examiner" of any persons employed in the department for whose benefit the eligible list is to be prepared. It would be a stern rule indeed that should prevent a commissioner or an examiner from obtaining the advice of such persons either as to the kind of questions to be asked or as to the manner in which they should be rated, and the evidence in this case fails to establish that Mumford was otherwise used. The re-ratings were made by the Commission, with such advice and assistance as they had obtained, including the advice of Mumford and Fisher, who, it appears, had conferred with each other and substantially agreed as to the proper method of rating. Neither does it appear that Mumford was employed or paid for services as an examiner. He was simply appealed to as one having knowledge of the subject matter for advice and it appears that where his advice differed from that of the city engineer it was disregarded.

6. There was lack of competition in the ladder test in the case of the three candidates whose names are not disclosed, but who did not participate in the actual test. There is no warrant or authority for placing their names on the eligible list with an arbitrary rating for a test in which they did not participate.

7. With the exception of the failure of competition in the ladder test affecting three men the eligible list for battalion chief seems from the evidence to have been fairly prepared and with this exception it should stand.

Recommendations

The State Civil Service Commission respectfully recommends to the municipal civil service commission of the city of Rochester, in the matter of the examination for battalion chief in the fire department, that the three candidates who did not participate in the ladder test be required to submit to the test in the same form as other candidates and be rated in the same manner, in default of which their names should be stricken from the eligible list.

State Civil Service Commission:

IN THE MATTER OF THE INVESTIGATION OF THE EXAMINATION FOR PROMOTION TO THE POSITION OF POLICE CAPTAIN IN THE POLICE FORCE OF THE CITY OF ROCHESTER, HELD DECEMBER 13, 1901, INSTITUTED UPON THE PETITION OF SHARON L. SHERMAN.

Statement of facts

The petitioner, a lieutenant of the police force of the city of Rochester, was a candidate for the position of captain in the above mentioned examination; he also took a similar examination on June 1, 1900. In that examination six lieutenants were examined, four passed, two were promoted and the petitioner and James E. Ryan were not appointed. The examination of December 13, 1901, was open to lieutenants, detective sergeants and patrol sergeants. The petitioner and said Ryan were the only lieutenants who passed the examination and there is but one other lieutenant on the force and he failed to pass. Ryan stands five and the petitioner fifteen on the present list, established December 31, 1901, as a result of the examination of December 13. One Monaghan, a veteran and a sergeant in the force, stands at the head of the list. Ryan brought an action to restrain the certification of the new list or appointments therefrom and secured a preliminary injunction. On December 31, 1901, the injunction was so far modified that the Commission was permitted to complete the new list as a list which should take effect only on the termination of the Ryan action, and all promotions to police captain were meanwhile enjoined. On the same day the Commission considered the appeals and confirmed and established the eligible list.

Findings

1. The complaint is within the power of the State Civil Service Commission to investigate under subdivision 3 of section 6 of the civil service law.

Although the State Commission cannot grant specific relief, such power being in the hands of the municipal civil service commission under rule XV of the municipal rules, yet the municipacommission has no power to compel the attendance and testimony of witnesses to establish the facts necessary for this action under said rule. The State Commission, having this power, may properly assist the municipal commission by eliciting the necessary information in the form of testimony.

2. The eligible list resulting from the examination held June 1, 1900, had expired.

Section 6, rule XXVII provides "No eligible list for promotion shall be valid beyond one year."

3. The municipal commission had discretion to admit to the promotion examination persons holding positions in lower grades than that of lieutenant.

This power is clearly given under section 3 of rule XXVII and there appears to be no statutory provision recognizing the subordinate grades in the police department of the city of Rochester.

4. The rating of the candidates in the examination for promotion to police captain was improper and inadequate.

(a) Mental examination. The practice adopted in rating the mental examination was not conducive to a fair comparative rating of the papers, first, because no single commissioner made a comparative rating of all the papers; second, because Commissioner Toole who thinks he rated a majority of the papers, but is uncertain as to the exact number, seems to have selected a single paper as a standard by which to rate the others, such paper being one of the first papers reviewed by him and such selection being made before he had had opportunity to examine the remaining papers to see whether a better paper might not be found. The paper of this candidate seems to have been rated at 100 for answers and 100 for handwriting, spelling and general appearance, without previous comparison with the papers of other candidates. Commissioner Byran states that he marked 13 of the 16 papers; that there was no system of specific charges for errors; that he "adopted a standard of my own on my papers" that there was no discussion as to fixing the ratings for handwriting, spelling and general appearance, and that he did not know what system Commissioner Toole had for marking the papers in these subjects.

In the consideration of appeals from ratings in this examination it seems that practically no consideration was given to the appeals for the reason that there was not sufficient time to fairly re-rate the papers in comparison with those of other candidates.

(b) Service rating. The rule adopted in arriving at the service rating tended to unfairness among the candidates. First, because no superior rating was given for service as lieutenant over that given for similar length of service as sergeant. This seems to be contrary to the requirements of the civil service law and rules that due weight will be given to seniority. So long as these grades in the police department are recognized with differences in rank and salary, it seems clear that some additional rating, however small, should have been given for service in a higher grade over that given for similar service in a lower grade. Second, the rule is unfair because in rating for length of service above the rank of patrolman the additional credit given was limited to the term served in the highest rank held by the competitor, so that a candidate who had served five years as sergeant and five years as lieutenant received a lower rating than one who had served the whole ten years as sergeant; even if no higher rating were given for service as lieutenant than for service as sergeant the competitor should have received credit for the total period served in the grades considered and not merely for the period served in the highest grade which he had attained. Third because no greater rating was given for the earlier years of service in a particular grade than for the later years. It seems unreasonable to give a candidate who has served fifteen years in a given grade three times as much credit for such service as is given to the candidate who has served five years. A sliding scale should be adopted whereby a candidate who had served say four or five years in a given rank, long enough to have become thoroughly familiar with the duties of that rank and its relations to the higher ranks, and to have had opportunity to observe the duties of those in higher ranks, should receive the major part of the credit given for service in such rank, and the additional credit for excessively long service in such rank should be small in comparison with the credit given for the first four or five years of said service.

There is no serious difference between the witnesses as to the method, or lack of method, adopted in making the various ratings, and the whole testimony shows failure to appreciate the primary requisites to obtain a fair rating of the candidates.

5. That in view of the unsatisfactory nature of the records kept by the police department the Commission was justified in omitting the elements of efficiency, punctuality, attention and general good conduct in arriving at the service rating. For the same general reasons the assignment of weights, one for service and two for mental examination, cannot be said to be grossly unfair so as to vitiate the results of the examination. With our continuous and comparative records of efficiency, punctuality and good conduct there is no means of properly estimating the actual value of service in the department, and unless such records have been kept it would seem that a rating based upon mere length of service and seniority should not have a weight of more than one-third to one-half of the total.

6. The claim of the petitioner that "the entire examination is tainted with the suspicion of politics" is not substantiated.

Although there is a great delay of testimony upon this point it is not shown that any action of the Commission was based upon political motives or that the calling of the examination or its conduct up to the time of the rating of the papers was different from the usual practice of the municipal commission.

Recommendations

The State Civil Service Commission respectfully recommend to the municipal civil service commission of the city of Rochester:

1. That the eligible list established as a result of the examination for promotion to police captain, held December 13, 1901, be set aside, under the authority granted by rule XV of the municipal civil service rules.

2. That the papers in the mental examination held on that date, in case their integrity has been preserved, be re-examined by competent examiners in such a manner that the identity of the candidates shall not be known to the examiners; that such examiners prepare a scheme for rating each question of the mental examination, showing what points should be included in a complete answer and the relative deductions to be made from a perfect mark for omission of each essential part of the answer; that they also adopt a numerical basis for arriving at the mark in spelling; that the mark for handwriting and general appearance be made upon a comparison of all the papers submitted.

3. That the service ratings of the candidates be revised upon a plan substantially as follows:

First, allow 70% for six years service in the department and 1% additional for each additional year up to a maximum of 100.

Second, allow 70% for one year's service in either of the grades which entitle the candidate to enter the examination. Add 2% for each additional year of service in any of such grades up to the end of six years' service in the grade. Add 1% for each additional year from the seventh to the eleventh inclusive, and ½% for each year beyond the eleventh. Also, add 2% for each year of service in the grade of lieutenant up to five years service in such grade and 1% for each additional year in such grade, the total not to exceed 100%.

Third, that detailed statements be obtained from the commissioner of public safety or from the immediate official superiors of the various candidates, or both, showing the length of their acquaintance with the candidate and their opinion as to the following points in respect to each candidate: (a) veracity, (b) habits as to the use of liquor, (c) ability and energy, (d) coolness and judgment in emergencies, (e) deportment toward citizens, (f) character for maintaining discipline among and getting work from subordinates, (g) fidelity and promptitude in the performance of duty, (h) conspicuous acts of bravery, with a statement of the specific facts, if any, upon which the opinion is based These statements to be rated by the Commission's examiners upon some fair and equitable basis.

The whole service rating to be made by averaging the ratings for the three elements above mentioned.

4. That in making up the eligible list in accordance with the foregoing plan a weight of four should be given to the service rating and a weight of six to the mental examination, including answers to questions and handwriting, spelling and general appearance of paper.

Transfer denied, Insurance department

Resolved, That the application of Superintendent Hendricks for the transfer of Adelaide Y. Heath from the position of stenographer to the first deputy superintendent to that of tabulator for the actuary's department, be and hereby is denied, for the reason that the positions are not similar within the intent of the civil service law and rules, and that it does not appear that Miss Heath has passed an open competitive examination for the position to which transfer is sought.

Transfers denied, Department of labor

In the matter of the application of John McMackin, commissioner of labor, for power to make certain transfers, President Collier reported as follows:

I, therefore, recommend that the Commission decline to grant to the commissioner of labor the general request contained in his letter."

On motion, the report was accepted and the recommendation contained therein adopted.

I respectfully recommend that the state treasurer requested not to audit the accounts of the county clerk of Ne York county or the county clerk of Kings county for notari fees until the charges for salary of the notarial clerks in sai counties have been certified to as correct by the State Civi Service Commission.

Report of President Collier in regard to veteran preference

To the State Civil Service Commission:

At the last meeting of the Commission the communication of Judge Advocate Ewell, of the G. A. R., dated June 3, 1902, addressed to the State Civil Service Commission, asking whether or not "the state board has authority under the present laws to make rules and regulations that will secure to Union veterans of the civil war the preference provided for them in the Constitution in relation to the positions of lock-tenders and others of a similar character on the canal outside of cities?" was referred to me. Previous to this reference of the matter to me one of the commissioners offered the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the secretary communicate with Mr. Ewell and call his attention to the fact that the Constitution, in the judgment of the Commission, provides for preference only in cases where appointments are made from lists, and that the Constitution does not cover positions in the non-competitive or labor class; that the legislature having extended the preference to appointments in the non-competitive class, it would seem, in the judgment of the Commission, that it would be necessary to have legislation to give the veterans preference in labor positions if such preference could constitutionally be given."

No action was taken upon this resolution except to refer the entire matter to me.

I report as follows: The Constitution of the State gives to veterans preference in appointment and promotion only to those positions for which there is an examination. (State Constitution, article V, section 9; In re Keymer, 148 N. Y. 219; In re Sweely, 12 Misc. 175.) It is within the power of the legislature, I believe, to supplement the constitutional provision and by statute to accord to veterans preference in appointment to non-competitive positions and to labor positions (compare In re Stutzbach, 148 N. Y. 416) unless such statute is opposed to some special constitutional power of appointment given to the appointing officer. People ex rel. Travis v. Durston, 3 N. Y. Supp. 522; Killeen v. Angle, 109 N. Y. 564.) By an amendment to the civil service law passed by the last legislature, chapter 270, laws of 1902, it is provided that "in every public department and upon all public works of the state of New York and of the cities, counties, towns and villages thereof, honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines from the army and navy of the United States in the late civil war who are citizens and residents of this state, shall be entitled to preference in appointment and promotion without regard to their standing on any list from which such appointment or promotion may be made to ALL COMPETITIVE AND NON-COMPETITIVE POSITIONS, provided their qualifications and fitness shall have been ascertained as provided in this act and the rules and regulations in pursuance thereof. The new part of this provision is that which gives to veterans preference in appointment to non-competitive positions. A non-competitive position is one for which a qualifying examination is prescribed limited to a candidate nominated by the appointing officer. The term non-competitive position does not embrace an exempt position nor a labor position. The civil service law (section 11) recognizes four distinct classes in the civil service — the competitive, non-competitive, exempt and labor classes. The provisions of the statute above quoted also shows that it relates only to positions for which some kind of an examination is prescribed; this is an additional authority for the statement that the preference in original appointment and employment given to veterans does not extend to positions in the exempt or labor classes. However, by section 21, if once employed in labor positions they cannot be removed except after due trial upon written charges, the burden of proof resting upon the superior who makes the charge. Until the passage of chapter 270, laws of 1902 ("the Ellsworth bill"), and since the passage of the present civil service law, chapter 370, laws of 1899, veterans have had a preference in appointment only to competitive positions. Although, as has been seen, the last legislature has extended that preference so as to include non-competitive positions it did not include exempt or labor positions. In this respect the law since the passage of chapter 370, laws of 1899, the present civil service law, has differed from the veteran acts long in force prior to that time. All the veteran acts down to 1899, from the time of the passage of the original one, chapter 312, laws of 1884, as amended by chapter 404, laws of 1887, as further amended by chapter 716, laws of 1894, and again amended by chapter 821, laws of 1896, provided that veterans should have preference in appointment and also in employment. The present act not only contains a proviso limiting the preference to positions for which an examination is prescribed, but also omits to give to veterans a preference in employment except that it does give to them, under section 21, as has been said, a preference of retention in employment. Whether the omission of this provision for the giving of preference in original employment to veterans was intentional or not on the part of the legislature, is not for this Commission to say. Personally I have no doubt of the power of the legislature to extend to veterans a preference of employment in labor positions. If it can, in the absence of any express constitutional provision, control appointing officers in their exercise of discretion as to appointments of subordinates who are public officers and can give to a class a preference, as it has already done in the case of non-competitive positions, and as it did, from 1884 to 1889, in the cases of competitive, non-competitive and labor positions, by a series of statutes, then it certainly can, if it chooses, limit appointing officers in the exercise of their discretion in employing subordinates who are merely laborers or public employees and it may recognize the claims of veterans upon its gratitude to whatever extent it deems such claims meritorious. Indeed, the constitutionality of the former statutes giving veterans a preference of employment in labor positions was upheld by the old general term (In re Sullivan, 55 Hun, 285; same case, 28 St. Rep. 566; same case, 8 N. Y. Supp. 401), and the reasoning of the court in the following case, in which a veteran sought a preference of appointment to a position subject to examination seems applicable even to a labor position (In re Wortman, 22 Abb. N. C. 137; same case, 2 N. Y. Supp. 324; also reported in the sixth annual [1889] report of the State Civil Service Commission, at page 309).

I therefore recommend the adoption of the resolution referred to at the beginning of this report, amended, however, so as to read as follows:

Resolved, That the secretary communicate with Mr. Ewell and call his attention to the fact that the constitution, in the judgment of the Commission, provides for preference only in cases where appointments are made from lists prepared as the result of an examination, and that the Constitution does not cover positions in the labor class; that although the legislature has extended the preference so as to include appointments to positions in the non-competitive class, as well as in the competitive class, it would seem in the judgment of the Commission, that it would be necessary to have legislation giving to veterans preference of employment in labor positions before the State Civil Service Commission can make valid rules to secure to veterans such a preference.

The State Civil Service Commission should, of course, see that all positions which are properly in the competitive or non-competitive classes are so classified. Positions should not be put in the labor class, in my opinion, if the qualifications of persons to fill them can be determined more satisfactorily as the result of an examination than by personal selection on the part of the appointing officer. I have no reason to believe that any of the positions now in the labor class should be taken out of it, but I recommend that the chief examiner be instructed to inquire into the duties of the various positions mentioned in the communication of Judge Advocate General Ewell, and into the practicability of examinations therefor and into the question whether or not any of such positions should be classified as competitive or non-competitive. I also recommend that suitable recommendations be adopted whereby veterans desiring appointment to non-competitive positions may file application therefor with the proper appointing officers and copies thereof with the State Civil Service Commission; that in case of a vacancy in a non-competitive position the appointing officer shall nominate for examination and for employment one of such veterans or some other veteran. I am satisfied that under the provisions of the Ellsworth bill the State Civil Service Commission cannot recognize a non-veteran as legally appointed to a non-competitive position if there is a veteran who has previously made a timely application for appointment thereto and who is able to pass a proper qualifying examination.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

WM. MILLER COLLIER.

months; and, further, to advise him that it is competent for the city of Fulton in accordance with its charter to make contracts for municipal improvements in cases where the contractor furnishes labor and materials, and the employees of such contractor are not considered as being in the civil service of the city, but that in cases of personal employment or employment for hire for services rendered to the city, or under an officer of the city, the civil service law cannot be evaded by putting such employment under the guise of a contract — the test being in all cases, who compensates the person rendering the services; is he paid by the city or out of its funds, directly or indirectly, as the servant or employee of the city, or is he paid by a contractor as a private employee of said contractor? If the person employed would have a claim against the city for the value of his services rendered, he would doubtless be regarded as an employee of the city; if his claim were exclusively against the contractor, or person employing him, he would not be regarded as in the civil service of the city.

State engineer and surveyor

President Collier, to whom had been referred the communications of the state engineer, dated August 8 and 25, 1902, relative to an extension of the time of employment of Messrs. Wood, Corey and Flanigan, and the employment of Daniel Lynch, reported and recommended the adoption of the following resolutions:

Whereas, The state engineer has assigned Mr. C. H. Flanigan, an assistant engineer in the department of the state engineer, to have charge of the work of re-locating the St. Lawrence county boundary line, and desires to pay him, while so engaged, $7.50 per day; and

Whereas, The state engineer has stated that Mr. Flanigan has had great experience in re-locating boundary lines between the state of New York and adjacent states and between various counties of the state of New York, and that in the opinion of the state engineer the experience and qualifications of Mr. Flanigan fit him for the work of directing or re-locating the St. Lawrence county boundary line better than any other engineer in the department, and that in view of the heavy responsibilities resting upon Mr. Flanigan in connection with the large party in the wilderness, and the expenditure of large sums of money and the successful accomplishment of the work itself, the state engineer believes that Mr. Flanigan is entitled to additional compensation while employed in this work at the rate of $7.50 per day;

Resolved, That the secretary be directed to attach to the pay-rolls of the state engineer bearing the name of Mr. C. H. Flanigan at a compensation of $7.50 per day the usual certificate to the effect that said Flanigan is legally employed in accordance with the civil service law and rules so long as said Flanigan is engaged in the special work of re-locating the St. Lawrence county boundary line.

Resolved, That the employment of Messrs. Daniel Lynch, D. C. Wood and W. H. Corey in connection with the re-locating of the St. Lawrence county boundary line by the state engineer be allowed, under rule VIII, paragraph 9, until December 1, 1902, at the same rate per diem compensation heretofore paid to them, and that the limitation of aggregate compensation fixed by rule VIII, paragraph 9, be suspended in these cases, it appearing that the said Daniel Lynch, D. C. Wood and W. H. Corey are civil engineers engaged in rendering professional, scientific, technical and expert services of an occasional and exceptional character, and are not to be regularly and permanently employed by the state, and that they have an intimate knowledge of the lines, lots and boundaries of the locality in which the work of survey is being done.

Employment of laborers, Kings county

Commissioner Pound reported as follows upon the communications of County Clerk Hartzheim and Register Neal, Kings county, relative to the employment of laborers, which were referred to him with power at the last meeting of the Commission:

"On the 11th of September I wrote to the register and the county clerk calling their attention to the definition of laborer as contained in the rules, and requesting them to furnish additional information as to the duties of persons they desired to employ under that designation. I received communications from Henry Weisman, deputy county clerk, and John K. Neal, register, which satisfied me that the persons employed to do the work therein described could properly be designated laborers. I, therefore, directed the secretary of the Commission to approve pay-rolls properly certified under the rule until otherwise ordered by the Commission. The number of laborers seems to me unnecessarily large, but I am in doubt whether the Commission has any jurisdiction over the number of persons to be employed under a particular designation."

On motion, the report was received and placed on file.

Coroners' clerks, Borough of Manhattan, New York city

A communication from S. Goldenkranz, president, board of coroners of the borough of Manhattan, New York city, dated September 19, 1902, requesting that the State Civil Service Commission direct the municipal civil service commission of the city of New York to place the position of clerk to each coroner in the exempt class, was read, together with the reply of Secretary Birdseye, under date of September 29, 1902, which contained the following statements:

1. That the State Commission has no authority to compel a municipal commission to place any position in the exempt class.

2. That by section 10 of the civil service law, last sentence, the State Commission cannot itself put a municipal position in the exempt class without the consent of the municipal commission.

3. That all positions, other than those specifically exempted by the statute, are in the competitive class unless exempted by the proper municipal commission and the exemption approved by the mayor and the State Commission.

4. That if the coroner has made an appointment in violation of the law he is personally liable for the salary of his employee, and is chargeable with non-performance of his official duty.

5. That if the coroner or his appointee as clerk has any remedy whatever, outside of the Commission, it would appear to be in the courts, but that the State Civil Service Commission denies that any change in the classification of a position in the municipal service can lawfully be made until the same has been submitted to the State Commission for its approval, and such approval cannot be given by it if the change contemplates an exemption until the municipal commission itself has approved the exemption and forwarded the resolution to the State Commission for its consideration.

On motion, it was

Resolved, That the letter of President Goldenkranz be placed on file, as the views of the Commission upon the application are correctly stated in the letter of the secretary.

All necessary expenses of the commissioners, including clerical work, expert service in preparing examination papers, typewriting, stenographing, printing, postage and telephone or telegraph service, and all stationery supplies, shall be paid for by the city on bills properly audited by the commission.

2. Every applicant for examination or registration for appointment to any position in the classified service, must be a citizen of the United States and an actual resident of the city of Fulton at the time of his application; provided, however, that such requirements as to citizenship and residence may be specially suspended by the municipal commission as to any position requiring high professional, scientific, or technical qualifications, but all such cases with the reason therefor shall be entered on the records of the commission opposite the name of the candidate.

3. Defective applications may be suspended by the Commission and applicants notified to amend the same, but the board shall not be compelled to give such notice or grant such opportunity a second time. Whenever the application does not show that the applicant is within the prescribed limits of age, the application will be rejected.

RULE X

Notification of examination

Whenever the demands of the service may require, the municipal commission will notify all applicants whose applications have been filed and are on record, to appear for examination, giving at least ten days' notice of the place, date, and hour for such examination, which notice and any other material information in regard thereto will be posted on the bulletin of the municipal civil service commission in the lobby of the city hall of the city of Fulton, at least ten days in advance of such examination. If deemed necessary by the commission such notice may be advertised in the official papers of the city of Fulton, at least five days in advance of the date of such examination.

Examinations

In all examinations for appointment and promotion in the classified service, merit and fitness shall be determined by and upon competitive examination for all positions enumerated in the competitive class, which examination shall be conducted by or under the responsible direction of the municipal civil service commissioners. The examinations shall be public, and the municipal commission shall prepare list of preliminary requirements and subjects of examination for the several positions or groups of positions in the competitive class, and shall publish its rules and such information, and advertise such exminations in such manner as the nature of the examinations may require, and as the commission shall by regulation prescribe. Upon all examinations for positions in the competitive class the maximum percentage of rating shall be 100 per cent., and the minimum percentage of rating shall be 75 per cent. The municipal commissioners may, in the examinations, give such relative importance to the different subjects or matters of examination, whether mental or physical, or to previous experience, occupation, or training, as to the commission may seem fit. At or before the commencement of every examination the weight to be given to every subject included in the examination and the general or average minimum, and the minimum, if any, allowable in each subject, shall be announced to the applicants.

Every examination under these rules shall be free from interference, participation, or influence of the appointing officers, or of any person other than the assistant examiners, or experts directly employed by the municipal commission.

No person employed in a department for whose benefit an eligible list is to be prepared, shall be employed as an expert upon the examination for such eligible list. Upon the request of the municipal commission, the appointing officer shall communicate to said commission, so far as is consistent with these rules, the general qualifications or attainments, physical or mental, or both, and the experience he deems necessary or proper to be possessed by the persons filling the positions for which an eligible list is to be formed.

The municipal commission is authorized to employ such assistants and experts for the conduct of examinations as it shall deem proper and necessary, the reasonable cost and expense of which shall be audited and paid by the city of Fulton.

RULE XII

Character of examination

All examinations shall be practical in their character and shall relate to those matters which shall fairly test the relative capacity and fitness of the persons examined, to discharge the duties of the positions to which they seek to be appointed. The municipal commission, with the approval of the State Commission, shall determine when examinations are not practicable in cases relating to the civil service of the city of Fulton.

RULE XIII

Physical examinations

Whenever physical qualifications are of prime importance to the proper discharge of the duties of any position, applicants must pass an additional examination as to their physical condition and capacity, and be certified as qualified in such respects, before their application shall be filed on record for mental examination.

RULE XIV

Political opinion of candidates

No recommendation or question under the authority of these rules shall relate to the political affiliations of any person whatever; nor shall political opinions be discovered or considered by the commissioners in their examinations. The municipal commissioners shall not receive, nor consider any communication as to the qualifications or merits of any candidate for a position except as herein permitted, and except such communications as they may invite by way of verification of statements of candidates.

RULE XV

Eligible lists

1. An eligible list shall be prepared by the municipal commission from time to time, as the needs of the service require, upon competitive examination for each of the different grades in the competitive class, from the candidates who have been found to be duly qualified for the position for which such eligible list is prepared, and in order of merit and fitness, as shown by the respective percentages of their aggregate markings. Such eligible list shall be open for inspection to all citizens at the office of the secretary of the municipal commission. Every competitor who attains an average percentage of 75 or over on all the obligatory subjects in any examination, and whose standing on every such obligatory subject is 50 per cent. or over, shall be eligible for appointment to the position for which he was examined; and the names of eligibles shall be entered, in the order of their average percentages, on the proper register of eligibles; provided that the names of competitors who have passed as above and whose claims for preference under section 9 of article V of the Constitution have been allowed by the commission, shall be placed in the order of their respective average percentages at the head of the proper register of eligibles.

2. When two or more eligibles on a register have the same average percentage, preference in certification shall be determined by the order in which their applications were filed, but neither priority in the date of application nor of examination will give any other advantage in position on the register of eligibles.

3. The commission shall prescribe the character of the distinct eligible lists, designating the positions that may be filled by certification from each of such lists. A transfer of names from one eligible list to another, prepared as above, may be made by direction of the commission.

4. The term of an eligible list is fixed at not less than one year nor more than four years from the date of the establishment of such list. An eligible list which has been in force for a period of one year shall terminate provided that a new examination has been held and a new list prepared for the same position. Persons whose names appear upon any such eligible list shall be notified by mail when a new examination is to be held for the same position, and informed that their eligibility will cease upon the establishment of the new eligible list as the result of the new examination.

5. When an examination for any grade or position is had before the eligible list for the grade or position is exhausted, a new list shall be prepared after such examination. The persons upon the former eligible list who have not been re-examined shall be respectively placed upon the new eligible list in the position to which the percentage of their aggregate marking upon the former examination would entitle them if such marking had been given upon the new examination.

RULE XVI

Written or oral examinations

In the creation of new eligible lists the ratings shall be based upon such written or oral examinations, or both, as the municipal commission shall determine. All oral examinations shall be stenographically recorded.

RULE XVII

Correction of errors

The municipal commission shall have power in its discretion, whenever in its judgment the interests of the public service require, to order a re-examination of applicants for any position and shall have power to correct any error and amend or revoke any schedule, list, or other paper or record, where it appears that any error or injustice has been done; or where any person whose name appears upon an eligible list has for any reason become incapacitated for appointment in the public service, to strike such name from said list; provided, however, that after an eligible list is prepared and certified it shall not be altered or revoked except upon notice by mail or otherwise, as the commission may direct, to all persons whose standing may be unfavorably affected by the alteration. But the reasons for every such action shall be recorded in full in the minutes of the municipal civil service commission.

RULE XVIII

Certification for appointment

1 Whenever a vacancy shall occur within any grade of the competitive or labor class, which in the opinion of the appointing officer, the business of the city requires to be filled, he shall forthwith notify the secretary of the vacancy and state whether the same is to be filled by appointment or by promotion or by reinstatement, and the title of the position, the duties to be performed, the number of vacancies to be filled and compensation to be paid.

2 Appointment shall be made to or employment shall be given in all positions in the competitive and labor classes that are not filled by promotion, reinstatement, transfer or reduction, under the provisions of the civil service law and these rules, by appointment from among those standing highest on the eligible list prepared by the municipal commission, except as otherwise provided in the civil service law.

3 The secretary shall thereupon, as soon as practicable, certify to the appointing officer for appointment or for promotion or for reinstatement from the eligible list most nearly appropriate to such position as it may then exist, the names of the three persons standing highest on such eligible list, indicating such of them, if any, as are honorably discharged soldiers, or sailors, or marines of the army or navy of the United States in the late civil war, citizens and residents of this state. The certificate of the secretary shall in all cases, state the relative standing of each of the persons certified.

4 The appointing officer shall thereupon fill said vacancy or vacancies by the appointment of one or more of the persons so certified. Until an appointment has been made from said certification, or until said certification has been cancelled, no new certification shall be made to fill said vacant position or positions. In all cases the vacancies shall be so filled within fifteen days after the receipt by the appointing officer of the names certified by the secretary, and the secretary shall be notified within twenty-four hours by the appointing power of the appointments or promotions so made. No certification shall be in force for a longer period than fifteen days.

5 When a requisition is made to fill a position for which no eligible list exists, the municipal commission shall make certification from the eligible list most nearly appropriate for the group in which the position to be filled is classified, and wherein the qualifications demanded have been determined by examination.

6 No person on an eligible list shall be certified more than three times to the same appointing officer for the same bureau or institution, except at the request of said appointing officer, unless the person so certified is a veteran, in which case his name shall continue to be certified so long as it remains on the eligible list under these rules. If the appointing officer shall certify that a person named in a certification has declined to accept a position offered, the secretary may certify the name of the person standing next highest upon the eligible list to those already certified. If a person who is not entitled to certification is certified and appointed, his appointment shall immediately be revoked by the appointing officer upon notification by the municipal commission.

7 No person whose name is upon an eligible list may waive his right to certification or appointment except for any one of the following reasons, stated in writing to the appointing officer and to the municipal commission:

(a) Insufficiency of the salary attaching to the position offered; or

(b) Temporary inability, physical or otherwise, to accept the position offered, the proof of which shall be accepted by the municipal commission. The commission shall enter upon its minutes the reasons for its action in each such case, and the waiver shall not continue in effect for a period longer than thirty days from the date of certification. The name of any eligible who shall decline certification or appointment for any reason other than those above specified shall be stricken from the list. Whenever an eligible for appointment shall fail to accept an offer of appointment sent to him by mail at his post-office address within the four business days next succeeding the mailing of such offer of appointment, he shall be deemed to have declined such appointment. An eligible who has declined an appointment on the ground of the insufficiency of the salary offered shall not thereafter be certified for a position at the same or any less salary. Whenever one or more eligibles shall have declined any appointment offered, and an eligible whose relative standing is lower shall have been appointed to the position, the salary or compensation of such appointee shall not be increased within a period of one year after his appointment, beyond that offered to the persons so declining.

8 If the appointment shall be made of any person other than one of the three standing highest on the eligible list, the appointing officer shall forward to the commission, with the notice of appointment, copies of all correspondence to and from the persons declining such appointment.

RULE XIX

Probationary appointments

Except in the case of veterans of the civil war, honorably discharged from the military or naval service of the United States, every original appointment to or employment in any position in the competitive class shall be for a probationary term of three months, and an appointing or nominating officer in notifying a person certified to him for appointment or employment shall specify the same as for a probationary term only; and if the conduct, capacity and fitness of the probationer are satisfactory to appointing officer, his retention in the service, after the end of such term, shall be equivalent to his permanent appointment, but if his conduct, capacity or fitness be not satisfactory he may be discharged at the end of such term, without regard to the provisions of rule XXXII limiting the power of removal.

Whenever two or more persons appointed from the same eligible list are serving as probationers in the same department, and there is necessity for a reduction of the force of such department affecting such persons, they shall be preferred for retention in the order of their original standing upon such list.

RULE XX

Appointments in the classified service

No person shall be appointed to or employed in any position in the classified service of the city of Fulton until he has passed an examination or shown himself to be especially exempted from such examination in conformity with the civil service law and these rules, except as provided in rule XXI.

RULE XXI

Temporary appointments — Exceptions from competitive examinations

Positions in the competitive class may be filled without competition, as follows:

shall be certified by such commission as qualified after such non-competitive examination, he may be appointed provisionally to fill a vacancy until a selection and appointment can be made after competitive examination, but such provisional appointment shall not continue for a longer period than one month except in cases where the municipal commission, with the consent of the State Commission, shall certify that a longer continuance of such temporary appointment be necessary for the public service.

2 In case of vacancy in a position in the competitive class where peculiar and exceptional qualifications of a scientific, professional or educational nature are required, and upon satisfactory evidence that for specified reasons competition in such special case is impracticable and that the position can be best filled by the selection of some designated person of high and recognized attainments in such qualities, the municipal commission may suspend the provisions of the rule requiring competition in such a case, but no such suspension shall be general in its application to such place, and all such cases of suspension shall be reported by the municipal commission in its annual report to the State Commission, with the reasons for the same.

3 In the event of exceeding emergency the appointing officer may employ such and so many persons as such emergency renders necessary and shall forthwith notify the municipal commission of the facts in the case, and the names of the persons so employed; but no person so employed shall be continued in the service for a period longer than one week unless the municipal commission may extend the temporary period for another week upon the request of the appointing officer. In each case the municipal commission shall set forth in their minutes the reasons in full for such action.

RULE XXII

Refusal of examination or certificate

The municipal commission may refuse to examine, or after examination, to place upon an eligible list, or to certify an eligible an applicant who is found to lack any of the established preliminary requirements for the examination or position for which he applies; or who is physically so disabled as to be rendered unfit for the performance of the duties of the position to which he seeks appointment; or who is addicted to the habitual use of intoxicating beverages to excess; or who has been guilty of a crime or of infamous or notoriously disgraceful conduct; or who has been dismissed from the public service for delinquency or misconduct; or who has intentionally made a false statement of any material fact; or who has practiced or attempted to practice, any deception or fraud in his application, or in his examination, or in securing his eligibility for appointment. Any of the foregoing disqualifications shall be good cause for the removal of an eligible from the service after his appointment. No person who has entered upon any examination for any position shall be entitled to be admitted to a new examination for the same grade or position, within six months from the date thereof.

RULE XXIII

Positions involving fiduciary responsibility

When the position to be filled involves fiduciary responsibility, the appointing officer, where otherwise permitted by law, may require the appointee to furnish a bond or other security and shall notify the municipal commission of the amount and necessary details thereof.

RULE XXIV

Promotions, transfers, reinstatements

Vacancies in positions in the competitive class shall be filled, so far as practicable, by promotion from among persons holding positions in a lower grade in the department or office in which the vacancy exists. Promotions shall be based upon merit and competition and upon the superior qualifications of the person promoted as shown by his previous service, due weight being given to seniority.

Under this rule an increase in the salary or other compensation of any person holding an office or position within the classified service, beyond the limit fixed for the grade in which such office or position is classified, shall be deemed a promotion.

1 No promotion, transfer, or reinstatement shall be made from a position in one class to a position in another class, unless the same be especially authorized by the municipal commission, nor shall a person be promoted or transferred to a position for original entrance to which there is required by the civil service law or these rules, an examination involving essential tests or qualifications different from or higher than those required for original entrance to the position held by such person, unless he shall have passed the examination or attained such a place upon the eligible list for such higher position as would entitle him to original appointment, or shall have served with fidelity for at least three years in a similar position.

2 Any person who has held a position by appointment under the civil service rules, and who has been separated from the service through no delinquency or misconduct on his part, may be reinstated without re-examination in the same or a similar position in the same office and grade, within one year from the date of such separation, provided that for original entrance to the position proposed to be filled by reinstatement there is not required by these rules, in the opinion of the municipal commission, an examination involving essential tests or qualifications different from or higher than those involved in the examination for original entrance to the position formerly held by the person proposed to be reinstated.

Whenever in any department or institution an office or position is abolished, or whenever the number of positions of a certain character is reduced, or whenever by reason of a lack of appropriation or otherwise it becomes necessary to discharge or suspend one or more of several persons holding the same position, veterans of the civil war, veterans of the volunteer army or navy of the United States in the Spanish war, and exempt volunteer firemen shall be entitled to preference in retention in such positions over other persons.

3 Upon the written request of an appointing officer, stating the essential facts in regard to any proposed promotion, transfer or reinstatement, the commission will, if such promotion, transfer or reinstatement be in accordance with law and the provisions of these rules, issue a certificate of that fact to such officer, but no promotion, transfer or reinstatement herein authorized shall be valid unless such certificate is issued.

4 In case of persons holding positions the term of office being fixed by statute, such persons may be retained in the service upon the expiration of the term of appointment, upon receiving a reappointment to such position, without re-examination; but otherwise the services of the incumbent shall terminate and the position become vacant.

RULE XXV

The non-competitive class

Appointments to positions in the non-competitive class may be made by appointment of any person who upon non-competitive examination shall be duly certified by the municipal commission as qualified to discharge the duties of the position.

Upon the non-competitive examination into the qualifications of a person named for a position in this schedule the municipal commission will give a certificate to such person only when satisfied: first, that he is within the limits of age prescribed for the position to which he is named; second, that he is properly certified as free from physical defect or disease which is likely to interfere with the proper discharge of his duties; third, that his character is such as to qualify him for such position or employment; fourth, that he possesses the requisite knowledge and ability to enter upon the discharge of his official duties.

Whenever a vacancy in the non-competitive class is to be filled, the appointing officer shall notify the municipal commission, and shall name in such notification the person to be examined and the commission shall notify the person so named of the time, place and special regulations of the examination.

Every officer naming a person for examination will at the same time transmit his certificate that, after due inquiry, he is satisfied that the character and habits of the person named fit him for public service, and will append to the certificate such formal vouchers or credentials as to character as he may desire to have considered or put on file. In the determination of the character and habits of the nominee, the certificate thereof by the nominating officer will be considered as essential.

RULE XXVI

The labor class

The labor class shall include unskilled laborers and such skilled laborers as are not included in the competitive class or the non-competitive class. Vacancies in the labor class shall be filled by appointment from lists of applicants registered by the municipal commission. Preference in employment from such lists shall be given according to date of application.

1 Applicants for positions in the labor class, who produce satisfactory evidence of their capacity for labor and their habits as to industry and sobriety, shall be registered in the order of their application. The register shall state:

1 Name.

2 Age.

3 Residence.

4 Citizenship.

5 Number and relationship of persons depending upon the applicant for support.

6 Service in the army or navy in time of war.

8 Reference.

9 The list or department in which the applicant desires to be registered.

10 Previous experience in the trade or employment for which he applies, and such other information as the municipal commission may by regulation require.

2 There shall be kept separate lists of applicants for various kinds of labor or employment and lists may be established for the various departments and institutions in which laborers are employed.

3 When services of laborers are required, the appointing or employing officer shall notify the municipal commission stating the number of men wanted by the department of the service in which such laborers are to serve; and the commission shall thereupon send to the person making the requisition the names and residences of a sufficient number of laborers to fill the requisition, taking their names from the appropriate list in the following order: first, selecting those who have served in the army or navy of the United States in the late civil war and have been honorably discharged therefrom; and second, those who have families dependent upon them for support; third, others so far as necessary to fill the requisition, in order of their application and registration.

4 In selecting laborers for employment from the list certified to him by the municipal commission, the appointing or employing officer shall select for employment those standing first in order upon such certified list, and shall return to the commission the names of the persons so selected or employed. If the names of those actually employed are not the names of three highest in the order upon the original list certified to the appointing officer by the commission, the reason for such failure to employ must be stated in the return.

5 At the end of their term of employment, persons so employed, by filing with the commission a certificate of the employing officer under whom they served, to the effect that their labor has been in all respects satisfactory, may be re-registered in the place and order of their original registration. The names of all persons registered or re-registered may remain upon such register for the period of one year.

6 The municipal commission may make such regulations as may be necessary to identify the registered applicants and to preserve a record of their conduct.

7 In case the municipal commission is unable to fill a requisition for laborers, the fact shall be certified to the employing officer, who shall then make the selection under such regulations as the municipal commission may from time to time prescribe.

8 In the event of exceeding emergency the appointing officer may employ such and so many persons as such emergency renders necessary and shall forthwith notify the municipal commission of the facts in the case and the names of the persons so employed, but no person so employed shall be continued in the service for a longer period than three days unless the municipal commission may extend the temporary period for another period of three days upon the request of the appointing officer. In each case the municipal commission shall set forth in its minutes the reasons in full for such action.

RULE XXVII

Requirements in exceptional cases

In applications for examination for positions requiring scientific, professional, or technical qualifications, the municipal commission may require special evidence of special education for or of practical experience or a satisfactory term in the art, profession or trade, and shall require the production of such certificates of competency and license as are provided by the statutes of this state as necessary to enable the practice of any profession, art or trade.

RULE XXVIII

Candidates unfit for appointment

In case any appointing officer shall become satisfied that the character, reputation, or habits of any person named upon an eligible list is such as to make it unfit or improper to appoint him to a position in the civil service, it shall be the duty of such officer to report the same to the municipal commission, and the commission shall have power in every case where it is satisfied that the character, reputation, or habits of any person named upon any eligible list or register, is such as to make his appointment to a position in said service unfit or improper, to refuse to certify such person for appointment, and to strike his name from any eligible list or register, provided, however, that before the name of any person in such a case shall be stricken from any eligible list or register the municipal com-ıission shall advise him of the grounds upon which it is about o proceed, and such person shall have a right to a hearing in he nature of a trial before the commission upon charges made, ıpon notice of not less than five days, and shall have the right o make such explanation and defense as he may deem proper.

Minutes of the roceedings and testimony offered upon such a hearing shall e taken and filed with the commission.

RULE XXIX

Penalty for false statement

Every false statement knowingly made by any person in his ıpplication for examination, and every connivance by him at ıny false statement made in any certificate which may accom- pany his application, or any willful complicity by him in any fraud to improve his standing upon such examination, shall be regarded as good cause for refusing such party any examina- tion, or for striking his name from any eligible list, or for re- moval or discharge of such person from any position to which he may have been appointed.

RULE XXX

Preference of veterans

Honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines from the army and navy of the United States in the late civil war, who are citizens and residents of the city of Fulton, N. Y., and who have attained a position upon an eligible list, and whose qualifi- cations and fitness have been ascertained in accordance with these rules, shall be preferred for appointment and promotion over other persons without regard to their standing upon any list from which such appointment or promotion may be made, and the person so preferred shall not be disqualified from holding any position in the civil service of the city by reason of his age or of any physical disability, provided such age or disability does not render him incompetent to perform the duties of the position applied for.

RULE XXXI

Limitation upon power of removal

2 Applications shall be received only for positions specifically mentioned in the classification in the competitive and labor classes, and applications for such positions shall be received by the commission at any time, whether an examination is pending or not, unless it is otherwise provided in the rules and stated in the advertisement of the examination to be held.

3 Incomplete or imperfect applications shall be returned to the applicant for correction, either by mail or personally, with the necessary corrections plainly stated therein.

4 The secretary is not permitted to prepare or fill out the printed forms of applications, but the same shall be done when practicable in the handwriting of the applicant.

6 Applications which are rejected for any reason shall be indorsed with the reason for their rejection and kept on file in the office of the commission, and notice sent to the applicant stating the reason why his application is rejected.

7 An application is good for only one examination, namely, for only one position as designated in the classification, and when examined under one application it is necessary to file another to be entitled to a new examination.

8 A person will be allowed to take only one examination on any date unless otherwise indicated in the circular notice of the examination.

A separate register of applications shall be maintained for positions in the competitive and labor classes.

REGULATION IV

Each candidate shall write the number occurring on his envelope upon his "notice to appear" (or preliminary or declaration sheet should such be given) and place the same in the envelope and seal it. He shall also fill out the endorsement on the envelope. The envelope so filled out and sealed shall not be opened until all papers in the examination have been rated and marked. The candidate shall place his examination

7 Question sheets shall be given to each candidate in the same order and the candidate must complete his answers or any one sheet before receiving the next sheet.

8 Use no scratch paper except that furnished by the examiner in charge, and on completing an examination sheet, hand him the scratch paper pertaining to that sheet. Have all your work complete on the examination sheet, however, as the scratch paper is collected, not for consideration in the marking, but for destruction.

9 No helps of any kind are allowed unless expressly stated to the contrary on the question sheet or in the instructions sent to candidates. Before the examination is commenced, hand to the examiner any written or printed matter that you may have which might, if used, aid you in your work.

10 All conversation or communication between competitors during the examination is strictly prohibited.

11 Do not copy or attempt to copy from the work of any competitor, or permit any competitor to copy from your work, or to read the examination sheet in your possession.

12 Some time may elapse before you are notified of your standing. No unnecessary delay will occur in marking your papers, and you are requested not to increase the labors of the commission by making inquiries in regard to your standing, unless you have reason to believe that the notice to you has miscarried.

13 Copies of examination papers or examination questions must be handed in with the answers and must not be taken from the room.

N. B.—A violation by you of the instructions contained in paragraphs 9, 10 and 11, will be deemed sufficient cause for canceling your papers. You are requested to report to the examiner any irregularity that may come under your notice during the examination.

REGULATION XIX

Notice of standing to competitors

A notice of standing will be sent to each person examined, whether such person passes or fails to pass, except as hereinafter provided. This notice will be sent as soon as practicable after the papers are marked. A duplicate notice will not be furnished. Letters inquiring how soon the papers will be marked only serve to delay the work.

If the papers of a competitor who makes an eligible average are not complete in every particular the name of such competitor will not be entered upon the eligible register nor notice of standing sent until the papers are completed.

In alleged cases of collusion the names of the persons suspected will not be entered on the eligible register, should they make an eligible average, nor notices of standing be sent, unless, after thorough investigation, the charge of collusion is not sustained.

REGULATION XX

When re-examinations are allowed

Persons who are examined, whether they pass or fail, are not eligible to re-examination for the same position, or any position covered by the same examination, until nine months after the date of the former examination. Unless the needs of the service require otherwise, re-examinations within less than nine months will be granted only in cases in which injustice has been suffered by the act of the commission or one of its agents, or where an applicant has been unable to do himself justice on account of illness which occurred after the commencement of and during the progress of the examination, and in such cases the request for re-examination must be accompanied by a statement of the alleged facts upon which such request is based. Applicants who are recovering from recent illness must abide by the result of their examination, whether they state in their declaration sheets that they are physically unable to do themselves justice or otherwise.

REGULATION XXI

Emergency employment

If at any time the eligible list in the labor class is insufficient to meet the demand of a requisition, the head of the department may employ such persons as he may see fit, for a period of not more than three days, and shall on the same date of such employment notify the municipal commission of the names, positions and compensation of such person. RULE XI

Examinations

In all examinations for appointment and promotion in the classified service, merit and fitness shall be determined by and upon competitive examination for all positions enumerated in the competitive class, which examinations shall be conducted by or under the responsible direction of the municipal civil service commissioners. The examinations shall be public, and the municipal commission shall prepare a list of preliminary requirements and subjects of examinations for the several positions or groups of positions in the competitive class, and shall publish its rules and such information, and advertise such examinations in such manner as the nature of the examinations may require, and as the commission shall by regulation prescribe. Upon all examinations for positions in the competitive class the maximum percentage of rating shall be 100 per centum, and the minimum percentage of rating shall be 70 per centum. The municipal commissioners may, in the examinations, give such relative importance to the different subjects or matters of examination, whether mental or physical, or to previous experience, occupation or training, as to the commissioners may seem fit. At or before the commencement of every examination the weight to be given to every subject included in the examination and the general or average minimum, and the minimum, if any, allowable in each subject, shall be announced to the applicants.

Every examination under these rules shall be free from interference, participation or influence of the appointing officers, or of any person other than the assistant examiners or experts directly employed by the municipal commission.

No person employed in a department for whose benefit an eligible list is to be prepared, shall be employed as an expert upon the examination for such eligible list. Upon the request of the municipal commission the appointing officer shall communicate to said commission, so far as is consistent with these rules, the general qualifications or attainments, physical or mental, or both, and the experience he deems necessary or proper to be possessed by the person filling the positions for which an eligible list is to be formed.

The municipal commission is authorized to employ such assistants and experts for the conduct of examinations as it shall deem proper and necessary, the reasonable cost and expense of which shall be audited and paid by the city of Plattsburgh.

RULE XII

Character of examinations

All examinations shall be practical in their character and shall relate to those matters which shall fairly test the relative capacity and fitness of the persons examined to discharge the duties of the positions to which they seek to be appointed. The municipal commission, with the approval of the State Commission, shall determine when examinations are not practicable in cases relating to the civil service of the city of Plattsburgh.

RULE XIII

Physical examinations

Whenever physical qualifications are of prime importance to the proper discharge of the duties of any position, applicants must pass an additional examination as to their physical condition and capacity, and be certified as qualified in such respects, before their application shall be filed of record for mental examination.

RULE XIV

Political opinion of candidates

No recommendation or question under the authority of these rules shall relate to the political affiliations of any person whatever; nor shall political opinions be discussed or considered by the commissioners in their examinations. The municipal commissioners shall not receive nor consider any communication as to the qualifications or merits of any candidate for a position, except as herein provided, and except such communications as they may invite by way of verification of statements made by candidates.

RULE XV

Eligible lists

1 An eligible list shall be prepared by the municipal commission from time to time, as the needs of the service require, upon competitive examination for each of the different grades in the competitive class, from the candidates who have been found to be duly qualified for the position for which such eligible list is prepared, and in the order of merit and fitness, as shown by the respective percentage of their aggregate markings. Such eligible list shall be open for inspection to all citizens at the office of the secretary of the municipal commission. Every competitor who attains an average percentage of 70 or over on all the obligatory subjects in any examination, and whose standing on every such obligatory subject is 50 per cent or over, shall be eligible for appointment to the position for which he was examined; and the names of eligibles shall be entered, in the order of their average percentages, on the proper register of eligibles; provided that the names of competitors who have passed as above and whose claims for preference under section 9 of article 5 of the Constitution have been allowed by the commission, shall be placed in the order of their respective average percentages at the head of the proper register of eligibles.

2 When two or more eligibles on a register have the same average percentage, preference in certification shall be determined by the order in which their applications were filed, but neither priority in the date of application nor of examination will give any other advantage in position on the registers of eligibles.

3 The commission shall prescribe the character of the distinct lists, designating the positions that may be filled by certification from each of such lists. A transfer of names from one eligible list to another, prepared as above, may be made by direction of the commission.

4 The term of an eligible list is fixed at not less than one year nor more than four years from the date of the establishment of such list. An eligible list which has been in force for period of one year shall terminate, provided that a new examination has been held and a new list prepared for the same position. Persons whose names appear upon any such eligible list shall be notified by mail when a new examination is to be held for the same position, and informed that their eligibility will cease upon the establishment of the new eligible list as the result of the new examination.

5 When an examination or any grade or position is had before the eligible list for the grade or position is exhausted, a new list shall be prepared after such examination. The persons upon the former eligible list who have not been re-examined shall be respectively placed upon the new eligible list in the position to which the position of their aggregate marking upon the former examination would entitle them, if such markings had been given upon the new examination.

RULE XVI

Written or oral examinations

In the creation of new eligible lists the ratings shall be based upon such written or oral examinations, or both, as the municipal commission shall determine. All oral examinations shall be stenographically recorded.

RULE XVII

Correction of errors

The municipal commission shall have power in its discretion, whenever in its judgment the interests of the public service require, to order a re-examination of applicants for any position and shall have power to correct any error and amend or revoke any schedule, list, or other paper or record, where it appears that any error or injustice has been done; or where any person whose name appears upon an eligible list has for any reason become incapacitated for appointment in the public service, to strike such name from said list, provided, however, that after an eligible list is prepared and certified it shall not be altered or revoked, except upon notice by mail or otherwise, as the commission may direct, to all persons whose other than those above specified shall be stricken from the list. Whenever an eligible for appointment shall fail to accept an offer of appointment sent to him by mail at his post-office address within the four business days next succeeding the mailing of such an offer of appointment, he shall be deemed to have declined such appointment. An eligible who has declined an appointment on the grounds of the insufficiency of the salary offered shall not thereafter be certified for a position at the same or any less salary. Whenever any one or more eligibles shall have declined any appointment offered, and an eligible whose relative standing is lower shall have been appointed to the position, the salary or compensation of such appointee shall not be increased within a period of one year after his appointment, beyond that offered to the person so declining.

8 If the appointment shall be made of any person other than one of the three standing highest on the eligible list, the appointing officer shall forward to the commission, with the notice of appointment, copies of all correspondence to and from the persons declining such appointment.

RULE XIX

Probationary appointments

Except in the cases of veterans of the civil war honorably discharged from the military or naval service of the United States, every original appointment to or employment in any position in the competitive class shall be for a probationary term of three months, and an appointing or nominating officer in notifying a person certified to him for appointment or employment shall specify the same as for a probationary term only; and if the conduct, capacity and fitness of the probationer are satisfactory to the appointing officer, his retention in the service, after the end of such term, shall be equivalent to his permanent appointment; but if his conduct, capacity or fitness be not satisfactory, he may be discharged at the end of such term, without regard to the provisions of rule limiting the power of removal.

fifteen days after the receipt by the appointing officer of the names certified by the secretary, and the secretary shall be notified within twenty-four hours by the appointing power of the appointments or promotions so made. No certification shall be in force for a longer period than fifteen days.

5 When a requisition is made to fill a position for which no eligible list exists, the municipal commission shall make certification from the eligible list most nearly appropriate for the group in which the position to be filled is classified, and wherein the qualifications demanded have been determined by examination.

6 No person on an eligible list shall be certified more than three times to the same appointing officer for the same bureau or institution, except at the request of said appointing officer, unless the person so certified is a veteran, in which case his name shall continue to be certified so long as it remains on the eligible list under these rules. If the appointing officer shall certify that a person named in a certification has declined to accept a position offered, the secretary may certify the name of the person standing next highest upon the eligible list to those already certified. If a person who is not entitled to certification is certified and appointed, his appointment shall immediately be revoked by the appointing officer upon notification by the municipal commission.

7 No person whose name is upon an eligible list may waive his right to certification or appointment, except for any one of the following reasons, stated in writing to the appointing officer and to the municipal commission:

(a) Insufficiency of the salary attaching to the position offered; or

filled by the selection of some designated person of high and recognized attainments in such qualities, the municipal commission may suspend the provisions of the rule requiring competition in such a case, but no such suspension shall be general in its application to such place, and all such cases of suspension shall be reported by the municipal commission in its annual report to the State Commission with the reasons for the same.

3 In the event of exceeding emergency the appointing officers may employ such and so many persons as such emergency renders necessary and shall forthwith notify the municipal commission of the facts in the case, and the names of the persons so employed; but no person so employed shall be continued in the service for a period longer than one week unless the municipal commission may extend the temporary period for another week upon the request of the appointing officer. In each case the municipal commission shall set forth in their minutes the reasons in full for such action.

RULE XXII

Refusal of examination or certificate

The municipal commission may refuse to examine, or after examination, to place upon an eligible list, or to certify as eligible an applicant who is found to lack any of the established preliminary requirements for the examination or position for which he applies; or who is physically so disabled as to be rendered unfit for the performance of the duties of the position to which he seeks appointment; or who is addicted to the habitual use of intoxicating beverages to excess; or who has been guilty of a crime or of infamous or notoriously disgraceful conduct; or who has been dismissed from the public service for delinquency or misconduct; or who has intentionally made a false statement of any material fact; or who has practiced or attempted to practice any deception or fraud in his application, or in his examination, or in securing his eligibility for appointment. Any of the foregoing disqualifications shall be good cause for the removal of an eligible from the service after his appointment. No person who has entered upon any examination for any position shall be entitled to be admitted to a new examination for the same grade or position, within six months from the date thereof.

RULE XXIII

Positions involving fiduciary responsibilities

When the position to be filled involves fiduciary responsibility, the appointing officer, where otherwise permitted by law, may require the appointee to furnish a bond or other security and shall notify the municipal commission of the amount and necessary details thereof.

RULE XXIV

Promotions, transfers, reinstatements

1 Vacancies in positions in the competitive class shall be filled, so far as practicable, by promotion from among persons holding positions in a lower grade in the department or office in which the vacancy exists. Promotions shall be based upon merit and competition and upon the superior qualifications of the person promoted as shown by his previous service, due weight being given to seniority.

Under this rule an increase in the salary or other compensation of any person holding an office or position within the classified service, beyond the limit fixed for the grade in which such office or position is classified, shall be deemed a promotion.

2 No promotion, transfer or reinstatement shall be made from a position in one class to a position in another class, unless the same be especially authorized by the municipal commission, nor shall a person be promoted or transferred to a position for original entrance to which there is required by the civil service law or these rules, an examination involving essential tests or qualifications different from or higher than those required for original entrance to the position held by such person, unless he shall have passed the examination or attained such a place upon the eligible list for such higher position as would entitle him to original appointment, or shall have served with fidelity for at least three years in a similar position.

3 Any person who has held a position by appointment under the civil service rules, and who has been separated from the service through no delinquency or misconduct on his part, may be reinstated without re-examination in the same or similar position in the same office and grade, within one year from the date of such separation, provided that for original entrance to the position proposed to be filled by reinstatement there is not required by these rules, in the opinion of the municipal commission, an examination involving essential tests or qualifications different from or higher than those involved in the examination for original entrance to the position formerly held by the person proposed to be reinstated.

Whenever in any department or institution an office or position is abolished, or whenever the number of positions of a certain character is reduced, or whenever by reason of the lack of appropriation or otherwise, it becomes necessary to discharge or suspend one or more of several persons holding the same position, veterans of the civil war, veterans of the volunteer army or navy of the United States in the Spanish war, and exempt volunteer firemen, shall be entitled to preference in retention in such position over other persons.

4 Upon the written request of an appointing officer, stating the essential facts in regard to any proposed promotion, transfer or reinstatement, the commission will, if such promotion, transfer or reinstatement be in accordance with law and the provisions of these rules, issue a certificate of that fact to such officer, but no promotion, transfer or reinstatement herein authorized shall be valid unless such certificate is issued.

5 In case of persons holding positions, the term of office being fixed by statute, such persons may be retained in the service upon the expiration of the term of appointment, upon receiving a reappointment to such position, without re-examination; but otherwise, the services of the incumbent shall terminate and the position become vacant.

RULE XXV

The non-competitive class

Appointments to positions in the non-competitive class may be made by appointment of any person who upon non-competi*tive examination* shall be duly certified by the municipal commis*sion as qualified* to discharge the duties of the position.

2 Applications shall be received only for positions specifically mentioned in the classification in the competitive and labor classes, and applications for such positions shall be received by the commission at any time, whether an examination is pending or not, unless it is otherwise provided in the rules and stated in the advertisement of the examination to be held.

3 Incomplete or imperfect applications shall be returned to the applicant for correction, either by mail or personally, with the necessary corrections plainly stated therein.

4 The secretary is not permitted to prepare or fill out the printed forms of applications, but the same shall be done when practicable in the handwriting of the applicant.

8 A person will be allowed to take only one examination on any date unless otherwise indicated in the circular notice of the examination.

The following is a copy of the rules which are given to each competitor at the beginning of every examination:

1 Write your examination number on each sheet of the examination. Fill out all blanks on question sheet before handing it in.

2 See that each sheet received by you pertains to the kind of examination which you are taking, and take care that you do not omit any of the sheets. Competitors are held responsible for errors and omissions.

3 Do not leave the room, if possible to avoid it, with a sheet (or question paper) before you unfinished, for, if you do, the sheet will be taken up and will not be returned to you. Competitors are allowed to leave the examination room for luncheon on the completion of any sheet of questions after 12 o'clock. No additional allowance of time will be granted on account of such absence.

4 Read carefully the printed instructions on each sheet before commencing work thereon.

5 If necessary, the back of a sheet may be used to complete your work, unless directions to the contrary are printed on the sheet.

6 Perform all work on each examination sheet with ink.

7 Pencil and scratch paper may be used in preliminary work, except in the spelling and dictation exercises, which must be written with ink directly on the examination sheets from the dictation of the examiner.

8 Use no scratch paper except that furnished by the examiner in charge, and on completing an examination sheet hand him the scratch paper pertaining to that sheet. Have all your work complete on the examination sheet however, as the scratch paper is collected, not for consideration in the marking but for destruction.

9 No helps of any kind are allowed unless expressly stated to the contrary on the question sheet or in the instructions sent to candidates. Before the examination is commenced, hand to the examiner any written or printed matter that you may have which might, if used, aid you in your work.

N. B.—A violation by you of the instructions contained in aragraphs 9, 10 and 11 will be deemed sufficient cause for can-elling your papers. You are requested to report to the ex-miner any irregularity that may come under your notice during he examination.

A notice of standing will be sent to each person examined, whether such person passes or fails to pass, except as herein-after provided. This notice will be sent as soon as practicable after the papers are marked. A duplicate notice will not be furnished. Letters inquiring how soon the papers will be marked only serve to delay the work.

If the papers of a competitor who makes an eligible average are not complete in every particular the name of such com-petitor will not be entered upon the eligible register nor notice of standing sent until the papers are completed.

In alleged cases of collusion the names of the persons sus-pected will not be entered on the eligible register, should they make an eligible average, nor notice of standing be sent, unless, after thorough investigation, the charge of collusion is not sustained.

1 So much of rule 7, paragraph 3, as strikes out the words "State Civil Service Commission has suspended," and inserts in place thereof the words "mayor, suspend," is hereby disapproved, mere grammatical changes being approved — so that the clause will read "State Civil Service Commission, suspend "— and with such exception the amendment is approved.

2 Amendment contained in first two sentences in rule 7, paragraph 4, is hereby disapproved, but if the municipal civil service commission, with approval of mayor, hereafter amends said proposed amendment by inserting in the first line thereof after the word "resolution" the words "approved by the State Civil Service Commission," said amended amendment is hereby approved as of this date.*

Resolved, That the municipal civil service rules of the city of New York be, and they are hereby, amended as follows:

(1) Rule IV as at present constituted is hereby stricken out and the following substituted therefor:

CLASSIFICATION

The offices and positions in the classified service of the city shall be arranged in four divisions, to be known respectively as the exempt class, the competitive class, the non-competitive class and the labor class.

The exempt class

The exempt class shall include the deputies of principal executive officers authorized by law to act generally for and in place of their principals, one secretary of each officer, board or commission authorized by law to appoint a secretary, one clerk and one deputy clerk of each court, if authorized by law, one clerk of each elective judicial officer, and such other subordinate officers or positions as may be placed in said class in the manner prescribed by the civil service law, for the reason that the filling of such offices or positions through competitive or non-competitive examination is found to be not practicable. Such offices and positions shall comprise schedule A, as fixed by rule 68.

The competitive class

The competitive class shall include all offices or positions now existing or hereafter created, of whatever function, designation or compensation, except such as are specifically designated as in the exempt class, the non-competitive class or the labor class.

The offices and positions in the competitive class shall be classified in four schedules, to be known as schedules B, C, D and E, respectively, as fixed by rule 68.

*Paragraph 4 was not amended as required in order to be approved. See paragraphs 3 and 4 of Rule 7 approved September 11, 1902.

Schedules B, C and D shall contain those offices or positions that are graded, and vacancies in the higher grades of which shall be filled, wherever practicable, through promotion. Schedule E shall contain those offices or positions of a special character, which it is not practicable to fill through promotion and vacancies in which may be filled by original appointment, in the manner provided by these rules.

The classification of all offices or positions in the competitive class, and the character of the examination held therefor, shall be governed solely by the respective duties and functions of such offices or positions.

An office or position in the competitive class the title of which is not specifically included in the classification shall, for purposes of examination or promotion, be deemed to be in the schedule the general description of which, in the judgment of the municipal commission, most nearly covers the duties to be performed.

The non-competitive class

The offices and positions in the non-competitive class shall be those which it is not practicable to include in the competitive class, and which are not in the exempt class or in the labor class. Such offices and positions shall comprise schedule F, as fixed by rule 68.

The labor class

The labor class shall comprise schedule G, and shall include the positions and employments designated as in such schedule, as fixed by rule 68.

(2) Rule V is hereby amended by striking out the first and second paragraphs thereof and by substituting the following:

For the purpose of ascertaining the qualifications of persons seeking or named for positions in the competitive class, there shall be a board of examiners, to be composed of a chief examiner, who shall be appointed by the municipal commission, and as many examiners appointed or employed by said commission as it may deem necessary. No person shall be appointed or employed as an examiner for positions in the competitive class who is a public officer or who is employed in any other department of the municipal government.

(3) Rule VI as at present constituted is hereby stricken out, and the following is substituted therefor:

APPOINTMENTS IN THE EXEMPT CLASS

Appointments to offices or positions in the exempt class may be made without examination, but the appointing officer shall file with the secretary of the municipal civil service commission, within five days after making any such appointment, a formal notification thereof, setting forth the full name and address of the appointee, the date of his birth, the position to which he is appointed, the date of appointment, salary, length of residence in the city of New York, his qualifications for the office or position to be filled, the nature of his employment during the five years immediately previous, and such other detailed information as the commission may deem proper for registration.

No office or position shall be deemed to be in the exempt class unless it is specifically named in schedule A of the classification, as fixed by rule 68. Not more than one appointment shall be made to or under the title of any such office or position, unless a different number is specifically mentioned in the classification.

(4) Rule VII as at present constituted is hereby stricken out, and the following is substituted therefor:

RULE VII

APPOINTMENTS IN THE COMPETITIVE CLASS

Vacancies in the competitive class not filled by promotion shall be filled by appointments from among those graded highest in open competitive examinations, excepting as follows:

Exceptions from competition

ing officer may nominate a person to the commission for non-competitive examination, and if such nominee shall be certified as qualified after such non-competitive examination, he may be appointed provisionally to fill such vacancy until a selection and appointment can be made after competitive examination; but such provisional appointment shall not continue for more than ten days after notice to the appointing officer that an eligible list for such position has been prepared, or for a longer period in any case than two months, nor shall successive provisional appointments be made to the same position under this provision.

2 Where there is a vacancy of an emergency character in a position in the competitive class, and it is not practicable either to secure a person by certification from an eligible list, or to conduct a non-competitive examination, in the absence of such a list, in time to meet such emergency, an appointment may be made without certification or examination, subject to the approval of the commission and for a period not exceeding one week, but successive appointments shall not be made under this provision.

3 Where there is a vacancy in any position in the competitive class demanding peculiar and exceptional qualifications of a scientific, professional or educational character, and upon satisfactory evidence that for specified reasons competition in such special case is not practicable, and that the position can best be filled by the selection of some designated person of high and recognized attainments in such qualities, the Commission may, with the approval of the State Civil Service Commission, suspend the provisions of the rule requiring competition in such case; but no such suspension shall be general in its application to such position, and all such cases of suspension shall be set forth by the Commission, with the reasons therefor, in its annual report.

4 The Commission may by special resolution except from competitive examination any person engaged in private business who shall render any professional, scientific, technical or expert service of an occasional and exceptional character to any city officer, and whose compensation in any one year shall not exceed $500; provided that such limitation of compensation shall not apply to any person employed by the mayor or corporation counsel, and provided further that the Commission may suspend such limitation, by special resolution, in other cases. All exceptions from competitive examination under this provision shall be set forth by the Commission, with the reasons therefor, in its annual report.*

Whenever the public library, Brooklyn, or the Queens borough library, has been or hereafter shall be extended into any part of the territory of the city of New York, in which now or hereafter there shall be a library incorporated under the laws of

The Commission may, in such a case, authorize a special competitive examination, under these rules, in order to establish an appropriate eligible list, and the reasons therefor shall be stated in the minutes.

All examinations for original appointment to positions in schedules B or D shall, unless otherwise specified, be for the lowest grade of such position, providing that by direction of the Commission an open competitive examination may at any time be held to secure eligibles for a specified grade of any such position, which it is not practicable to fill under the rules governing promotion.

shown by the respective percentages of their aggregate markings upon their examinations, except that the names of candidates who have been honorably discharged from the military or naval service of the United States in the civil war shall be placed at the head of such list, in the order shown by their respective percentages.

REPORTS OF MUNICIPAL CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSIONS

Albany

ALBANY, N. Y., December 31, 1902

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.— In compliance with the provisions of section 10 of chapter 370 of the laws of 1899, the municipal civil service commission of the city of Albany submits its report for the year 1902.

Mr. Donald McDonald, gas meter manufacturer, Mr. Wm. Van R. Erving, attorney-at-law, and Mr. Frank A. McNamee, manager life insurance, comprise the municipal civil service commission of this city. They were appointed on January 1, 1902, and receive no compensation for their services. Mr. Hiram D. Brumaghim, secretary of the commission, was appointed on January 1, 1900, and receives a salary of $1,000 per year.

This commission has continued to make all examinations as practical in their character as possible and the veterans of the late civil war have been given the preference to which they are entitled under the law.

The commission has held ten meetings and conducted sixteen examinations in the competitive class during the past year. No examinations in the non-competitive class were held this year. The following table shows the number of applicants that have passed and failed in the competitive class, together with list of examinations:

	Passed.	Failed.
Clerks	22	11
Stenographers	15	2
Assistant stationary engineer	2	1
Stationary engineer	5	0
Stationary fireman	6	22
Call hoseman, fire department	15	1
Elevatorman	2	1

	Passed.	Failed.
Assistant foreman, fire department	25	0
Foreman, water bureau	3	0
Meter inspector	9	3
Sewer inspector	6	6
Paving inspector	10	5
Permanent hoseman, fire department	18	0
Call foreman, fire department	11	0
Police sergeant	13	2
Call hoseman, fire department	19	0

The unclassified service of the city of Albany comprises 355 persons.

The following table shows the number of persons in each class of the classified service:

	Persons.
Exempt class comprises	31
Competitive class comprises	438
Non-competitive class comprises	2
Labor class comprises	250

The following is a table of the number of appointments, removals, resignations, promotions and transfers in the various classes during the past year:

	Exempt	Competitive	Non-competitive	Labor
Appointments	10	47	.....	124
Promotions	.....	43	.....	.....
Transfers	.....	1	.....	.....
Removals	.....	.....	.....	55
Resignations	1	20	.....	3

This Commission has had no occasion to suspend the rules for exception from examination.

. complete roster of all employees in the employ of this city, ether with a labor list, is kept in this office in accordance h law.

he financial officers of the city require that all pay-rolls and ounts shall be certified and reviewed by the secretary of this mission in accordance with law.

'e desire to say that no important increase or decrease of em- ees as compared with 1901 has occurred this year.

he general effect of appointments and promotions under the service law is good, procuring a more efficient and better s of persons for the public service. The competitive ex- nations given have been such that unless the applicants have a general knowledge of the subject under examination as ualify them for the place they are unable to pass.

ne law secures, as a rule, promotion to a higher grade of e only who have served faithfully the specified time in a r grade.

o person being eligible until after passing the civil service nination, appointing officers often urge upon those whom desire to have appointed the necessity of qualifying them- es by studying for the desired position. It has been our ex- nce that appointing officers have been glad to coöperate the Commission by furnishing such general information as ld enable us to make up intelligent examinations, finding eby that they are able to secure intelligent and qualified ointees and are to a large extent relieved from the pressure olitical patronage.

'e have noticed that a large proportion of the candidates in fire and police departments have familiarized themselves with regulations of these departments before applying, so that if y are able to pass the physical examination which is given the department physicians and to get through an examination der the civil service regulations, they are pretty apt to be mpetent for appointment.

We herewith present a few statistics which indicate to some tent the work that has been performed during the year:

	Competitive	Labor
Number of applications filed	287	514
Number of applicants examined	235	.....
Number of applicants passed	181	.....
Number of applicants failed	54	.....
Number of applicants appointed	47	124

The official roster of the classified service of the city of Albany at present comprises 721 employees.

Respectfully submitted,

Amsterdam

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., January 10, 1903.

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.— Pursuant to the provisions of the civil service law, chapter 370, laws of 1899, the municipal civil service commissioners of the city of Amsterdam, N. Y., hereby submit their annual report to your honorable body.

Speaking in a general way, the operation of the civil service law as applied to the public service of the city of Amsterdam has been quite satisfactory, and the effect is concededly beneficial to the municipality.

The character of the examinations held during the past year has been such as to provide persons for the several departments who are well qualified to fill the positions they seek. The examinations have been held not with a view to keeping out of the service any one seeking to enter it, but as a fair test of their fitness for and knowledge of the duties they were expected to perform. The results have been generally satisfactory.

The names of the Commissioners are, Robert E. Lee Reynolds, James L. Doyle, Richard Murphy, appointed January 1, 1902. The Commissioners receive $5 each per meeting, the meetings which they receive pay being limited to twenty in the year.

e only person employed by the Commission was the secretary, omas J. Hazlett, who received $300.
Twenty meetings were held during the year. There are 98 sons in the classified service. In the exempt class there are competitive, 39; labor, 50.
Six competitive examinations were held, as follows:
Street commissioner, fireman, policeman, school janitor, eler, rodman and chainman. Number passed for street com-ssioner, 3; failed, 1. School janitor — passed, 2; failed, none.
eman — passed, 5; failed, 2. Policeman — passed, 2; failed, Assistant to civil engineer, chainman — passed, 2; failed, ne.
Number of appointments: Exempt, 1; competitive, 3; non-npetitive, none.
Number of removals, none.
Number of resignations, 2.
Transfers, none.
Promotions, 1.
There have been no exceptions from examination under sec-n 14, paragraph 2, of the civil service law.
The provisions of the law giving preference to veterans have en complied with.
In all cases where the moneys are distributed direct from the y treasury, pay-rolls have been certified according to law.
e commission has a roster of all city employees, showing the mes, titles of positions, dates of appointment and salaries of officers and employees under the control of the common uncil.
The city treasurer pays out no moneys from pay-rolls. All icers and employees are paid by warrants, authorized by the mmon council and signed by the mayor and city clerk, and ly certified pay-rolls are presented, the secretary of this mmission having authority to certify to all pay-rolls.
There has been no increase or diminution of the number of rsons employed in the civil service of the city as compared th 1901.
It is the opinion of this commission that the effect of the il service upon the appointing power has been beneficial, and especially in relation to the appointments in the police and fire departments. It has had the effect of greatly improving the character and efficiency of the men appointed, securing to these departments men of higher character and greater intelligence.

The provisions of law regarding the registration of laborers and employment from the labor list have been generally complied with. There have been times during the past year, owing to the scarcity of labor, when the law could not be strictly complied with. It is the opinion of this commission that the law cannot be strictly complied with in this respect in cities of the third class, where the different departments of labor are isolated.

No pay-rolls from the sewer commission or the board of education have been presented for certification. In the water commissioners' department only the pay-roll of four of the officers and employees are certified. None of the employees of the water commission have taken the required examinations. Four of them have been in the employment of the commission from a time previous to the adoption of civil service rules by the city. These four the commission has been in the habit of certifying as if regularly appointed. The water commissioners employ very few outside of these four, except occasionally a laborer, and it does not seem convenient for them to call upon this commission every time they want a man for an hour or two in an emergency.

The sewer commissioners have an engineer and an inspector, both of whom have passed the required examinations. Some of the occasional helpers have not passed, but they are usually only laborers. The commission does not present pay-rolls for certification, and does not draw its money direct from the treasury. The water and sewer commissions have their own funds and their own financial officers, and are independent in this respect of the common council.

The board of education controls a separate school district.

Respectfully submitted.

Accounts and pay-rolls are reviewed and certified by the secretary of this commission.

16. The provisions of the law regarding the registration of laborers and certifications from labor lists have been complied with so far as possible.

19. There were no important increases or diminutions of the number of persons in the civil service of the city as compared with 1901, except in the fire department where three new positions were created by the addition of a steam fire engine to the apparatus of the department.

20. While this commission believes that the objects of the civil service law are noble and worthy, and that a proper administration of same is of great benefit to the various departments of the city government (especially the fire and police departments), yet we are impressed with the danger of pressing it beyond its sphere of usefulness, in which case it results in handicapping the administration by the retention in office of those who, not being in accord with the administration, create discord and demoralize the service.

Most respectfully submitted.

In accordance with the request from the secretary of your Commission under date of December 22, 1902, the following information and data are herewith furnished:

1 The names, occupations and date of appointment of the present commission are as follows: Maurice E. Page, attorney at law; J. W. Ballard, proprietor of J. W. Ballard Company, dealer in coal, lime and building materials; E. H. Titchener, president of E. H. Titchener & Co., wire works. The commissioners were appointed on the 13th of January, 1902, by Mayor S. L. Smith. They receive no salary.

2 There are no employees of the commission aside from its regularly appointed clerk, the clerk being Mr. Laurence Mason, who was appointed on the 4th day of February, 1902, and receives a salary of $300 per annum.

3 The commission has held sixteen meetings during the year.

4 The number of persons in the unclassified service is 549.

5 There are 8 persons in the exempt class, 91 in the competitive, 6 in the non-competitive, and 78 in the labor class, actually in employment.

6 The number of competitive examinations held during the year, the titles of the positions, the number passing and the number failing, are as shown by the following table:

POSITION	Tried	Passed	Failed
Clerk, municipal boards	1	.....	1
Stenographer	1	1	.....
Assistant superintendent, city hospital	2	2	.....
Patrolman	20	8	12
Foreman	12	8	4
Inspector of street construction	4	2	*1
Bath house attendant	1	1	.....
Orderly, city hospital	1	1	.....
Stationary engineer	3	3	.....
Tapeman	2	2	.....
Clerks for assessors, municipal boards and departments	3	3	.....

*One withdrew.

7 Three non-competitive examinations have been held during the year for positions as follows:

Chief, fire department.

Tapeman, city engineer's department.

Inspector of paving, city engineer's department.

8 The number of appointments that have been made is as follows:

(a) To exempt positions, 2.

(b) To competitive positions, 13.

(c) To non-competitive positions, 2.

(d) To labor positions, 190.

9 The number of removals that have been made from each class is as follows:

From the competitive class, 1; from the labor class, 22, and none from the exempt and non-competitive classes.

10 The number of resignations from each class is as follows:

From the exempt class, 1; the competitive class, 7; the labor class, 4; the non-competitive class, none.

11 There have been two transfers, namely, from the position of inspector of street construction, paving and repairs to the position of inspector of sewers and masonry (no appointment, however, was made after this transfer), and from position of assistant engineer in municipal building to position of engineer of steam roller in street department.

12 There have been no promotions.

13 No exceptions from examination, as is allowable under section 14, paragraph 2, of the civil service law, have been made.

14 The provisions of the law giving preference to veterans have been strictly complied with.

15 The provisions in regard to certification of pay-rolls and accounts have been strictly complied with, the secretary reviewing and certifying the same and making report thereto at the next succeeding meeting of the commission.

16 The provisions of the law regarding registration of laborers and certifications from labor lists have been strictly complied with.

17 The commission has a complete roster of all city employees showing names, titles of positions, dates of appointment and salary, except the dates of appointment of a few who have been long in service, made prior to appointment of the present civil service commission.

18 The financial officers of the city require the certificate of the commission upon all pay-rolls.

19 There is no important increase or diminution of the number of persons employed in the civil service of the city as compared with 1901.

20 Two or three instances have come to the notice of the commissioners where persons well qualified by particular knowledge and experience to fill certain positions have been debarred from appointment by inability to secure a proper marking on an examination by reason of a lack of education. This has been mainly noticed in the street department and engineer's department, where as regards the position of foreman it is more essential to secure executive ability and tact in handling men than any other advantages which might accrue from mere school education. In the main, however, we are constrained to declare our belief in the efficacy of the merit system of the present civil service law, and we regret that its application is sometimes nullified by the force of the constitutional provision which compels a preference to be given to veterans of the civil war. While the commissioners appreciate the great service which was performed for the country by those who now belong to the honored class of veterans, many cases have come under their observation where it would appear that the civil service has not procured as good men for various positions as might have been procured had it not been compulsory upon the appointing power to select some veteran whose standing in the examination placed him far from the head of the list.

21 In the opinion of the commission appointing officers seek to observe the requirements of the law in making their appointments. While in some cases they have expressed their dissatisfaction or their disapproval that certain ones who have not been among the highest upon the eligible list cannot be selected, yet no variation has been made. There have not been a sufficient number of appointments made in the fire department and police department during the past year — none in the fire department and three in the police department — to enable us to form any particular opinion other than as above stated as to the general effect upon appointing officers.

In general the commission desires to state that it has endeavored in all particulars to enforce the civil service law. It has come to their notice after examination that wrong statements, either intentionally or inadvertently, have been made by applicants, either in regard to age, residence, and in the case of one veteran in regard to honorable discharge, and in all of these cases the applicant making such false statement has been served with notice to show cause why his name should not be stricken from the eligible list upon which it was placed as the result of such examination, and for which he was disqualified by reason of the facts concealed in making the statements as they were made. and in every case the person has appeared and either voluntarily resigned or submitted to having his name stricken from the list.

Respectfully submitted.

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.— Referring to the report sent in to you by our commission to-day, I beg to say that there is no lack of harmony among the members of our board but my colleagues were not ready to go quite as far as myself in expressing opinions as answering question No. 20.

The paragraphs in the report as answering this question were prepared by Mr. Page and myself jointly. I desired to add, however, the following:

"We believe that any obligation on the part of the State to the veteran class should be paid in some tangible manner, which would apply to all alike, and that article V, section 9, of the constitution should be properly amended. We further believe that the amendment to the civil service law passed in 1902, giving preference in the matter of retention in the service to veterans of the Spanish war and to exempt volunteer firemen, should be repealed."

I am therefore sending you this supplemental minority report, e opinion expressed being the result of long observation of the orkings of the law under the mandate as expressed in the nstitution.

As it appears to me, possibly one veteran in a thousand may e benefited by the preference given in the law but the other 999 eceive no corresponding benefit. If the state owes a debt to the eterans it seems as if it should be paid so as to reach all of iem, and that an attempt should not be made to benefit a mere ew by discriminating against other citizens of the state, equally, r perhaps better, adapted to hold positions of public service.

Very truly yours,

Buffalo

BUFFALO, N. Y., January 1, 1903

o the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.—As provided by the statute, the civil service ommission of the city of Buffalo respectfully submits herewith s annual report for the year ending December 31, 1902, together ith copies of the roster of the classified service of said city.

The Hon. Erastus C. Knight, mayor of the city of Buffalo, on ie 19th day of February, 1902, reorganized the civil service commission of the city by reducing the number of commissioners om fifteen to seven, and in place of the former commission esigned, appointed the following commission to compose the ew board:

NAME	Occupation	Date of appointment	Salary
harles B. Wheeler	Lawyer	Feb. 19, 1902	None
eorge A. Ricker	Civil engineer	Feb. 19, 1902	None
enry W. Sprague	Lawyer	Feb. 19, 1902	None
homas M. Crowe	Doctor	Feb. 19, 1902	None
artholomew Connors	President, Grain Shovelers Union, Local 109	Feb. 19, 1902	None
ohn R. Moynihan	District manager, Security Warehousing Co.	Feb. 19, 1902	None
oseph E. Ewell	Lawyer	Feb. 19, 1902	None

The commission on the same day organized and elected Mr. Charles B. Wheeler its president. The commission held twenty-six meetings during the year 1902.

The only change in the membership of the commission was caused by the resignation of the Hon. Joseph E. Ewell, who retired to assume his duties as superintendent of the Soldiers' Home at Bath, N. Y. Mr. Joseph L. Whitett was appointed to fill the vacancy.

The following are the names, titles of positions, dates of appointment and salary of employees of the commission:

William D. Cushman, secretary, April 1, 1902, $1,000 per year.

AMENDMENTS.

The most important change in the classification of the city service was the changing of the position of market clerk from the competitive schedule and placing it in the exempt class of the classified service. The action of the local commission received the approval of the State Commission.

The position of keeper of inlets was changed from the competitive class to the qualifying schedule.

THE SERVICE

The unclassified service of the city of Buffalo has not varied since the last report, but still numbers forty-nine persons. The following table shows the number of persons employed in each division of the classified service:

Exempt class, 67.

Competitive class, 1636.

Non-competitive class, 64.

Labor class, 324.

We herewith append to our report as forming a part thereof certain tabulated statements relating to the civil service of the city of Buffalo prepared by Mrs. Annie Jackson Evans of this city, and contained in an essay read by her before the Women's Auxiliary to the Civil Service Reform Association. It represents a great amount of patient labor and we believe will be of reat interest, not only to your commission, but to the public in eneral.

The following are the number of appointments made during he year:

(a) To exempt positions, 36.
(b) To competitive positions, 81.
(c) To non-competitive positions, 16.

The following are the number of removals:

(a) From exempt positions, 2.
(b) From competitive positions, 20.
(c) From non-competitive positions, 7.

The following are the number of resignations:

(a) From exempt positions, 4.
(b) From competitive positions, 13.
(c) From non-competitive positions, 2.

In reference to the appointments, removals and resignations from the positions of laborers this commission reports that it is unable to give accurate data. The greater portion of the laborers employed by the city of Buffalo are men employed temporarily in the department of public works where their employment lasts only a few months or weeks as the particular work on which they are engaged demands. The list of registered laborers we duly certified to the appointing commissioner, but large numbers of those registered never appeared for work when called for, and the list became exhausted, so that unregistered laborers had to be employed.

We have found it absolutely impossible to keep an accurate record of appointments, resignations and removals in the labor schedule, because of the constant changes in men and transfers from one gang to another and from one department to another. Therefore, our records do not show how many laborers in all were appointed, resigned or removed, and so far as we can state the records of the public works department will not disclose the information either, because of the constantly changing gangs. Regarding the transfers, etc., in other classes, during the year the transfers have been made and sixteen promotions.

The commission has made no exceptions from examinations, under section 14, paragraph 2, of the civil service law, and has strictly complied with the provisions of the law giving preference to veterans.

CERTIFICATION OF PAY-ROLLS

The provision of the law regarding certification of pay-rolls has been strictly complied with. The pay-rolls and accounts are reviewed and certified by the secretary and in his absence by the clerk. The financial officers of the city require the certificate of the commission upon all pay-rolls and accounts.

The statute requiring the certification of the commission to all pay-rolls has proved of most valuable assistance in the enforcement of the civil service law. It has been most effective in preventing the illegal appointment of persistent office seekers having influential endorsers, whose importunities often prove too great to be withstood by the appointing officer.

EXAMINATIONS

All examinations are conducted by the commission personally, committees being appointed by the president to prepare the questions, conduct the examinations and grade the papers. During the last year the commission has aimed to make all examinations thoroughly practical rather than academic, endeavoring to conduct such an examination as would tend to disclose the ability of the candidate to satisfactorily discharge the duties of the position to which he seeks an appointment. This practice has increased the confidence of the public in the fairness and justice of the examinations given by the commission. As a result a superior class of applicants has competed and the standard of the public service is continually being elevated. The city obtains a more efficient corps of public servants.

The effect of the civil service law is especially noticeable in the police and fire departments. The class of men appearing for examination is of a higher order intellectually, and these men are willing to accept more humble positions because they know that faithfulness and merit will be rewarded by steady advancement.

The following is a table showing the number of competitive and non-competitive examinations held during the year:

LABOR REGISTRATION

at best, lasts but a few months, often but a few weeks or days. Men register as laborers in the early spring before such work begins. Before the time for employment comes they find work elsewhere, and when certified from the prepared list to the employing bureau few of the men call or respond to the notice. This occasions serious embarrassment and delay to the bureaus and renders it exceedingly difficult for the commission to satisfactorily preserve the proper records and data in reference to those who have registered. To do this requires a greater clerical force than the appropriation heretofore made for the use of the commission permits. We further find that giving those first registered the preference over others later on the list creates more or less dissatisfaction. It is difficult to justify a rule entitling a person who reaches the place of registration five minutes ahead of another preference over such person. We believe it would give better satisfaction if all labor applicants could be treated alike and given equal opportunities with other applicants for the same class of work. It seems to us possible to work out successfully a scheme by which the names of all labor applicants could be drawn from a wheel or box in practically the same manner as jurors are drawn. Such a system would obviate the evils which labor registration seeks to abate and at the same time preserve equal opportunities to all.

The Buffalo commission has been directly and indirectly interested in a number of important litigations touching the classification in force and existing at the time the commission was organized. Among such cases is the case of People on the relation of Frank S. Coit vs. Charles B. Wheeler and others, as commissioners. The position of registrar in the bureau of water had been classified as competitive. Mr. Coit entered the competitive examination held for making up an eligible list for that place. He passed, and passed highest, but the fact that two veterans also passed the examination defeated his appointment. The commission was requested to reclassify and place the position of registrar in the exempt class on the ground that the position was of such a confidential nature as required that action. The ommission refused to reclassify the position as requested and efused to certify to the pay of Mr. Coit, who was retained in he position of registrar over its protest, the commission contend- g that the veterans were entitled to the appointment in prefer- ce to Mr. Coit. Mr. Coit then applied for a mandamus com- elling the commission to certify to his pay and also to reclassify he position in question as exempt. Mr. Justice Kenefick, sitting special term, handed down a decision granting the application Mr. Coit and holding that the position was of such a confi- ential nature as entitled it to be exempt.

Like questions arose in reference to the position of first and cond deputy street superintendents and assistant deputy build- g commissioner. One Stewart, a veteran, successfully passed he examination held for first and second assistant deputy street perintendents. He claimed to be entitled to the office of ther first or second deputy street superintendent. The com- issioner of public works refused to so appoint him, although he position is classified as competitive, and Mr. Stewart there- on instituted proceedings for a mandamus to compel his ap- intment; but the supreme court held that the position was of ch a confidential nature as entitled it to be exempt. Appeals ere taken in this case and the case carried to the court of peals, where it has recently been decided adversely to Mr. tewart.

In conclusion we desire to report that there has been very ttle friction between the commission and the various depart- ents of the city government, and in most instances the com- ission has received the hearty co-operation of all departments the administration and enforcement of the civil service laws. All of which is respectfully reported.

EXPLANATION OF TABLE

The figures are based on the conditions of the month of May of each year listed in column 1. These figures were obtained by getting from the "rules of admission to the civil service of Buffalo" for the year given in column 3 a list of all the offices in schedules A, B and C. Then the city pay-rolls filed in the office of the city clerk were consulted for May of the year under investigation, and the number of employees (exclusive of teachers and laborers) who were paid was obtained. This gave the figures for column 2. From the pay-roll were picked out the names of all men holding positions specifically named in schedule A of the "rules for admission," and this gave the figures to column 6. Columns 9 and 12 were obtained in the same way, and the sum of columns 6, 9 and 12 gives column 4—the total number of city employees listed in schedules A, B and

C. From these figures the percentages of the other columns were calculated. To illustrate: In May, 1891 (column 1), there were 1,202 (column 2) employees (exclusive of teachers and laborers), and of these, according to the last available rules of admission, namely, those of 1890 (column 3), there were 925 (column 4) men listed in schedules A, B and C. These made 76.9 per cent. (column 5) of the total 1,202. Of this 925 there were 147 (column 6) in schedule A, and so schedule A contained 12.2 per cent. (column 7) of the total 1,202 and 15.9 per cent. (column 8) of the 925 civil service employees. In like manner, there were in schedule B 758 (column 9) men, comprising 63.1 per cent. (column 10) of the total 1,202 or 81.9 per cent. (column 11) of the 925 civil service employees; and in schedule C were 20 (column 12) men, comprising 1.6 per cent. (column 13) of the total 1,202, or 2.2 per cent. (column 14) of the 925 civil service employees.

The provisions of the law in regard to veterans have been strictly complied with.

In regard to certification of pay-rolls, all departments, with the exception of the public improvement commission, have complied with the law. This commission has not had any pay-roll sheets certified in nearly a year. They pay their employees by check from bank. All the other departments have used all the power at their command to aid the commission in its work. We have notified the public improvement commission to submit pay-rolls, and also notified the two banks to pay no bills of employees unless certified to by this commission, but nothing has been done about it.

The commission has a roster of all names of employees under the classified service, and has under contemplation the making of a complete list of all city officers, which will be completed in the near future.

The class of men who are trying the examinations for positions in the civil service is of a higher order than under the old rule, where the fitness of a man for the position was not considered. Especially is this so in the police and fire departments of this city.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Elmira

ELMIRA, N. Y., January 14, 1903

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.—The municipal civil service commission of the city of Elmira, N. Y., herewith submits its annual report for the year 1902. During the year it has been the aim of the commission to carry out the spirit and intent of the civil service laws of the state, as well as the civil service rules of the city, and at all times, we are pleased to state, we have enjoyed the hearty support of the mayor and the heads of the different departments. We have not endeavored to establish high educational standards for ordinary positions in the competitive class, as we have observed in most of the positions which have been included in our examinations that it was more desirable that such examination should relate more especially to experience and practical knowledge of the duties to be required.

In compliance with your request of December 22, 1902, we herewith submit the following answers to your questions:

1 The commissioners are: William J. Homer, Superintendent of the Bradstreet company; P. A. Dowling, printer; W. G. Benedict, railroad baggage master; appointed March 27, 1902; salary $5 per meeting.

2 The secretary of the commission is P. H. Mack, appointed May 1, 1902; salary, $20 per month.

3 Twenty-seven meetings were held during the year.

4 233 persons are employed in the unclassified service.

5 (a) 12 persons are employed in the exempt class.

(b) 109 persons are employed in the competitive class.

(c) 9 persons are employed in the non-competitive class.

(d) 165 persons are employed in the labor class.

6 The following examinations in the competitive class have been held by the commission during the year:

Title of position	No. passed	No. failed
Janitor	1	7
Janitor	1	3
Sidewalk inspector	7	6
Chainman	2	1
Draughtsman	1	1
Rodman	2	.....
Janitor	2	6
Fireman (boiler)	3	1
Janitor	4	4
Police matron	7	2
Fireman (fire department)	11	3
Janitor	1	.....

7 Number of non-competitive examinations held during the year:

Title of position	No. passed	No. failed
Mayor's clerk	1	.....
Superintendent public works	1	.....
City engineer	1	.....
Secretary civil service commission	1	.....
Chief of fire department	1	.....

8 Number of appointments:

7 to exempt positions.

18 to competitive positions.

5 to non-competitive positions.

165 to labor positions.

9 There have been five removals from positions in the competitive class.

10 Number of resignations:

Exempt class, 1.

Competitive class, 3.

Non-competitive class, 5.

11 Number of transfers, 3, from sidewalk inspectors to paving inspectors.

12 Number of promotions, 5.

13 Exceptions from examination under the provisions of paragraph 2 of section 14 of the civil service law, none.

14 The provisions of law giving preference to veterans have been strictly complied with.

15 All pay-rolls have been reviewed and certified to by the secretary of the local board.

16 The provisions of the law regarding the registration of laborers and certifications from the labor list have been strictly complied with.

17 This commission has in its possession a complete roster of all city employees, showing names, titles of positions, dates of appointment and salaries.

18 The financial officers of the city require the certificate of the commission upon all pay-rolls.

19 There has been a slight decrease in the number of persons employed in the civil service of the city during the year as compared with 1901, on account of the fact that the present administration found it necessary to curtail expenses.

20 It is the opinion of the commission that the municipal government, by the application of the civil service law compelling those who desire to enter its service to enter competitive examinations as the basis of appointment, has secured a better class of employees, both in regard to character and efficiency, than were secured under the "spoils" system.

The practical application of civil service is an incentive for a young man to give his position, no matter how humble, close attention; and by so doing he is better enabled in time to perform the higher duties of his department. In corroboration of this, we might state that during the past year there have existed two vacancies at the heads of the different departments, and in each case, regardless of party affiliations, has the next man in line been promoted to fill the vacancy.

21 The different commissions of the city have complied with the civil service law. The police commission has made no appointments during the year, but there is no doubt that they prefer to employ men who, by competitive examination, have shown absolute proof of their ability to fill the positions, rather than to employ men by personal favor or the influence of friends, who later would depend on the same influence, instead of fitness, for promotion.

In the fire department the position of chief was made vacant by resignation, and the fire commissioners recommended for a non-competitive examination the next man in command, who, after showing his fitness by examination, was appointed. We sincerely believe that the fire commissioners will concur in the statement that the other employees secured during the year are good, efficient young men who ultimately will be competent to fill higher positions in their department.

The law has the effect on the commissions to restrain them from showing favoritism to employees on account of party affiliations, and does also retain those who by their service have shown their competency. It further eliminates aspirants for positions who from the lack of prior experience or education are not capable of filling the positions.

Respectfully submitted.

18 The financial officers of the city require the certificate of he commission upon all pay-rolls and accounts.

19 There has been no important increase or diminution of the number of persons employed in the civil service of the city as compared with 1901.

20 Although the law has not been all that the commission might wish, it is satisfied that it has been quite a benefit in selecting persons for appointment.

21 Especially in the police department does the commission feel that the law has been a great benefit in helping select a department that is a credit to the city.

Yours very respectfully,
(Signed) W. M. HINSDALE,
Secretary.

Geneva

GENEVA, N. Y., January 5, 1903

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.— Pursuant to the provisions of section 10 of the civil service law, chapter 370, laws of 1899, the civil service commission of the city of Geneva, N. Y., submits herewith its annual report for the year 1902.

The commission is composed as follows: Thomas H. Chew, vice-president first national bank; A. L. Sweet, M. D., physician and druggist; James M. Johnston, attorney at law.

The first two named were appointed by the first mayor of the city and have been acting as commissioners since. The last named was appointed January 1, 1902, by the present mayor. Under our rules the commissioners serve without compensation of any kind.

The only employee of the commission is the secretary, G. R. Watson, who was appointed January 1, 1902, at a salary of $120 per year.

During the year thirteen meetings have been held. At present there are 102 persons holding positions in the unclassified service, 3 in the exempt class, 39 in the competitive, and 167 names enrolled on the roster of the labor class.

Six competitive examinations have been held during the year for the following positions in the classified service:

Clerk of board of health.

Secretary of civil service commission.

Second assistant chief engineer, fire department.

Foreman of steamer company, fire department.
Engineer of fire engine, fire department.
Fireman or hoseman, fire department.

For the above named positions 17 persons were examined, all of whom passed. The commission has held no nonompetitive examinations. Seven persons have been appointed positions in the competitive class and 19 registered as laborers. hose added to the roster of laborers, as well as those already on e list, have been employed by the board of public works as quired. None, however, have been so employed unless registered as eligible and having been so certified by the secretary of e commission.

The only removals have been in the unclassified service, the ayor having removed the three fire commissioners. There have en but three resignations, all in the competitive class; two protions and no transfers.

The commission made one exception from examination, the rcumstances of which are as follows: The superintendent of blic works having resigned, the board of public works in the terest of economy and the public good, wished to combine the sition of city engineer with that of superintendent. A petion was therefore presented to the municipal commission that ey be allowed to appoint the city engineer to the position of perintendent of public works, without examination, at a ghtly increased salary, he being the only available man for e position. The matter was referred to your honorable body, der date of February 3d last, and to this the secretary of the ate Commission replied that the matter would be referred to e State Commission at a meeting to be held in Rochester Febary 14th and 15th. Later a communication was received from harles S. Fowler, chief examiner, saying that the matter had en referred to him at the meeting in Rochester, and that in his inion it was entirely within the power of the municipal comission to authorize such appointment by passing a suitable solution, and that it need not be referred to the State Commison for approval, but might take effect immediately. The folwing resolution was therefore adopted:

"Whereas, The board of public works has petitioned the civil service commission to promote C. T. Church, the city engineer, to the position of superintendent of public works without examination, setting forth good and sufficient reasons for such promotion; and,

Whereas, In case a competitive examination pursuant to the rules of the civil service were held, Mr. Church would be the only competitor; and,

Whereas, The contemplated action of this board has met the approval of the State Civil Service Commission; be it

Resolved, That permission be granted to the board of public works to promote C. T. Church, the city engineer, to the position of superintendent of public works, without examination."

The provisions of the law with reference to veterans have, to the best of our knowledge, been fully complied with, as have also the provisions of the law regarding the certification of pay-rolls. Each pay-roll is examined and compared by the secretary of the commission and is then formally certified to by one of the commissioners. This has effectually stopped all attempts to collect salaries where the civil service regulations have not been observed.

In relation to the law regarding the registration of laborers and certification from the labor list, we would report that the provisions have been complied with as closely as possible. We again wish to state, however, that in a city the size of Geneva it is extremely difficult to carry out fully the provisions of the law in relation to laborers. At times few or no laborers are needed, at others a considerable force is required. Men cannot be kept on the waiting list, with nothing to do, on the chance that the city may possibly give them work. When one or more laborers are required by the superintendent of public works, if he makes a requisition on the civil service commission for a list of names the members of the commission or the secretary cannot very well go and see those on the waiting list and find which laborers are available in order to hand their names to the superintendent of public works. When a man desires employment as a laborer he causes to be filled out a blank, in which he gives his name, residence, citizenship, number and relationship of persons dependent upon him for support, service in the army or navy in the late civil war, occupation and two references. If satisfactory, his name is then entered on the register of the commission as being eligible for employment, and as the board of public works is the only department of the city requiring the services of those registered as laborers, his name is then certified to the superintendent as being on the eligible list, and no laborers are employed except those so certified as being upon said list. All, or nearly all, of the men whose services can be obtained are personally known to the appointing power and he best knows which of them can be used to advantage. The commission believes that in this way they carry out the intent of the law so far as it is possible in a place of this size.

The commission has a complete roster of all city employees which the civil service rules require should be so enrolled, showing titles of positions, date of appointment and salaries. No employee can obtain his salary unless such regulations have been complied with. The financial officers of the city, uniformly, have refused to pay salaries without the certificate of a civil service commissioner. It is not required by the civil service rules that accounts should be presented to the commission for certification.

There has been no important increase or diminution of the number of persons employed in the civil service of the city as compared with previous years.

It is the opinion of the commission that the civil service law has had but little effect upon appointments and promotions. The character and efficiency of the men seeking positions has always been so satisfactory that no radical improvement could be effected by the civil service law. The rules, however, have unquestionably had a most beneficial effect upon the appointing officers in the fire department. The commission was for a long time met with persistent attempts to evade the law in this department. A thorough investigation was made and everything brought strictly within the rules. This fire commission has been superseded and the present commissioners coöperate with the civil service commissioners in carrying out the provisions of the law in every way. There has never been any difficulty with the police department and the present commission has had nothing to do with the police board, with the exception of the usual certification of pay-rolls.

Finally, we beg to report, as we have heretofore, that with the exception noted above, the city officials have coöperated with us in our efforts to administer the law properly, and in our opinion the law has largely effected its object in eliminating partisan and political influence in appointments to positions in the municipal civil service.

Respectfully submitted.

GLOVERSVILLE, N. Y., January 7, 1903

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.— In pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, and in pursuance of the request of the State Civil Service Commission, in its letter to the secretary of this commission dated December 22, 1902, we, the undersigned, the municipal civil service commission of the city of Gloversville, N. Y., do respectfully report as to the matters requested in said letter and in the order therein mentioned, as follows:

1 Nicholas M. Banker, president (lawyer), appointed about six years ago; Edward Brown, secretary (glovemaker), appointed January 13, 1902, and James G. Belden (bookkeeper), appointed February, 1902, constitute the municipal civil service commission of the city of Gloversville, N. Y., and they receive no compensation except $10 for each examination held. The secretary, Mr. Edward Brown, receives $1 each week for certifying the pay-rolls of said city.

2 The said municipal civil service commission has no employees.

3 Said commission has held four meetings, or examinations, during the year 1902.

4 In answering question four in your letter we beg to say that, in pursuance of the statute and the rules of this commission, there are in the unclassified service of said city 61 persons.

5 There are 107 persons in the classified service, as follows:

Exempt class, none.

Competitive class, 11.

Non-competitive class, 17.

Labor class, 79.

6 Four examinations during the year 1902 were held, as follows:

Plumbing inspector, 2 passed, 2 failed.

Janitor, 1 passed; but 1 trying said examination.

Two examinations for street superintendent were held; at the first examination 1 passed and 3 failed; at the second examination 2 passed and 2 failed.

7 No non-competitive examinations have been held during the year.

8 Eighty appointments have been made, as follows:

To exempt positions, none.

To competitive positions, 1.

To non-competitive positions, none.

To labor positions, 79.

9, 10, 11, 12 There have been no removals, resignations, transfers or promotions during the year.

13 There were no exceptions from examination under the provisions of section 14, paragraph 2, of the civil service law.

14 The provisions of the law giving preference to veterans have been strictly complied with.

15 The provision of the law regarding certification of pay-rolls is strictly complied with. Pay-rolls are reviewed and certified by the secretary of the commission, Mr. Edward Brown.

16 The provisions regarding the registration of laborers and certifications from the list have been strictly complied with.

17 The commission has a complete roster of all city employees, showing names, titles of positions, dates of appointment and salaries.

18 The financial officers of the city require the certificate of the commission upon all pay-rolls.

19 There has been no important change in the number of persons employed in the civil service of the city during the past year as compared with the previous year.

20 The application of the civil service law to the appointments and promotions has a tendency to raise the standard of the character and ability of the persons appointed, thus creating a more efficient force in the employment of the city and a higher standard of the work performed.

21 The appointing officers have been more careful, and the effect of the law upon our police and fire departments has been such that our police department and fire department are all that could be desired.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

20 The civil service has been valuable in making appointments, as it secures more competent persons and takes appointments out of politics.

21 Appointing officers in this city refer entirely to the civil service rules. The examination of the police department is severe, and it has the effect of getting efficient men. Our fire department has up to this time been volunteer, and the few appointments already made in this department is no test.

Respectfully submitted.

Ithaca

ITHACA, N. Y., January 14, 1903

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.— I have the honor to report as follows concerning the acts of the municipal civil service commission of Ithaca during the past year, and also to answer the questions contained in your letter of inquiry dated December 22, 1902:

First, I would say that the administration of the city government during the past year has been carried on in accordance with the spirit of the civil service law, and of its regulations for this city. In a town no larger than Ithaca not many changes are likely to occur in any year in which there is not a change of officers by election. Support has been given to the requirements of the commission by the various officers of the government as in previous years.

In answer to your questions I would give the following replies, numbered to correspond with the inquiries:

1 The commissioners are George P. Bristol, teacher, appointed in 1897; Charles E. Treman, merchant, appointed in 1900; Clinton L. Vivian, architect, appointed in 1900. Commissioners receive no salary.

2 The only employee is the secretary, who serves without pay. Present secretary, Arthur G. Marion, appointed in 1901.

3 Two meetings have been held during the year.

4 There are fifty persons in the unclassified service.

5 There are three persons in the exempt class and sixteen in the competitive class. In the labor class there are thirty-two at present. Number varies with season; has been as high as 100.

6 There has been one competitive examination for engineer and fireman at pumping station. Passed in such examination, three; failed, one.

7 There have been no non-competitive examinations.

8 Appointments:

To exempt positions, none.

To competitive positions, one.

To non-competitive positions, none.

To labor positions, about 100.

9 There have been no removals.

10 There has been one resignation in the competitive class.

11 There have been no transfers.

12 There have been no promotions.

13 There have been no exceptions from examination.

14 (Question: Have the provisions of the law giving preference to veterans been strictly complied with?) There has been no occasion for application.

15 The provision of the law regarding certification of pay-rolls and accounts has been strictly complied with. Pay-rolls and accounts are reviewed and certified to by the secretary of the commission.

16 The provisions of the law regarding the registration of laborers and certifications from the list have been strictly complied with.

17 The commission has a complete roster of all city employees, showing names, titles of positions, dates of appointments, and salaries.

19 There has been no important increase or diminution of the number of persons employed in the civil service of the city as compared with 1901.

20 (Question: Opinion of the commission upon the effect of the application of the civil service law to appointments and promotions, as to the character and efficiency of the persons appointed?) Have had no opportunity during the year to make observation.

21 The law has worked uniformly well in the case of the police department. It is not applicable to the fire department of Ithaca.

Respectfully submitted.

Municipal Civil Service Commission

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., January 2, 1903

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.—We, the undersigned, Orsino E. Jones and George T. Armstrong, municipal civil service commissioners of the city of Jamestown, N. Y., respectfully submit the following annual report, as required by chapter 370 of the laws of 1899, together with the official roster of the classified service of the said city, also required by the aforesaid law.

The commission is composed of Orsino E. Jones, real estate, appointed April 11, 1898. and George T. Armstrong, attorney, appointed April 16, 1900.

Daniel H. Post, one of the commissioners during the past four years, resigned December 30, 1902.

Clement B. Jones, clerk of the city of Jamestown, occupies the position of secretary of this commission at an annual salary of $60. The compensation of each commissioner is $5 per day or fraction thereof, when employed in holding examinations, meetings or any necessary civil service duties.

We have since the filing of the last annual report held eighty-eight meetings.

The unclassified service of the city is composed of 225 persons, of which 27 are elective officers, 26 appointed officers or heads of departments, 72 election officers, and 120 employed as superintendents, principals and teachers in the educational departments of the union free school district.

The classified service of the city is constituted as follows:

(a) Exempt class, none.
(b) Competitive class, 60.
(c) Non-competitive class, 1.
(d) Labor class, 202.

Since filing the last annual report, we have held nine competitive examinations for the following named positions:

	Passed.	Failed.
Police	8	2
Assistant city engineer	1	0
Fireman of boilers	8	0
Dynamo tender and engineer	1	1
Paving inspector	2	4

One non-competitive examination was held for the position of police to meet an emergency. The candidate passed and subsequently within one month also passed in competitive examination.

Appointments made during the past year from the eligible lists were:

(a) To exempt positions, none.
(b) To competitive positions, 12.
(c) To non-competitive positions, 1.
(d) To labor positions, 150.

There have been no removals, transfers or promotions in any class, nor have there been any exemptions from examinations. Three resignations in the competitive class have been filed and accepted.

The provisions of the civil service law relative to preference of veterans have been strictly complied with in every branch of the service, as also the provision regarding the registration and certification of eligibles from the labor list. The provision of law relative to the certification of pay-rolls has been complied with, the members of the commission reviewing and certifying to each roll personally.

The financial officers of the city require that this commission properly certify all pay-rolls of persons in the classified service but do not require our certification of any accounts.

There has been no important increase or diminution in the number of persons employed in the civil service of this city as compared with 1901. Such new positions as may have been created are the result of natural growth.

Since the civil service law first became effective and operative in this city, we believe that each year's output of employees shows a decided improvement over those of preceding years, both as to character and efficiency, and we attribute the same in a large degree to the fact that the law and the advantages to be derived therefrom are becoming better known, and as a consequence the better class of labor only makes application for admission to examination. It has always been the practice of this commission to inquire into the habits, experience and previous employment of all applicants before approving applications for examinations, and we believe that a good record in these is as necessary as a good standing in a mental examination.

About two years ago this commission promulgated some regulations, in compliance with the civil service rules for this city, by which the physical as well as the mental requirements of all applicants in the police and paid fire departments were raised to a certain standard. The effect of this is now to be seen, and we believe that it can be truly said that the present police force presents a very good appearance and are thoroughly conversant with the duties of their department. We require all applicants in the police and fire departments to successfully undergo a thorough physical examination, conducted by a physician employed by us and in the presence of the commission, before they are admitted to the mental examination, and we have on several occasions found and excluded persons who were apparently physically sound but upon examination physically showed such defects that had a strict physical examination been omitted heir successful passing the mental examination and subsequent appointment would have been an injury to the department.

We believe that the police and fire departments are of such importance, they being in a sense the guardians of life and property of every community, that the most strenuous application of the civil service rules should be applied and govern them, and that only temperate and competent men should be employed in these departments.

Respectfully submitted.

Johnstown

JOHNSTOWN, N. Y., January 14, 1903

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.— The undersigned, the civil service commissioners of the city of Johnstown, pursuant to the requirements of section 10 of chapter 370 of the laws of 1899 and your communication of December 22, 1902, do respectfully report:

1 That the names and occupations of the commissioners are as follows: William T. Briggs, manufacturer of gloves and mittens; Charles B. Mosher, physician; Harwood Dudley, lawyer; all appointed January 1, 1900. The commissioners receive no salaries.

2 The only employees of the commission is as follows: John M. Russell, clerk, appointed September 27, 1901; salary $5 per month.

3 The commission has held one meeting during the year.

4 The number of persons in the unclassified service is 35, which includes all the elective officers of the city.

5 There are no persons in the exempt class, 14 in the competitive class, 25 in the labor class and none in the non-competitive class.

6 There were no competitive examinations during the year.

7 There were no non-competitive examinations during the year.

8 There were no appointments made during the year in any class (except the commissioners understood, but have received no notice, that a janitor has been appointed for the city building, for which position there is no eligible list, no examination having been held).

9 There have been no removals in any class.

10 There have been no resignations in any class.

11 There have been no transfers in any class.

12 There have been no promotions in any class.

13 There have been no exceptions from examination, except the janitor above mentioned, for which position, we are informed, a request for an examination is to be made.

14 The commission does not know of any veterans upon the eligible list or any applications made by veterans for positions, and therefore the law has been very stricly complied with.

15 We believe the provision of the law regarding certification of pay-rolls and accounts has been strictly complied with. The pay-rolls and accounts are reviewed and certified by the clerk of the board.

16 The provision of the law regarding the registration of laborers and certifications from the labor list has been strictly complied with.

17 The commission has a complete roster of all city employees, showing names, titles of positions, dates of appointments and salaries, except laborers temporarily employed who have not applied for registration, and except employees of the board of education.

18 The financial officers of the city require the certificate of the commission upon all pay-rolls.

19 There has been no important increase or diminution of the number of persons employed in the civil service of the city compared with 1901. There has been no change.

20 In the opinion of the commission the application of the civil service law to appointments and promotions as to the character and efficiency of the persons appointed has very little effect.

21 In the opinion of the commission the effect upon the appointing officer is slight. They naturally feel the necessity of appointing the best man for the position and are constrained to appoint one of the persons upon the eligible list. So far as we can state, it has had no effect upon appointments in the police and fire departments, as there have been no changes in the past year in the police department, and our fire department is voluntary with the exception of a driver of the hose wagon.

All of which is very respectfully submitted.

Little Falls

LITTLE FALLS, N. Y., January 12, 1903

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.— The undersigned, the civil service commission of the city of Little Falls, N. Y., pursuant to section 10 of the civil service law, chapter 370, laws of 1899, and in accordance with your request of December 22, 1902, respectfully submits the following, its report for the year ending January 1, 1903.

During the past year the civil service law and rules and regulations thereunder have been and are administered in a proper manner in this city, and the results of their administration have been satisfactory. The matter referred to in our report to your Commission dated January 16, 1902, relative to the jurisdiction of this board over employees of the school board of this city was finally settled and adjudicated in a proceeding in the Supreme Court of the state of New York, brought by an employee of the said school board against the city treasurer of the city of Little Falls, N. Y., and in which proceeding said court held that such employees were not city employees within the meaning of the civil service law, and not subject to the provisions of the same.

Pursuant to the request contained in your letter of December 22, 1902, we have endeavored to make a general report of the operation of the civil service laws in this city, and to answer your questions relative thereto, which answers are as follows:

1 Commissioners:

Norman D. Olmstead, publisher and editor, appointed 1899, salary $50.

R. F. Livingston, attorney-at-law, appointed 1900, salary $50.

Frank H. Shall, attorney-at-law, appointed 1901, salary $50.

2 Employees of commission:

None, except the city clerk of the city of Little Falls, who is supposed to act as clerk to this commission.

3 Number of meetings held by commission during the year: Forty-two.

4 Number of persons in the unclassified service:

Sixty-two.

5 Number of persons in exempt class, 1; competitive, 17; r competitive, 6; labor, not known as the number employed chan from day to day, about 75.

Paving inspector	3
Fireman and driver	2
Chainman	7
Bookkeeper	5
Sidewalk inspector	2
Patrolman	3

7 Provisional examinations were held for the position waste water inspector, in which four passed; none failed.

8 Number of appointments:

To exempt positions, 1.

To competitive positions, 12.

To competitive positions (provisional), 4.

To labor positions (see answer to question No. 5).

9 Number of removals in all classes: None.

10 Number of resignations: Three, all in competitive clas

14 The provisions of the law giving preference to veter have been strictly complied with.

15 The provision of the law regarding certification of rolls and accounts has been strictly complied with. Pay-r and accounts are reviewed and certified by the clerk of the mission for the commission by direction and under the superision of the commissioners.

16 The provision of the law regarding the registration of borers and certifications from the list has been strictly comied with.

17 The commission has a complete roster of all city em-oyees, showing names, titles of positions, dates of appointment d salaries.

18 The financial officers of the city require the certificate of e commission upon all pay-rolls and accounts.

19 There has been no important increase or diminution of e number of persons employed in the civil service of the city compared with 1901.

20 The character and efficiency of the persons appointed and w in the city employment are of the first grade, and the city ver had a better qualified force, and an entire absence of olitical pull and dictation in the appointment of employees is ry noticeable, which the undersigned believe to be due to a eat extent to the proper application and execution of the civil rvice law in this city.

21 In our opinion the same tends to force a better line of ndidates for office and destroys favoritism. In the police and e departments the application of the law has resulted in the ppointment of a good man in every case.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Lockport

LOCKPORT, N. Y., December 24, 1902

the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.—We beg to acknowledge receipt of your favor of twenty-second instant, and in reply thereto will take up subjects as numbered in that communication.

1 The names of the gentlemen composing the local municipal civil service commission, as appointed, are: William W. Storrs, William W. Brim and George W. Lyons. Messrs. Storrs and Brim are by profession attorneys at law, and Mr. Lyons is foreman in the Holly Manufacturing Company of this city. They were appointed January 1, 1901, and serve without salary. After such appointment, and about the first of this year, Mr. Storrs tendered his resignation as such commissioner, which was accepted, and no person has been appointed to fill the vacancy thus created.

2 There is but one person employed by the commissiou, viz: David B. Mecorney, secretary. Date of appointment, January 1, 1901; salary, $250 per year.

3 The commission has held but two meetings during the year 1902. During a part of the year 1901 it was customary for the commission to meet once a month; but it was found unnecessary to do this, as at a great many meetings absolutely no business was to be transacted, and on November 11, 1901, it was moved and carried that the meeting adjourn subject to the call of the secretary.

4 There are 43 persons in the unclassified service of the city of Lockport.

5 In the exempt class there are 24 persons; in the competitive class there are 47 persons; in the non-competitive class there are 31 persons, and in the labor class we have enrolled the names of 193 persons.

6 There has been but one competitive examination held during the year 1902, which was for the position of third engineer of water works. Seven persons took this examination, all of whom passed, with the exception of one.

7 But one non-competitive examination has been held, which was for the positions of chief engineer, first and second assistant engineers of the fire department. There was one applicant for each position, and each person passed.

Appointments during the year:

To competitive positions, 1.

To non-competitive positions, 3.

Number of removals in all classes, none.

0 But one resignation has been had, and that was from the npetitive class.

1 Number of transfers in all classes, none.

2 Number of promotions in all classes, none.

3 List of exceptions from examination with reasons for the ne, none.

4 (Have the provisions of the law giving preference to vet- ns been strictly complied with?) We believe that the law ative to the preference of veterans has been complied with all respects.

5 (Has the provision of the law regarding certification of -rolls and accounts been strictly complied with, and if so whom are the pay-rolls and accounts reviewed and certified?) s, the pay-rolls and accounts have been reviewed and certified the secretary of the municipal civil service commission.

6 All laborers employed by the city have been registered, l, except in emergencies, no other laborers have been em- yed. At times, as in the case of unusually large snow rms, when men were required for immediate work in shovel- snow from crosswalks, etc., unregistered laborers have been ployed, but as a rule all laborers have been duly registered.

7 (Has the commission a complete roster of all city em- yees, showing names, titles of positions, dates of appoint- nt and salaries?) Yes, with the exception of the exempt ss. This class includes in our city only special superin- dents of streets who serve without salary. In our rules exempt class contains other positions, but as a matter of t no position in this class, other than that above named, sts in our city government. The mayor, of course, has the right to appoint special police for short terms, but in our experience this has been done but once.

18 (Do the financial officers of the city require the certificate of the commission upon all pay-rolls and accounts?) Yes.

19 The number of persons in the civil service of the city remains the same as in the year 1901.

20 (Opinion of the commission upon the effect of the application of the civil service law to appointments and promotions, as to character and efficiency of the persons appointed.) This is rather a difficult matter upon which to express an opinion. In the case of some positions, for instance engineers, while there is no question that the men employed under the civil service are not competent, yet the fact remains that other men, in our opinion fully as competent as the appointees, were unable to pass the examinations owing to their being unfamiliar with the theoretical part of the business. In other positions, as in cases where there is considerable clerical work to be done, we believe that on the whole the city gets better service under the civil service.

21 Appointments have of course been made under the civil service rules for our city, and we believe that under these rules some persons have been appointed to positions that otherwise would not have been. There have been no vacancies in and no appointments to positions in the police department, and in the fire department there have been but three persons examined for three positions, upon non-competitive examinations.

Respectfully submitted.

10 There has been one resignation in the competitive class.

12 There have been no promotions.

13 W. R. Hill and David R. Lee, respectively consulting engineer and expert engineer, were excepted from examination. They were employed in the construction of the water-works, were non-residents and were under contract under the titles above mentioned.

14 Veterans have been given the preference strictly within the law.

15 The provision of the law regarding certification of pay-rolls and accounts has been strictly complied with. The pay-rolls and accounts are reviewed by the secretary and approved, after such certification, by the president of the commission.

16 No laborers have been employed or paid, except they filed their applications with the commission and the rolls approved by the president.

17 The commission has a complete roster of all city employees, showing names, titles of positions, dates of appointment and salary.

18 The financial officers of the city require the certification of the commission upon all pay-rolls and accounts.

19 Compared with 1901, there is no important increase or diminution of the number of persons employed in the civil service.

20 The commission is of the opinion that the application of the civil service law in the appointments has good effect and that the character and efficiency of the persons appointed has been increased.

21 The opinion of the commission is that the troubles of the appointing officers have been lessened, especially in the police department, where there is no removal, except by death, resignation or cause.

By order of the commission.

Mount Vernon

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., January 30, 1903

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.— Section 10, chapter 370 of the Laws of 1899, requires an annual report to the civil service commission of this state, therefore it is our duty to comply therewith, and we respectfully submit the following history of our work for year ending January 15, 1903, trusting same may not only be accepted approvingly, but that any suggestions may be received kindly, and tend to the betterment of civil service conditions throughout the state.

We presume it will please you and serve your purpose best if we answer questions contained in yours of December 22, 1902, seriatim; such, therefore, we shall endeavor to do, taking the liberty of accompanying our answers with notations.

Question 1 (Names of commissioners, etc.) John C. McNeilly, attorney-at-law, appointed July, 1900, salary, nothing; Harry L. Lovell, fire insurance business, appointed November 19, 1900, salary nothing; August C. Thoma, artist, appointed November 1902, salary nothing.

Question 2 (Employees of commission.) Edward J. Brearton, secretary, banking, appointed October, 1896, salary $5 per meeting.

During the year former president E. M. Davis resigned, and John C. McNeilly, commissioner, was elected president, and August C. Thomas was appointed commissioner to complete board.

Relative to the question of salary we might state that the commissioners received a compensation for their services, but lately salary has been denied them. We hold that salary should be furnished for the service rendered. We have sought to have our salary restored, but so far have failed. We think it would be wise for the State Civil Service Commission to see to it that all civil service commissioners receive compensation for services rendered.

Question 3 Fifty-six meetings of the commission held during the year. Full board and secretary were present at 70 per cent. of these meetings, which occupied an average of two hours time (except when examinations were held). The percentage of attendance would be far higher were it not that Commissioner Davis resigned and his successor had not been appointed for some time, and also owing to the sickness of Commissioner McNeilly.

Question 4 Fifty-one persons in the unclassified service.

Question 5 Number of persons in exempt class, 3.
Number of persons in competitive class, 84.
Number of persons in non-competitive class, none.
Number of persons in labor class, 143.

Whilst mention is made here of the labor class, we would respectfully state that there are times, for instance, sudden heavy falls of snow, unforeseen contingencies, etc., when it was incumbent upon the commissioner of public works to hurriedly employ laborers; in such cases we did not hesitate to certify pay-rolls having abundant evidence that the bills were perfectly true.

Relative to examinations for school janitors there has been more or less friction with the board of education, and in the near future this board intends to divide the position of janitors into grades such as we may think proper, and thereby better results may be obtained. We have discovered in our examinations of janitors' papers a great deficiency in knowledge of very important matters, particularly relative to a janitor's duty in case fire was discovered in the school house; we, therefore, deemed it wise to petition the board of aldermen to place fire-alarm boxes in all schools. The outcome of our petition is practically nil.

Question 6 Number of competitive examinations held during the year, nine, as follows:

Positions	No. appeared	No. passed	No. failed
ineer for chemical engine.....	1	1	.....
neer for steamer, fire depart-ent.....	3	1	2
olman.....	9	5	4
tor (school).....	14	4	10
neer steam road roller.....	2	2	.....
tary officer.....	1	1	.....

estion 8 Number of appointments during the year:

(a) To exempt positions, 2.

(b) To competitive positions, 14.

(c) To non-competitive positions, 1.

(d) To labor positions, 9.

estion 9 Removals in all classes: None.

estion 10 Resignations: One in competitive class, 5 in class.

estion 11 Transfers in all classes: None.

estion 12 Promotions in all classes: None.

estion 13 Exceptions from examination under paragraph 2 tion 14 of the civil service law: None.

estion 14 The provisions of the law giving preference to ans have been strictly complied with.

estion 15 The provisions of the law regarding certification y-rolls and accounts have been strictly complied with. same are reviewed by board and certified by the secretary board's authority.

estion 16 The provisions of the law regarding the regis- on of laborers and certifications from the list have been ly complied with.

estion 17 The commission has a complete roster of all city oyees, showing names, titles of positions, dates of appoint- and salaries.

Question 18 The financial officers of the city require the certificate of the commission upon all pay-rolls and accounts.

Question 19 There has been a decrease, but not important, in the number of persons employed in the civil service of the city as compared with 1901. The decrease is owing to the lack of public work, and consequently the number employed is less.

Question 20 Concerning promotions, we cannot give an opinion as to the effect of the application of the civil service law, as promotions have not come within our province. Relative to appointments, we believe the character and efficiency of the persons appointed are highly superior to what they would be if the civil service rules were not enforced.

Question 21 We deem effect on appointing officers to be most beneficial; generally highest eligible on list is selected. The appointees in the police department, as far as we can judge, are doing their work well, and each of them passed very creditable civil service examinations. In the fire department only engineer of steamer came under our rules, and therefore we can scarcely say anything relative to the effect of civil service rules upon the department.

Trusting report will be satisfactory, and sincerely expressing regret for our tardiness, we remain,

Most respectfully,

21 The opinion of this commission is that appointing officers are relieved from much embarrassment because free from all political pressure, and consequently good results follow in making appointments. It has secured better appointments in the police and fire departments.

Respectfully submitted.

New Rochelle

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., January 24, 1903

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.— Pursuant to the provisions of section 10 of chapter 370 of the laws of 1899, and in compliance with the request contained in your letter of December 22, 1902, the undersigned, constituting the municipal civil service commission of the city of New Rochelle, submit this, their regular annual report for the year 1902.

A copy of the roster of the classified service of the city of New Rochelle is annexed hereto.

The following answers are numbered to correspond with the questions propounded in your letter of December 22, 1902:

1 The names, occupations and dates of appointment of the commissioners are as follows:

R. Condit Eddy, physician; appointed January 23, 1902.
Joseph T. Brown, Jr., lawyer; appointed January 23, 1902.
Josiah M. LeCount, bookkeeper; appointed January 23, 1902.

Up to the present no salary has been awarded these commissioners, but a resolution to that end is now in the hands of the common council of this city.

2 The only employee of the commission is William C. Kind, secretary, appointed March 25, 1902, who receives a salary of $300 per annum, payable monthly.

3 The commission has held during the year forty meetings, including those held for examinations.

4 There are sixty-two persons in the unclassified service.

5 There are 3 persons in the exempt class; 38 in the competitive class; 3 in the non-competitive class, and 357 in the labor class. The number stated in the labor class includes all applicants who are duly registered, only a small proportion of whom are at present in the city service, the number actually employed varying very much according to the requirements of the officers or persons appointing them.

6 During the year 15 competitive examinations have been held. The titles of positions and the number passed and failed in each examination are as follows:

Positions	Passed	Failed
Police department:
Patrolmen	11	4
Engineering department:
Assistant engineer	1	....
Chainman	1	2
Levelers	1	2
Sewer department:
Assistant engineer	1	....
Inspector of sewers	3	3
Foreman of disposal works	1	3
Superintendent of sewer department	2	1
Street department:
Foreman	3	3

Positions	Passed	Failed
Fire department:
Firemen	3	2
Board of education:
Truant officer	9	4
Janitor of city building.	5	1
Assistant janitor	3	. . . .
Health department:
Inspector	1	. . . .
Health officer	1	. . . .

7 During the year 2 non-competitive examinations were held for the following positions:

Mayor's first clerk; secretary of health department.

8 Number of appointments:

(a) To exempt positions, 3.

(b) To competitive positions, 13; also temporary appointments, 3.

(c) To non-competitive positions, 2.

(d) To labor positions — In these positions men are employed from day to day as occasion requires, and are appointed and reappointed from the labor list in such a manner that the number of appointments cannot be accurately stated.

9 Number of removals: None.

10 Number of resignations:

In exempt class, 1.

In competitive class, 4.

11 Number of transfers, 2.

12 Number of promotions, 1.

13 There have been no exceptions from examinations, excepting that in the case of the examination for assistant engineer in the sewer department; the requirement of the rules of this commission, as to actual residence within the city of New Rochelle, was specially suspended, owing to the fact that the position required special qualifications of a professional character, and no application for the position had been filed with the board up to two days prior to the day for which the examination had been noticed.

14 The requirement of the law giving preference to veterans has been strictly complied with.

15 The provisions of the law regarding the certification of pay-rolls and accounts have been strictly complied with. The pay-rolls and accounts are carefully examined by the commissioners, and, when approved, the clerk is, by resolution, ordered to certify to them in the name of the commission.

16 The registration of laborers and certifications from the labor list have been followed in the manner provided by law.

17 The commission has a complete roster of all city employees, showing names, titles of positions, dates of appointments and salaries, with the exception of the names of the superintendents, principals and teachers employed by the board of education, who are in the unclassified service, and whose names have never been furnished to this commission.

18 The financial officers of the city require the certificate of this commission upon all pay-rolls.

20 The commission has at all times insisted upon a rigid application of the civil service law, and takes pleasure in expressing the opinion that the character and efficiency of the public service in the city of New Rochelle has been greatly benefited and improved thereby. The greatest improvement has been marked in such positions as require a greater or less degree of technical knowledge or experience, such as the positions in the city engineer's and sewer departments, and those of foremen and inspectors in the various departments. We have at times experienced some difficulty in securing a strict compliance with the law, with respect to the labor class, despite the fact that we have usually had the coöperation of the officers employing the laborers. Owing to the varying demand for day laborers, it becomes necessary in the interest of economical administration that men in this class should be employed and laid off as occasion requires. If the appointing officer is compelled whenever he finds that he requires more laborers to make a formal requisition upon the commission and to give preference in appointment according to the date of the laborer's application, he frequently finds it necessary to wait an undue amount of time for his men and to select those who are not as efficient for the particular service required as others who have been subsequently registered.

This commission is of the opinion that the public service, as regards the labor class, in our city at least, would be more efficient if the appointing officer were allowed at any time to select such laborers as he may require from men who present to him proper evidence in the form of a card or certificate signed by the commission showing that they are duly qualified laborers.

The opportunities for using men in this class for partisan purposes are small, and, in view of the fact that the law does not require that they should pass a competitive examination, the appointing officer should have some latitude in the selection and discharge of such men.

21 During the administration of this commission there has been but one appointment in the police department and one in the fire department. The latter is largely made up of voluntary organizations, over which this commission has no control.

We are of the opinion that the civil service law is respected by our appointing officers, and that they find it a very effective barrier against the importunities of politicians seeking appointment for their favorites.

Respectfully submitted.

WILLIAM C. KIND, Secretary

New York

NEW YORK, January 15, 1903

To the State Civil Service Commission, Albany, New York:

GENTLEMEN.— In compliance with the provisions of the civil service law (chapter 370 of the laws of 1899) the municipal commission of the city of New York submits its report of the manner in which such law and rules and regulations established thereunder have been and are administered and the results of their administration in said city.

On January 1, 1902, the mayor appointed as members of the municipal civil service commission: Willis L. Ogden, William N. Dykman, Alexander T. Mason, Theodore M. Banta, William A. Perrine, Nelson S. Spencer, Cornelius Vanderbilt.

They were the first of the appointees of the new administration of the municipal government sworn into office, and this was done because the instant action of the commission was necessary to the proper organization of certain departments of the city newly created under the revised charter.

The municipal civil service commission held its first meeting on January 1, 1902, Mr. Willis L. Ogden being chosen as president. The resignation of Mr. Lee Phillips, as secretary, was received and accepted and Mr. George McAneny was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Mr. George McAneny, owing to ill health, was forced to resign his position as secretary on June 9, 1902.

Mr. S. William Briscoe, the chief clerk of the commission, was transferred to the position of secretary.

We append hereto a table giving the names, occupations, dates of appointment and salaries of the civil service commissioners. In this same table also we furnish the names, titles or positions, dates of appointment and salaries of the employees of the commission.

At the first meeting of the commission resolutions were passed amending the classification of positions to accord with the provisions of the revised charter. Many of the city departments were new and therefore necessarily without subordinate employees, and as the offices were new it became the function of the civil service commission to supply eligible lists from which selections could be made to fill these vacancies.

Upon an examination of the eligible lists in force as the result of examinations held prior to 1902, it was found that many of them were either practically exhausted or else had been in force for such a length of time that they were substantially useless. As a result it became necessary to hold examinations for many of the positions included in the competitive class.

A list was made of all eligible lists in force and sent to all the departments with a circular letter requesting the head of the department to advise the commission as to what examinations would be required by his department. This was done in order that the commission might know what examinations were most needed and should be first prepared. Numerous requests were received from the various departments and every effort was made to meet the needs promptly. In many cases, however, delay was unavoidable owing to the initial delay of fifteen days in advertising the examination and for the further reasons that examinations cannot all be held on one day and the dates of holding them must be distributed in such manner as to satisfy first the more pressing demands. It is frequently the case that an examination will be scheduled for every day for a month in advance. To hold examinations more frequently would require a large addition to the examining force. The number of applications has also been very numerous. In the judgment of the commission it was better that a department should suffer a temporary inconvenience than that the work should be ill done. By referring to tables Nos. 2 and 3 of this report it will be observed that the time of the commission has been taxed to its fullest extent, and on the average an examination has been held every day in the month, and in some cases two or more examinations have been held on the same day.

During the year 53 meetings have been held. Regular weekly meetings have been held throughout the year on fixed days of the week. For the purpose of facilitating the business of the commission the following committees were appointed:

Law committee, committee on transfers, committee on reinstatements, labor committee, pay-roll committee, committee on temporary appointments, committee on non-competitive examinations, committee on appeals, committee on examinations.

The committees consider all matters relative to their respective duties and make reports and recommendations to the commission.

An examination of the records showed that there were on file thousands of applications to enter examinations which might never take place, and these unnecessarily encumbered the files and records. The system of receiving applications for any and all positions was abolished and a regulation established providing for the filing of applications only for such examinations as were scheduled to take place. This new system of filing applications has considerably reduced the labor and expense connected with their receipt.

A regulation has been established governing the system of advertising examinations which provides as follows:

"Public notice will be given of all competitive examinations at least two weeks in advance of the date upon which the receipt of applications for any scheduled examination will close.

"Persons desiring application blanks may obtain the same by applying to the office of the commission, either in person or in writing, stating in each case the position or positions for which they wish to apply.

"All notices of examination will be posted and advertised. Such notices will state the scope of the examination, but for more general information application should be made at the office of the commission."

Notices of all examinations are posted in the office of the commission, the city hall, Manhattan, the borough hall, Brooklyn, and the municipal building, Brooklyn, and published in the City Record and sent to all the daily papers. Examinations of a scientific or technical character are published in the technical journals devoted to that particular trade or profession for which the particular examination is held. It has been found that through this efficient system of advertising the number of applicants has largely increased, thus affording a wider scope of selection and obtaining for the city a higher and more intelligent class of competitors.

A plan has also been put into operation of holding examinations at fixed periods of the year, so far as practicable, for the purpose of providing adequate lists in advance of the actual needs and also to give the public the satisfaction of knowing in advance when to expect an examination for certain positions. Under the previous system of holding examinations in which the number of candidates was in excess of the capacity of the examination room, the practice was to examine only such number at one time as could be conveniently accommodated and to prepare a list as a result of an examination held on several days. This practice necessitated the preparation and rating of new sets of examination papers for each section with inevitable great delay in the establishment of eligible lists. This commission has held very important examinations at which there were examined at one time and on the same day as many as 2,000 candidates. The practice of conducting examinations in sections has been substantially abolished and the system of examining all candidates for a stated position at the same time and on the same day has been substituted in its stead.

Owing to the larger number of applicants for examination and to increase the efficiency of the service it became necessary to employ additional examiners who would give their whole time to the work of the commission and also to reduce the number of examiners on the "session" basis (who are paid $10 per session of seven hours) and place them upon a salaried basis. While the employment of examiners at the "session" rate has not been wholly abolished, it has been curtailed, as will be seen by table No. 24 of this report. In 1902 approximately $20,000 was appropriated for the employment of examiners at the "session" rate, while for the year 1903 $7,500 was asked for the employment of "session" examiners, and request was made for authority to employ one additional examiner at $3,000, three at $2,400 and two at $1,200. The examiners who were formerly employed under the "session" basis were given the opportunity of accepting employment under the salary basis at $2,400 or continuing on the "session" basis and receiving such employment as might be assigned to them from time to time as the needs of the service required. Four of the examiners accepted the offer of employment on the salary basis, but the other candidates declined, preferring to continue employment under the "session" basis for the reason that they had outside employment which they could not afford to abandon. The rating of papers by examiners who can give their entire time to the work of the commission has produced most satisfactory results.

A regulation has been adopted that in all examinations where a candidate fails to pass on his technical or principal paper, his remaining papers are not rated, saving much unnecessary labor and cost.

Under the improvements made and contemplated the commission feels assured that the preparation of efficient eligible lists will be more quickly established. During the year 1902 examinations were held for 77 different positions for original appointment in the competitive class. 15,980 candidates have been examined for various positions. This includes the rating during 1902 of papers of candidates who participated in examinations held prior to that date. Three thousand three hundred and sixty-four persons were examined physically. Of this number 1,639 were examined physically for patrolman but failed to pass the examination and therefore did not enter the mental examination.

Appended to this report is a statistical table, No. 9, showing the number of persons applying, number of applicants absent, withdrawn, failed, passed and appointed as a result of examinations and lists established during 1902.

Other tables appended will show the examinations held during 1902, which are now in the process of being rated, and of appointments made during 1902 from eligible lists established prior to that date and also from lists established of suspended employees pursuant to section 1543 of the New York charter.

We also append a table showing the character of the examination, the number of candidates, the date of examination, the date of the issuance of the list and the interval between these two dates.

When we entered upon our duties there were in the classification 482 different titles calling for separate examinations. With the co-operation of the mayor and the board of estimate and apportionment, a complete reclassification of the grading of the employees of the city departments was made, eliminating a separate classification for each department, excepting for positions included in the exempt class, and reducing the number of titles to 253, and, what is more important, requiring an equal salary for equal services. The rules governing increases in salary beyond the limit fixed for the grade were also revised, thus offering a more favorable scheme for regulating examinations for promotion according to length of service in the city. This was a labor which extended over a period of two months and occupied the entire attention of the commission beyond that which was demanded for routine administrative work. It was accomplished only after consultation with the other departments in the city and the holding of public hearings. This revised classification became operative on May 10, 1902.

We have inaugurated a system of classifying offices in the exempt class or as non-competitive only after advertisement and notice to the persons in the service affected and public hearing, at which time the arguments for and against such amendment are stenographically reported. A transcript is made of the public hearing and forwarded to the mayor and your honorable body in case favorable action is taken by the commission. The law governing promotions has been rigidly enforced, but it is at least open to discussion whether the law as at present framed tends to the efficiency of the service or the merit system.

The commission has under consideration a plan to improve the record of efficiency in use in promotion examinations. It cannot be inaugurated at once, as its success depends upon the general co-operation of every department in the city. The commission has no power to compel the observance of the suggestion in this respect by any department. No such record will be valuable unless it be continuous, and it is far from being a simple matter to devise a form which will not be so cumbrous as to be unworkable. The scheme can be put into successful operation only after careful consultation with the heads of departments.

Whenever non-competitive examinations have been held under the last paragraph of rule 38, the commission has required the department to forward to it for approval questions given in the examination and the answers thereto, and such papers were referred to the board of examiners for examination and report before being considered by the commission, and the recommendation of the board of examiners was invariably adopted. The holding of examinations of this character under the jurisdiction of the city departments has been virtually abandoned, and all such examinations are now conducted by the board of examiners of the commission.

In order to carry out the provisions of the rules governing promotion in accordance with the grades established under rule 37 on May 10, 1902, all examinations have been held for specific grades. The commission takes this opportunity to inform you, however, that under the opinion of the corporation counsel, rendered December 18, 1902, a copy of which is hereto annexed, the grades as fixed by rule 37 on May 10, 1902, can be applied only in the case of increase of salaries of the persons appointed as a result of examinations held on or subsequent to that date. Appended hereto is a table showing the results of all promotion examinations.

In the case of a transfer from one class to another, or from one grade in the competitive class to another grade in the same class, the reasons for the transfer have been set forth in the minutes and were, with but two exceptions, for the reason that the person to be transferred had passed an examination or held a place upon the eligible list in force for the position to which a transfer was to be made. The two exceptions above referred to were the transfer of a person holding the position of mason (labor class) to the position of inspector of masonry (competitive class). The person transferred was a veteran of the civil war, and the transfer was made pursuant to the provision of section 21 of the civil service law. The other case was that of a transfer in the same class from one grade to another. We were requested to make this transfer by the board of estimate and apportionment for the reason that it was desired to appoint to the position of assistant to the engineering works of the board of estimate and apportionment an experienced employee rather than resort to the eligible list for a candidate for employment.

A committee on appeals, consisting of one member of the commission in turn and two examiners, has been substituted in place of the method before used. A bare statement of facts can do little to convey to your minds the enormous amount of labor expended in consideration of these appeals. An examination of the table hereto attached showing the result of the action of the committee on appeals will give a more definite idea of the work performed. In order to regulate the making of appeals the following regulation has been established:

"No candidate for a position for which a physical examination is required who is rejected or who fails to appear on the date set, shall be again examined within nine months, unless by order of the commission. A candidate asking a new examination shall be required to submit to the commission an affidavit stating the reasons for which such examination is asked, and if such reasons be that the candidate's physical disability was temporary, the affidavit must be accompanied by a physician's certificate showing explicitly that the disability has been wholly remedied.

"A candidate who has been notified of the result of his examination may, upon personal application to the chief examiner or other person duly authorized by the commission, and on presentation of his notice, be entitled to see his papers and the ratings thereon.

"No appeal from the ratings of examiners will be considered unless the grounds on which it is based are stated specifically and in full, in writing, and unless it is presented within fifteen days after the applicant has been notified of the result of his examinations."

A careful record is kept of all persons appealing from the ratings of examiners and of appeals acted upon, to which ready reference may be made. The appeal of a candidate who held a place on the eligible list has, in a few instances, been granted, with the result that his mark has been raised, and thus his relative standing on the list has also been raised, but no such appeal has been granted unless it was shown either that an error had been made in the computation of the figures or that the candidate had not received a rating on the subject to which he was entitled. For example: Where a department has failed to furnish the commission with a full record of the candidate.

The commission has been engaged in only one litigation, viz: The case of Solomon Goldenkranz v. The Municipal Civil Service Commission to have placed in the exempt class the position of "one clerk to each coroner" in the borough of Manhattan.

Appointments made under rule 7 (former rule 34), providing for temporary employment, are referred to in table No. 15 of this report. All temporary appointments made under paragraph 1 to competitive positions in the absence of an eligible list have been immediately followed by competitive examination for the position to which temporary appointment was made. No appointment has been allowed unless such person showed that he was qualified to fill the position as a result of the competitive examination. Temporary appointments made in cases of emergency under paragraph 2 have not been frequent, but where the application of this rule has been applied the commission has not issued its approval unless it was satisfied that the emergency actually existed. No appointments have been made under the provisions of paragraph 3, rule 7. The provisions of paragraph 4, authorizing the employment of persons in private service at a compensation not exceeding $250 per annum has afforded much relief to the city departments where it has not been practicable to obtain a person to perform the work required from the eligible list in force, but the commission has had frequent requests for authority to make appointments under this section, but in no case has the commission given such authority unless it was satisfied that the provisions of this paragraph had been fully complied with. Appointments made under paragraphs 5, 6 and 7 are shown in a table in the appendix. Five appointments have been authorized under paragraph 6 (former rule 6, schedule "A," part II.), and in these cases when an appointment was found impracticable for such service of a person from an eligible list (after examination), the persons appointed residing in the locality (Pittsburgh) where the work of inspection was to be performed.

The commission has established a set of regulations pursuant to the provisions of rule 3 for the more effective execution of the civil service rules. We are preparing and will shortly have ready for distribution a manual and sample examination questions for the instruction and use of applicants, and similar in many respects to that issued by the State Civil Service Commission and by the United States civil service commission. We have inaugurated a system of issuing circular letters to candidates for positions for which there are a large number of applications, such as patrolman or fireman, giving them explicit information as to the character of the examinations and the qualifications required, and warning them against persons who may attempt to swindle them by the sale of private information. A new form of application is prescribed, a copy of which is hereto appended. All applications are carefully verified and any question raised as to the character of the applicant is investigated before the candidate is admitted to examination.

A civil roster has been kept by the commission containing the names of all persons employed in the service under jurisdiction of the civil service rules and included in the exempt class, the competitive class and the labor class, and of all changes in the service of the departments of the city. The commission has not attempted to keep a roster or to make any record of changes occurring of persons holding positions included in the non-competitive class for the reason that the changes in this class are so frequent that it would not be practicable or possible to keep a complete record from day to day. The provisions of section 10 of the civil service law requiring the certification of pay-rolls has been most carefully carried out, each pay-roll being verified with the official roster. The commission has declined to attach its certificate whenever a doubt has existed as to the regularity of the appointment, promotion or employment of the person. The comptroller of New York city has declined to pass the pay-roll, estimate or account of any person against whom this commission has entered its objection to the payment of his salary, and has in every way offered his most complete support for the carrying out of the provisions of the civil service law.

Reports of the changes in the city service have been regularly made to the commission and a full record has been kept of the same.

The provisions of the civil service law respecting veterans have been fully complied with.

Concerning the application of the law to cases of promotion, the commission has had limited opportunity to determine its effect, except in the police and fire departments. The ordinary examinations for promotion have been interfered with by the abolition of some departments and the consequent suspension of many employees holding positions therein whose names by the provisions of the New York charter were directed to be placed on a preferred eligible list for certification for reappointment, in preference to other employees who might be eligible for examination for promotion. It is the opinion of the commission that the present rules should be revised and simplified, and for this purpose the commission is preparing a revision of the rules. The law governing appointments in the police and fire departments has been in operation since 1883 and from year to year has been modified and approved. It has reached a point where the system of examination is subject to little criticism, and there is no reasonable doubt that the departments have been greatly benefited and the standard greatly improved. Candidates for the positions of patrolman and fireman are required to undergo medical, physical, mental and character examinations. At the present time more than three-quarters of the employees of these two departments are persons who have passed examinations.

The provisions of the law as to the registration and certification of persons employed in the labor class have been fully complied with. The work of the labor bureau has increased greatly in volume. In 1897, before consolidation, 3,802 applications were received for positions in the labor class, while during the year just closed we received 10,532 applications for the same positions. There are 72 positions represented in schedule G, and as there are separate lists for each borough, this involves a preparation of 360 separate and distinct eligible lists, together with additional eligible lists for the convenience of the department of water supply, gas and electricity and the aqueduct commission in the counties of Westchester, Putnam and Nassau. All candidates for positions in the labor class are required to undergo a medical examination as to their physical ability to perform the duties attached to the work for which they apply and are required to furnish certificates of character and letters of recommendation from persons for whom they have previously worked in the capacity for which they make application, setting forth their ability to perform that particular kind of work. Of the 72 positions mentioned, 20 are subject to an additional trade examination. In these examinations, which are held as heretofore in the New York trade school and the Pratt institute of Brooklyn, all theoretical questions and tests are eliminated and the tests are wholly practical. The work of conducting physical examinations has been very heavy owing to the increased demands of the departments, and during the year 6,120 persons have been examined. On account of the heavy increase in registration we have been enabled to apply a more severe test as to physical condition, and therefore greatly improve the standard of eligibles for certification to the various city departments. Under the amendment adopted by the commission in May, 1902, some 17 positions were stricken from schedule G and were incorporated with others in schedule F, the non-competitive class. These positions were principally represented in the hospital service, and the transfer has proven of undoubted benefit to the service. Eligible lists which were in force at the time of the amendment abolishing the 17 positions referred to were amalgamated with other appropriate lists of names of persons occurring thereon, being placed upon the list with which it was amalgamated in order of the date of filing application.

The abolition of a number of positions in the labor class and the amalgamation of a number of lists which were heretofore divided according to certain localities has operated to prevent evasions of the rules which, under former conditions, were made possible.

The provisions of section 1543 of the New York charter requiring the reinstatement of persons discharged by reason of lack of work, lack of appropriation or for economy in preference to certification from the eligible list have been observed and a preferred list containing 3,000 names has been in force during the year.

The commission regrets to state that a number of cases have been called to its attention, especially in the labor class, where fraud has been perpetrated by the substitution of one person for another who has been certified for appointment. To prevent this fraud we have established a system of identification of persons appointed in the service. At the time of the medical examination the age, height, weight and color of hair and eyes are all duly recorded. A copy of this identification is placed on the card of the eligibles forwarded to the applicants to be presented by them to the appointing officer when certified for appointment, and a similar card is sent to the department when the name of such person is certified, by this means insuring the appointment of the person entitled to the position. This system requires the coöperation of the heads of departments, and we believe that substitution and impersonation in the future will be to a great extent prevented.

The establishment of a non-competitive class of employees in the department of public charities and the department of correction and of Bellevue and allied hospitals and the department of health has had good results. Heretofore persons who were appointed to the minor positions in these departments were appointed without examination, the positions being included in the exempt class. Under the present system a board of examiners, nominated by the heads of the departments and approved by this commission, is required to examine all candidates making application for the positions included in the non-competitive class under a system recommended by this commission and to certify to the general qualifications of the persons examined. Regular monthly reports are forwarded by the non-competitive board of examiners to this commission.

All appointments made to positions included in the exempt lass have been made pursuant to the provisions of the civil ervice rules, and not more than one appointment has been nade to any position included in the exempt class unless a lifferent number was specified.

Whenever any violation of the law or rules has been called to the attention of the commission the complaint has been carefully investigated by a committee of the commissioners and by the character examiner and inspector, and if, after investigation, it was found that the complaint was justified the commission has taken the necessary action to immediately stop the abuse. In April, 1902, a competitive examination was held for the position of character examiner and inspector, and in June, 1902, Mr. Peter D. Byrne was appointed to fill that position. Complaints are referred to him for investigation and report, and whenever his report is of such a character that the commission deems a more rigid investigation necessary, we have availed ourselves of the powers of investigation conferred upon us by the New York charter, section 125. The commission has held two such investigations; one covering one day and the other three days and has ordered a third investigation to be held.

For your further information we herewith append statistical tables* showing in detail the transactions of the commission during the past year, as shown by the index preceding the report.

Respectfully submitted.

Niagara Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., February 7, 1903

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.— Pursuant to the requirements of the civil service law, the municipal commission of the city of Niagara Falls, herewith submits its annual report for the year 1902.

The municipal commission will endeavor to report briefly upon the special points of inquiry recently made by the State Commission, giving due prominence to the defective execution of the law in this city, that such measures may be adopted to remedy the same as may seem necessary and advisable.

The legislature of 1902 amended the charter of this city, making the municipal year to begin January 1st instead of the third Tuesday of April. This change took effect January 1, 1903.

1 On April 15, 1902, the Hon. John M. Hancock, mayor, appointed John W. Cutler, James McGraw, Jr., and Theodore L. Cheritree as municipal civil service commissioners, and designated Mr. Cheritree to act as secretary and executive officer of the commission, at a salary of $30 per month; this sum was also appropriated by the common council for that purpose. The commissioners, except the secretary, receive no salary. Mr. Cutler, the president of the board, is engaged in the real estate business; Mr. McGraw is inspector of mason construction work for the Niagara Falls power company; Mr. Cheritree is a practicing lawyer. The commission has no regular clerks or appointees. A considerable amount of clerical and letter work is regularly being done by Miss Helen L. Marzolf, stenographer in the law office of Mr. Cheritree, without charge to the city. Occasionally stenographic work of considerable amount, as, for instance, this report, has been done by special employment and the bill therefor presented by the stenographer and paid by the city. Such special or occasional work does not exceed $40 per year.

2 There have been five meetings of the municipal commission since April 15, 1902. These meetings have been called from time to time by notice from the secretary when matters of impor ance seemed to require action by the full board. The board has been inclined to throw considerable discretion in action upon ts secretary, in matters of law and rules. The routine work in obtaining substantial compliance with the rules in keeping records, certifying from eligible lists and certification of payrolls, as been entirely in the hands of the secretary, under general uthority conferred by the rules and by resolution of the board.

3 The number of persons in the unclassified service, excluding rincipals and teachers in the department of education, is sixty-ne; the number of principals and teachers is 102.

The number of persons upon the official roster in the exempt lass is 2; in the non-competitive class 3; in the competitive lass 79. Thirteen competitive examinations have been held luring the year ending January 1, 1903. This statistical nformation is more fully set forth in the copy of the official oster and the tables of the examinations, appointments, removals and resignations, hereto annexed and made a part of this report.

4 One non-competitive examination for a competitive position a the street department was held during the year under the ollowing circumstances:

For several years prior to April, 1900, two competitive positions existed in the street department called "assistant superintendents of streets"; these were in substance foreman ositions. Upon a change of administration in city affairs in 900 these positions were sought to be abolished by the common ouncil and four new ones created, called "foremen in the street epartment," or "sidewalk inspectors." A case was made by e authorities desiring the change, tending to show that these ositions were essentially distinct from that of the former assistants," with different duties requiring a different examation. This view prevailed, and the schedules were amended 1900, with the approval of the State Commission, abolishing assistants" and establishing "foremen." The "assistants" ere not considered eligible to reappointment or reinstatement the "foremen" positions under the ruling as then made. In pril, 1902, upon a change in administration the positions of "foremen" were in turn abolished and those of "assistants" reëstablished by the council. Michael P. Reagan, one of the "foremen," was retained in the service and reappointed as an "assistant." Michael Connell and Thomas Blacklock were also appointed as assistants, and entered upon their duties forthwith, and before examination.

The present commission had just taken office and was required to make some disposition of the complex situation. An eligible list of foremen consisting of two names, John Stahl and Michael J. Perry, was in force. The commission deemed this list appropriate to the reëstablished positions of "assistants." The mayor, as appointing officer, required a longer list from which to make the two appointments, as it seems he had a right to do. An examination was called. John Stahl, the veteran, having taken his examination in February, 1902, was placed upon the new list with his old rating without reëxamination. Michael J. Perry entered the examination for a new rating. Messrs. Connell and Blacklock filed applications and entered the examination. Before the list was established Blacklock, by reason of some difficulty with the street department, resigned from temporary employment and insisted upon withdrawing his papers from consideration by the commission. Mr. Connell failed to pass the examination. The new list as established contained three names, as follows: Stahl, McDonough, Perry. Stahl and McDonough declined appointment on the ground of insufficiency of salary. The appointing officer declined to appoint the one remaining eligible. There seemed no reason to expect better success in obtaining competition by calling and holding another examination, and therefore the mayor was permitted to nominate Mr. Connell to the commission for non-competitive examination. The candidate was duly examined and found competent to perform the duties of the position, and he received a provisional appointment thereto. The fact that an assistant receives $2 per day, and the duties of the position require him to command the use of a horse and wagon to do the work, may account for the absence of competition and lack of interest in appointment. In this connection it may be said that while the duties of the so-called "foremen" and "assistants," as actually performed, have been essentially the same, the appointing officer made the claim that the "foremen," so-called, had no grounds for complaint at being superseded upon the reestablishment of the positions of assistant superintendents in April, 1902, for the reason that the ruling in 1900 in their favor to the effect that the positions were essentially different was binding upon them, and that they were estopped to claim otherwise. The claim seemed good in a legal sense, and the commission acceded to it. The status of these positions is therefore brought back to where it stood in April, 1900.

The commission is of the opinion that rule 24, paragraph 3, as amended in 1900, relating to reinstatement, should be enforced in cases of this kind in the future. This matter has been adverted to at some length, for the reason that a similar shifting of names of positions has recently been made in the engineering department, and the commission in the latter cases has certified to the appointing officer the holder of the old position as entitled to reinstatement in the new. This action of the municipal commission has met with considerable criticism from political interests adversely affected, as being inconsistent with the disposition made of the street department cases referred to above.

5 The provision of the law giving preference to veterans has been strictly complied with, in all competitive class positions. This may be otherwise as to employments in the labor class, which is in a much disorganized state, and will be referred to again.

6 Certification of pay-rolls and salary accounts have been regularly made, except in the department of education. The department of education works under a separate financial system, and its accounts are not made up by the city clerk and passed upon by the common council, and have not been regularly submitted to the secretary for certification. There are ten classified positions in that department out of a total of 163 names. All have been duly appointed pursuant to the civil service law. It is the purpose of the secretary to arrange with that department for regular certification hereafter. The system of certification pointed out by law, viz, that the pay-rolls and accounts be pre sented at the office of the secretary, has only lately been fol lowed. Heretofore the secretary has been obliged to mad certification in the books of accounts at the city clerk's office This was irregular, and frequently salary accounts have bee audited and paid before being entered in the books in reliance upon the fact of regular appointment of the payees, and that th certification by the secretary would be made nunc pro tunc. Th pay-rolls in all departments except that of education are now being presented directly to the secretary's office in the firs instance.

In one instance certification of the wages of an inspector i the engineering department has been refused. The wages wer not paid.

7 There has been no important change in the number of per sons employed in the civil service of the city during the yea 1902. Several additions have been made to the number of patro men and firemen, due to actual need by reason of the growth o the city. It is believed that certain positions in the servic might well be abolished for purposes of economy; but partisa interests strive for an increase in the number of positions whe ever possible.

The freedom with which removals and appointments are mad in disregard of the removal rule upon every change of admini tration gives little hope for early improvement in the directio of permanent reduction in number of positions. There is a ce tain class of positions which pay from $25 to $50 per month f which there is so little competition that, with the right of th appointing officer of a choice of three names from which to mak appointment, the "temporary appointee" is reasonably sure o securing the permanent appointment.

8 The condition of the labor classification should receive sen consideration in this report. Registration of laborers is r quired, but certification for employment in the manner provide by rule is not being followed. There are now 501 registere laborers. In May, 1900, a plan was adopted for the street d partment by which the city was divided into four districts an a separate list of laborers maintained for each district, and employment for each district to be made from the district list. The plan seems to have broken down from the outset and employment made by the street superintendent at his discretion from the entire list. The old system which existed here of distributing the work of 50 men among 200, and giving not more than one week of continuous employment to each laborer, has again prevailed. Political patronage is the main factor in this system. A secondary consideration is to give needy persons, incompetent for other work, an opportunity to earn their livelihood and to extend this privilege to as large a number as possible, political support presumably to follow to the alderman who can control the distribution. The regular lists of 500 names, namely, in the street department, have become disorganized, and it is impossible to tell who were first entitled to certification if requisition were made. In fact no requisitions are being made by the street superintendent; he is careful, however, to employ registered men only. For about two years no information seems to have been given to the commission of discharges in the labor class. In fact laborers in that department are not technically discharged, but are "laid off" temporarily to give others a chance. There are no data in the office from which the lists can be restored to working order; this was the condition in May, 1902. The commission has not been able to or has not changed it. Perhaps this can be done by requiring the continuous employment (until discharged) of those who are actually employed at some stated time, and from that time on to certify from No. 1 of the old registered list of 1899. Some arbitrary ruling of this kind seems to be the only means by which regular employment and certification can be resumed.

Clearly the labor class rules should be enforced as they stand or should be modified or repealed. The difficulties in the way of enforcement are considerable. The secretary cannot, nor can any capable man, devote his entire time to the task for any extended period, and clerical assistance is not available for lack of appropriation. These difficulties would not, however, be insuperable if it is required and if the results would in any obtained, and in such cases political pressure and influence upon the appointing officer is reduced to the minimum possible under the law. Appointing officers appreciate this, and it is believed are grateful for the relief.

Competition is small for engineering positions, and, as a result, that department is far from being in a satisfactory condition. This is mainly chargeable, it is believed, to the defective form of the city charter, which permits the common council to make appointments in that office, thus depriving the head of that department of a power which he should have and for the exercise of which he should be held responsible.

The limits of this report preclude further reference to other difficulties which confront the municipal commission in executing the law. It is hoped, however, that in the near future the municipal commission may receive a visit of inspection from some member or representative of the State Commission.

Respectfully submitted.

This would not be a difficult matter if the system can be again resumed. Obviously, the labor rules should be enforced or modified without delay, as the failure to execute one branch of the rules doubtless leads some who have no special knowledge of the conditions to infer that the rules are being generally disregarded.

9 An official roster of the classified service of the city is kept by means of a separate card index, arranged by departments. Considerable difficulty has always been experienced in keeping the roster up to date, with accurate information as to date of changes in the service. The city clerk has materially aided the secretary by forwarding promptly notices of appointments made by the various boards of which he is clerk. Other departments do not do this, and in general, notices of registration, removals and discharges are not forwarded to the secretary, who is obliged to gather this information as best he may. This is unsatisfactory, as the information is not always official. Each change should be represented by some document from the hand of the appointing officer and filed with the candidates' papers, thus giving the complete history of each candidate from application for examination to separation from the service, in one package of papers. The roster has never been kept in a permanent book form. This should also be done, as such a record would be of value, and might well be made to include also the unclassified service.

10 After reciting defects at length, the commission is pleased to report that in the competitive class the law is being successfully and beneficially executed. An effort has been made to make all examinations strictly practical in character and reasonable in scope, and at the same time difficult enough to present genuine tests of ability and capacity, having due regard to the limited field of competition. The standard of efficiency has clearly been raised. A superior class of eligibles is being obtained for policemen and firemen and also a fair amount of competition is obtained for clerical positions. The police and fire departments are in excellent condition. Appointing officers are generally satisfied with the eligibles submitted to them. This is uniformly so wherever competition can be obtained, and in such cases political pressure and influence upon the appointing officer is reduced to the minimum possible under the law. Appointing officers appreciate this, and it is believed are grateful for the relief.

Competition is small for engineering positions, and, as a result, that department is far from being in a satisfactory condition. This is mainly chargeable, it is believed, to the defective form of the city charter, which permits the common council to make appointments in that office, thus depriving the head of that department of a power which he should have and for the exercise of which he should be held responsible.

The limits of this report preclude further reference to other difficulties which confront the municipal commission in executing the law. It has also been the custom of this commission to consult with the heads of departments for the purpose of learning the exact requirements of the position and of obtaining the benefits of the knowledge of the duties and experience possessed by such heads of departments.

Thus far the commission is justified in the belief that practical examinations are the best tests, and that the most satisfactory results are thereby obtained, as is evidenced by the undoubted fitness of those appointed from the eligible lists to discharge the duties of the position for which they were examined.

Ogdensburg

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., January 14, 1903

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.— Pursuant to the provisions of section 10 of chapter 370 of the laws of 1899, we herewith submit the following as the annual report of the municipal civil service commission of the city of Ogdensburg, N. Y., for the year ending December 31, 1902:

The commission at present consists of Daniel W. Mulligan, chairman, occupation, lawyer, appointed March 4, 1902; W. W. Overton, occupation, clerk, appointed March 4, 1902, and S. E. Brown, occupation, physician, appointed 1899. The commissioners do not receive any salary.

D. J. Crichton, Jr., is secretary, appointed March 15, 1900, and is the only employee of the commission. There is no salary attached to this office.

The commission has held two meetings during the past year.

There are 116 persons in the unclassified service.

There is 1 person in the exempt class, 14 in the competitive class, 2 in the non-competitive class and 160 in the labor class.

The commission held one competitive examination during the year of applicants for the following positions:

Truant officer and mechanical engineer for the water department.

In the examination for truant officer there were ten applicants. Five passed and five failed. In the examination for mechanical engineer in the water department there was one applicant, who passed.

No examinations were held in the non-competitive class.

No appointments were made to exempt positions.

Two appointments were made to competitive positions.

No appointments were made in the non-competitive class.

In the labor class there have been certified from time to time to the different departments as called for by requisition, 158 names. There are only two men in this class who hold permanent positions. The balance are called on from time to time as their services are needed, and it is not always possible or convenient to take the person or persons at the head of the list, as they do such other work as they can find to do and the men who have been employed one day by the city may the next be employed loading or unloading boats, at which work they get 25 and 35 cents an hour, and, as the city pays but 15 cents an hour and does not give steady employment, it sometimes takes a complete list of all the names registered in a department to get the number wanted.

No removals were made during the year.

One resignation was received, that of truant officer, in the competitive class.

One transfer was made, that of a call fireman, to the permanent list.

No promotions have been made.

No exceptions from examinations have been made.

The provisions of the law regarding veterans have been complied with.

The provisions of the law regarding the certification of pay-rolls have been complied with. They are reviewed by the secretary of the commission.

The provisions of the law requiring the registration of laborers and the certification from the labor list have been complied with as nearly as possible.

The commission has a complete roster of all the city employees.

The city treasurer requires the certification of the commission on all pay-rolls. He does not require it on the police-men's bills for salaries, as their bills go to the council direc and are paid by order.

The number of persons employed under the civil service ha not varied any during the last two years.

The effects of the application of the civil service law in thi city cannot be fully judged, the number employed under its supervision being so small and the new appointments since it went into effect being so few that no satisfactory comparison can be made. In fact, the majority of persons at present in the employ of the city who are under this law were also employed by the city before this law went into effect. They are known as capable, proficient men who have met the tests that the civil service law imposed upon them. We have not experienced any unsatisfactory results as yet with the appli cation and enforcement of this law.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

OLEAN, N. Y., January 23. 1903

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.— Pursuant to the request of the Civil Servic Commission, under date of December 22, 1902, the followin report of the civil service commissioners of the city of Olean, N. Y., is hereby submitted, each answer being numbered the same as the question intended to be answered:

1 The municipal commission is composed of Charles P. Luther, foundry; Frank L. Stowell, planing mill, and Henry Donnelly, attorney; appointed on or about March 1, 1902.

2 Employees of commission, none.

3 Number of meetings held during the year, six.

4 Number of persons in the unclassified service, 76.

5 Number of persons in the exempt class, 2; competitive class, 19; labor class, about 60.

6 Two competitive examinations were held during the year for policemen. Eight passed the first examination and one failed. In last examination two failed, being the only persons taking said examination.

7 Non-competitive examinations held during the year, none.

8 Number of appointments during the year:

To exempt positions, none.
To competitive positions, 2.
To non-competitive positions, 1.
To labor positions, 1.

9 Number of removals in all classes, none.

10 Number of resignations, 1.

11 Number of transfers, none.

12 Number of promotions, none.

13 Exceptions from examination under paragraph 2 of section 14 of the civil service law, none.

14 The provisions of the law giving preference to veterans have been strictly complied with.

15 (Question: Has the provision of the law regarding certification of pay-rolls and accounts been strictly complied with, and if so, by whom are the pay-rolls and accounts reviewed and certified?) Yes, by common council and secretary of civil service commission.

16 The provisions of the law regarding the registration of laborers and certifications from the list have been strictly complied with.

17 (Question: Has the commission a complete roster of all city employees, showing names, titles of positions, dates of appointment and salaries?) Nearly so.

18 (Question: Do the financial officers of the city require the certificate of the commission upon all pay-rolls and accounts?) Yes, as I understand it.

19 There has been no important increase or diminution of the number of persons employed in the civil service of the city as compared with 1901.

20 In some instances we think the law is effective, but, as a rule, we get inferior men for the reason that the better class of men hesitate to take the examination, and while you have men that are just able to pass, perhaps, they are not what they should be for the different positions. If the appointing officer could go into the community in general, as a rule he could get better men for the positions than those who take the examination for the different appointments.

21 We do not believe that the law has any special effect upon the appointments in the police and fire departments. We sometimes think that where an appointee has a position that he thinks it will be difficult to get him out of, he becomes very much derelict in duty and more inattentive to business than he would be providing he understood there was not so much red tape to remove him from office.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Oneida

ONEIDA, N. Y., January 15, 1903

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.— In compliance with the provisions of chapter 370 of the laws of 1899, the municipal civil service commission of Oneida, submits the following report for the year ending December 31, 1902.

The commission is the same as originally appointed in May, 1901, viz: H. C. Stone, merchant; Martin Cavana, M. D., physician, and Edward R. McDougall, pharmacist; the first being chairman and the latter secretary. The only salary received by the commission is $50 per annum by the secretary. The commission has held four meetings during the year.

The number of persons in the unclassified service is 114; in the classified service, 107, divided as follows: Exempt class 27; competitive class 35; labor class 45. (No non-competitive positions in our city.)

The commission has held one examination for positions in the competitive class. We received three applications for examination for superintendent of public works, of which two appeared for examination. Of these, one passed and one failed. We received one application for examination for paid fireman but the applicant failed to appear for examination.

The only vacancy that has occurred in the competitive class is that of superintendent of public works.

Appointments in the labor class have been made to the number of forty-five, but not all have had steady employment, being employed only as circumstances required.

The commission has a complete roster, and the law is being complied with regarding certification.

The law has had very little effect upon appointments as there has been but one vacancy in the classified service.

Respectfully submitted.

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.— I have the honor to submit the following report of the municipal civil service commission of this city for the year 1902:

The operation of the civil service law in this city has undoubtedly resulted in giving the city a more efficient public service. It has been the aim of the commission to lay great stress on the technical duties of the position for which the candidate sought appointment, and the successful candidate in every instance entered on the duties of his position fully equipped for their performance.

In response to the special inquiries contained in your communication of December 22, 1902, would state:

1 Commissioners:

George Hay, engine dispatcher, appointed January 2, 1902, serves without salary.

Dr. C. A. Sheridan, physician and surgeon, appointed January 2, 1902, serves without salary.

Charles M. Austin, engineer, appointed June 7, 1902, serves without salary.

10 There have been no resignations in any class.

11 There have been no transfers in any class.

12 There have been no promotions in any class.

13 There have been no exceptions from examinations.

14 The successor to veteran janitor-engineer was appointed by the mayor at the conclusion of the veteran's term.

15 Pay-rolls and accounts are certified by the secretary of this commission prior to payment by the city chamberlain.

16 The provision of the law requiring the registration of laborers has been strictly complied with.

17 The commission has a complete roster of all city employees, showing names, dates of appointment, titles of positions and salaries.

18 The city chamberlain requires the certificate of the commission on all pay-rolls and accounts.

19 The civil service list of the city has been increased by reason of the fact that during the year 1902 the city took over the local water plant from private corporation.

20 The commission feels that the application of the present civil service law to appointments and promotions results in a more efficient public service.

21 There have been no applications for appointment in the police or fire departments during the past year, nor has there been any appointments made to either of these departments.

Respectfully submitted, by order of the commission.

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., January 14, 1903

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.—We, the undersigned, respectfully submit the following as the first report of the civil service commission of the city of Plattsburgh.

Immediately after our appointment by the mayor, we prepared the rules and regulations necessary for the proper operation of this department, and in this connection are pleased to acknowledge valuable assistance afforded by your secretary, Mr. John C. Birdseye.

Owing to the fact of this being the initial commission here, more meetings have necessarily been held than will be required during a similar period in the future. During the first six months of our incumbency we have held twenty-two meetings.

Examinations given by the commission have been made, as far as possible, practical, requiring for the ordinary positions a common school training, together with a practical knowledge of the duties of the office.

Although the department is an entirely new idea in this community, yet the city officials have coöperated with and aided us materially, with the exception of the corporation counsel and the clerk of the board of education.

The following are answers to the questions submitted by your secretary. Some of the questions are not answered, as this is the first year of the city of Plattsburgh:

1 The commissioners are: Charles A. Barnard, lawyer, appointed May 15, 1902; salary, $50 per year. Henry P. O'Hagan, teacher, appointed May 15, 1902; salary, $50 per year. D. H. Agnew, lawyer, appointed May 15, 1902; salary, $50 per year.

Examination on October 18, 1902, for janitors. Five applications were received. Four tried the examination, 3 passed; 1 failed, and one was absent.

Examination held on December 23, 1902, for first and second assistant engineers of the fire department, for truant officer and for janitors. Thirteen applications were received; 1 application for first assistant engineer; 1 tried the examination and passed. Two applications for second assistant engineer; 2 tried the examination and passed. Two applications for truant officer; 2 tried the examination and passed. 16 All laborers employed by the city have been selected from certified lists furnished to the heads of the departments by the secretary of the commission.

17 A complete roster of the city employees is on file at the office of the secretary.

18 The department requires the certification by the secretary of all pay-rolls and accounts.

16 The provision of the law regarding the registration of aborers and certifications from the list has not been strictly omplied with. There is so much temporaray work that it is lmost impossible to keep the registration of laborers.

17 The commission has a complete roster of all city employees, showing names, titles of positions, dates of appointment and salaries.

Secretary

Rensselaer

RENSSELAER, N. Y., February 23, 1903

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.— In pursuance to law and in accordance with the requests contained in a letter from your honorable body, bearing date the 22d day of December, 1902, the municipal civil service commission of the city of Rensselaer, N. Y., respectfully reports as follows:

The names of the commissioners are: Harry Bates, secretary to water storage commission, appointed January 1, 1902, president of the civil service commission; no salary.

Commissioner Benjamin F. Allen, machinist, appointed January 1, 1902; no salary.

Cyrus Waterbury, Jr., lawyer, secretary to commission, appointed January 1, 1902; salary, $100 per annum.

There are no employees of the commission except as above stated.

The commission has had nine meetings during the year.

There are 82 persons in the unclassified service.

There is 1 person in the exempt class.

There are 15 persons in the competitive class.

There are 2 persons in the non-competitive class.

There are 20 persons in the labor class.

There have been held five competitive examinations during the year for positions of patrolman, truant officer and janitor, at which examinations eleven persons passed and three failed to pass.

There have been three non-competitive examinations held for the positions of chief of police and charity commissioners.

There has been one appointment made to exempt positions, appointment of secretary to civil service commission.

There have been seven appointments made to competitive positions.

There have been two appointments to non-competitive positions.

There have been no appointments to labor positions.

There have been no removals in any of the classes, no resignations, transfers or promotions.

There has been no exception from examinations as mentioned in paragraph 2, section 14, of the civil service law.

The commission has had no case before it during the year in which a veteran was involved.

The provisions of the law have been complied with in reference to certification of pay-rolls for street labor and the pay-rolls and accounts are reviewed and certified to by the common council.

The law has been complied with in reference to the registration of street laborers and certification from the labor list.

The commission has a complete list of all city employees, showing names, titles of positions, dates of appointment and salaries.

The financial officers of the city have required and received the certificates of this commission upon all pay-rolls.

There has been no increase or diminution in the number of persons in the civil service of the said city of Rensselaer, except an increase of four patrolmen in the police department and one secretary to the board of education.

In the opinion of this commission the application of the civi service law to appointments and promotions has been the means of securing in the service of the city a better class of employees, naturally a more intelligent and competent class of citizens, thereby securing the service to the city of a more efficient force of working employees.

The fire department of the city, not being a paid department, being a volunteer department, consequently does not come within the provisions of the civil service law, but the enforcement of the civil service law has, in the opinion of this commission, been the means of securing to the police department the service of good and reputable men, of a higher grade than under the old law and also putting in the service of the police department a class of officers far superior to any that might be appointed by political parties were it not for the civil service law.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., January 10, 1903

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.— The civil service commission in presenting its annual report of the business transacted during the year beginning January 1, 1902, desires to express its gratification at the excellent manner in which the civil service law and rules have, with one or two exceptions, been observed throughout the various departments of the city government.

The present local commission consists of A. M. Spiehler, wholesale perfumer; Alfred Elwood, merchant, and O. J. Bryan, wholesale druggist, all of whom were appointed January 1, 1902. The commissioners serve without salary.

The commission was granted by the board of estimate and apportionment an appropriation of $2,000 to carry on the work of the department for the year. Out of this the secretary and chief examiner, James L. Whitley, who was appointed January 1 1902, receives the annual salary of $1,000, and Margaret A. Lucy the stenographer, appointed January 1, 1900, receives $520 per year.

Our records show that there are 802 employees in the unclassified service. This includes 703 teachers in the public schools, but does not include election officers and commissioners of deeds.

There are 27 in the exempt class, 714 in the competitive class and 1 in the non-competitive class. The number of persons employed in the labor class varies each week from 500 to 1,500. The work is divided up among the employees of the labor class in the street department and they receive all the way from one to six days' work.

The number of appointments, removals, resignations, transfers and promotions during the year in the different classes is as follows:

	Exempt	Competitive	Non-competitive
Appointments	12	19	.....
Removals	.....	8	.....
Resignations	2	8	.....
Transfers	.....	.....	.....
Promotions	1	7	.....

A complete list of the examinations conducted by the commission, with the number of candidates taking each examination and the number qualified and disqualified by the examination, follows:

POSITION	Number of candidates	Number qualified	Number disqualified
Assistant fire marshal	4	3	1
Engineer at pump house	2	2	.....
Fireman at pump house	10	7	3
Janitor (steam boilers)	34	25	9
Chainman	12	9	3
Clerk	33	30	3
Lieutenant, police (promotion)	8	8	.....
Bookkeeper (promotion)	2	2	.....
Supervisor of steel and iron structure	1	1	.....
Assistant civil engineer*	.....	.....	.....

* Not yet completed.

No examinations have been held for positions in the non-competitive class.

In order to insure secrecy in examinations, the question papers are prepared by the secretary and the commission. During the year none of the papers were compiled by persons not connected with the commission. As another precaution, the questions are printed in the office of the commission on the day of the examination with a mimeograph machine which was secured early in the year. While this necessitates more work, we believe it safer than entrusting the papers with a printing office, as was formerly often done. We believe that with every precaution in a printing establishment, there would be more possibility of the papers getting out than if they only passed through the hands of the commission.

With the idea in mind of securing the most efficient service in the various city departments, the commission has endeavored to make all examinations thoroughly practical and confined questions to the duties of the position for which the examination is held. A copy of the questions used in each examination is hereto annexed and made a part of this report.

The commission has endeavored to be perfectly just in considering the examination papers of each applicant for a position, basing our decision on fitness or unfitness of the applicant and upon the merit of the answers to the questions. During the year there have been but two appeals from the ratings of the papers, both of which were dismissed. The commission has given veterans of the civil war the preference to which they are entitled under the law.

The pay-rolls are reviewed and certified by the secretary and all the provisions of the law are complied with, all pay-rolls requiring the signature of the secretary before they are submitted to the city treasurer for the issuing of checks.

Records in the office are complete, and under the system in operation a complete history of all the officers and employees, showing the names, titles of positions, dates of appointment and salary, is so arranged that it can readily be referred to.

There has been practically no increase or diminution of the number of persons employed in the civil service of the city as compared with the year 1901.

The members of the local commission are of one opinion, that the civil service laws have done much to increase the efficiency of the service. They feel that if examinations are made thoroughly practical there will be no difficulty in securing the services of persons most qualified for the positions. Unless such examinations are practical and the questions are confined to the duties of the position, the law might not increase the efficiency of the service.

We believe that appointing officers as a rule are in sympathy with the provisions of the law. As to the effect, if any, the law has had upon appointments in the police and fire departments, we would state that there is no question but what more efficient and able men are secured now than before the law went into effect. The requirements of the law as to promotion examinations has a tendency among the members of these departments to encourage attention to duty and a desire to become familiar with the duties of the position.

In conclusion, the commission begs to assure you that it has endeavored throughout the year to administer the civil service law in the spirit of the constitution and of the statutes relating to civil service and of leaving to competition instead of favoritism the selection of the candidates.

Respectfully submitted.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., December 31, 1902

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.—We have the honor to submit the following report of the municipal civil service commission of the city of Schenectady for the year ending December 31, 1902:

1 The following are the names, occupations and dates of appointment of the members of the local commission:

Arthur M. White, superintendent American Locomotive Co., appointed March 1, 1892.

J. Leland Fitzgerald, civil engineer, appointed October 29, 1898.

Thos. E. Leavett, foreman and shop superintendent, General Electric Company, appointed November 3, 1902.

2 The only permanent employee of the commission is the secretary, W. S. Rowe, salary $250 per year; appointed March 1, 1892.

3 The commission held twelve meetings during the year 1902.

4 There are 499 persons in the unclassified service, consisting of the following: Mayor, recorder, 20 aldermen, city treasurer, city judge, police justice, 3 commissioners of police, 3 assessors, 10 constables, 134 teachers in the public schools, 10 school commissioners, 3 members of examining board of plumbers, 3 civil service commmissioners, 6 members board of health, 4 fire commissioners, 4 water commissioners, city clerk, city attorney, city surveyor, city marshal, city printer, city physician, sealer of weights and measures, overseer of poor, 3 members board of magistrates, and 284 voluntary firemen.

5 There are 33 persons in the exempt class, 69 in the competitive class, 3 in the non-competitive class and 26 in the labor class.

Examination No. 24:

Patrolmen, 50 applicants, of whom 10 were disqualified, 21 failed, 19 passed.

Janitor public schools, 10 applicants, 3 passed, 7 failed.

Examination No. 25:

Assistant engineer water works, 1 applicant, 1 passed.

Fireman, water works, 1 applicant, 1 passed.

:xamination No. 26:

Engineer of fire steamer, 2 applicants, 2 passed.
Firemen in paid fire department, 7 applicants, 1 failed to appear, 5 passed, 1 failed.

:xamination No. 27:

Janitor public schools, 9 applicants, 2 disqualified, 3 passed, 4 failed.

here were no non-competitive examinations held during urrent year.

he following appointments were made: To exempt posi- 9; competitive positions, 15; non-competitive positions, labor positions, 48.

:emovals were as follows: Exempt class, 1; competitive 1; labor class, 23.

There were two resignations in the competitive class, none ers.

No transfers were made during the year.

and 13 No promotions were made and no exceptions from inations.

The veteran question came up but once during the year, the examination for janitors, and the applicant having ed the grade of 70 per cent. was promptly appointed to acancy.

The provision of the law regarding certification of the olls has been fairly well complied with, and at the present all the regular pay-rolls are examined, and, if correct, ed to by the secretary of this commission. Attention is fully called to this point in 22 of this report.

The provision of the law regarding registration of laborers een carried out, but in the opinion of this commission the civil service law should be so modified as not to require least in small cities, as it seems to add an unnecessary n both to the commission and to the departments. As in this city, practically all public work is done by contract, it follows that the few permanent persons of the labor class employed by the city are in the street and water departments and are retained until incapacitated from advancing years. As a consequence vacancies occur but seldom, and no laborer could afford to wait for one without employment in the meantime.

17 The commission has a complete roster of all city employees in the classified service as shown in the annexed schedule.

18 There are no financial officers in this city whose duty is to approve and supervise accounts. All general accounts are approved by the common council and ordered paid. The school, water, police and fire departments audit their own accounts and draw their own drafts on the city treasurer, who acts simply as a banking officer, and has no knowledge of the legality of the draft or the purpose for which it was intended. At the present time, through the courtesy of the various departments, the secretary of this commission is permitted to certify the different pay-rolls.

19 The principal increase in the classified service during the past year has been in the police and fire departments, due to the growth of the city.

20 and 21 In the police and fire departments we are of the opinion that the effect of the civil service law is good so far as original appointments are concerned, and the appointing boards in general approve of the system as it saves them a certain amount of trouble. In our opinion, however, the efficiency of the public service would be improved if all promotions in a given class were left entirely to the appointing power, they being in a much better position to judge in such a case.

22 It is the final opinion of this commission that the grave defect of the state civil service law is the lack of adequate provision for its enforcement, the only remedy at present being a civil action on the part of a taxpayer to recover money tually paid out. If the local commission could entirely conol payments, as was intended by that portion of the law ating to the certification of pay-rolls, the rules of the service uld easily be carried out in spirit as well as letter.

Respectfully submitted.

exceptions from examination under the provisions of 4 of the civil service law.

14 The provisions of the laws giving preference to veterans have been strictly complied with.

> "I hereby certify that the services as above set forth were actually performed by the persons therein named, and by due authority; and are employed solely in the proper duties of the positions and employments indicated and that persons described as or proposed to be paid as laborers are employed at ordinary unskilled labor only, and that the compensations specified are in accordance with the resolutions of the board of estimate and apportionment.
> (Signed) ....."

The secretary then reviews the pay-rolls and if found satisfactory attaches and signs the following certificate:

> "I hereby certify that the persons named in the foregoing pay-roll occupying positions in the classified service, have been appointed or employed in pursuance of the civil service law and of the rules made in pursuance of said law (chapter 370, laws of 1899).

> Secretary Municipal Civil Service Commission."

16 The provision of the law regarding the registration of laborers has been strictly complied with. As regards the certification from the labor list, the provision of the law has been complied with in so far as the demands of the service made it possible.

17 The commission has a complete roster of all city employees, showing names, titles of positions, dates of appointments and salaries.

18 The financial officers of the city require the certificate of the commission upon all pay-rolls and accounts. (See answer 15.)

19 The number of persons employed in the department of iblic safety is practically the same as that of last year. In the partment of public works there has been quite a diminution in e number of employees. In the water department the force of ıployees which last year numbered 69, was this year reduced 38. In the bureau of engineering the number of employees is year is 30, while last year it was 41. There has been a cor-sponding decrease in all branches of the department of public rks. This decrease in the number of persons employed in the partment of public works is due to the administrative ability l general business qualifications of the commissioner of public rks and the increased efficiency of his employees.

20 It is the opinion of the Commission that the enforcement the civil service law has resulted in great improvement in the ıracter and efficiency of the persons appointed and promoted.

21 It is the opinion of the Commission, that the civil service v, as a check upon appointing officers, has done much to purify business affairs of a municipality of the evils of the spoils stem. It greatly assists the appointing officer in increasing efficiency of his employees in that the civil service law confined officer to select his employees from a list of candidates whose ciency is determined before the appointment is made.

During the existence of the present Commission, no appoint-nts have been made in the police or fire departments.

21 The commission is of the opinion that the enforcement of the law has had the effect of securing a better class of employees in the police and fire departments and tempered the desire on the part of heads of departments to reward for political services at the expense of the discipline of the departments by the appointment of men unfitted physically and mentally for such position.

10 Sixteen persons resigned in the competitive class during the year, and one in the non-competitive class.

11 There were no transfers.

12 There have been seven promotions in the competitive class.

13 There were no exceptions from examination during the past year.

14 The provisions of the law in reference to giving preference to veterans have been strictly complied with.

15 The pay-rolls and accounts for services are all certified to by the members of the municipal civil service commission, and the provisions of law in that respect are strictly complied with by the various departments of the city government.

16 A register for the purpose of registering laborers is kept, and all persons who apply in writing are placed on said register in the order of filing applications.

17 This commission has an official roster containing the names of all employees of the city, showing names, titles of positions, dates of appointment and salaries.

18 The city treasurer and persons in authority to sign or countersign drafts or checks will not sign or countersign checks unless the pay-rolls or accounts for services are properly certified to by the municipal civil service commission.

19 There is no increase or diminution of the number of persons employed by the city, the number remaining about the same as heretofore.

20 We are of the opinion that owing to the application of the civil service law the service of the city is greatly benefited both as to character and efficiency of persons appointed or promoted.

21 In the opinion of the commission the civil service law forces appointing officers to name competent men and has raised the standard of the appointees in the police and fire departments.

Respectfully submitted.

Watertown

WATERTOWN, N. Y., January 14, 1903

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.— Pursuant to the civil service law, chapter 370, laws of 1899, the municipal civil service commission of the city of Watertown, N. Y., respectfully submits the following report:

The civil service law has been enforced in the city of Watertown, and the result of the same is in most instances satisfactory, both to the commission and to the appointing powers.

Several examinations have been held and appointments made from the eligible lists, as are hereinafter more particularly set forth.

The commission has no regularly appointed time for holding meetings, but the members are always accessible, and meetings are held upon the call of the president when deemed necessary.

The commission endeavors to make the examinations held as practical as possible, and confines itself almost entirely to the duties of the position which the applicant seeks, and to ascertaining his ability to perform such duties.

It has several times been impossible during the past year to get applicants for the different competitive positions to try examinations, for the reason that the salaries paid are rather small. This is notably so in the case of procuring engineers for the fire department, where the pay is only sixty dollars per month and the position very confining. With the approval of the State Commission one Ernest Pinsonneault was appointed engineer in the fire department in this city, without competitive examination, and since that time the secretary of the civil service commission has advertised two examinations for engineer and has received no application papers for examination. It will, therefore, be necessary in the near future to appoint two engineers in the fire department under the non-competitive rule.

In the fall of 1902 the water board of this city was compelled to make extensive repairs on the dam furnishing the city water supply, and it became necessary to act at once. The local commission considered the case an emergency case and audited and allowed the bill of one John W. Phippen, a millwright and well-fitted man for the position, as superintendent of construction of said dam. This was done with the approval of the State Commission.

The only other case where it has become necessary to act outside of the civil service law, is as follows: The city water board was desirous of providing a new water supply for the city and had practically resolved upon establishing a filtration plant. Therefore they desired to ascertain if it were possible to obtain a water supply from some natural streams or lakes distant from the city for this purpose. They desired to make surveys of several roads without having it become known, for the reason that it would be easier to obtain rights of way across the property between the source of supply and the city. On this account the local commission did not deem it advisable to hold a competitive examination for chainmen, levelers, etc., to make these surveys, inasmuch as the work would last less than sixty days, and such examination would necessarily make public the plans of the water board. The local commission therefore authorized the city engineer, after using all his available regular force, to employ five young men outside, temporarily, as chainmen and stakedrivers, while making the survey. This he did, and the work was accomplished within sixty days. This, we think, is the only case in the city where the civil service law has not been enforced to the letter.

Generally speaking, the commission would report that the il service law is satisfactory in all respects with the excep- n of the labor class. This is unsatisfactory, and the different ards in the city employing laborers and the commission can e how it is a hardship upon the appointing officers, and seems be an injustice to both the laborers and to the taxpayers the city. It must be understood that in a city of this size ere is no regular labor pay-roll. The pay-roll will vary from e man up to sixty or seventy at different times. In the winter, some weeks, we might have on the pay-roll twenty-five men, d at others have practically none. It is impossible to quire the boards of the different labor departments to give e commission five days' notice of application for workmen, d it certainly is impossible to require the superintendents departments to notify each laborer on the list and get his fusal before he can hire the next one, for the reason that st of the men work for the city when they can obtain nothing e to do, and usually have better jobs working elsewhere. r this reason the commission did not hold the department ictly, but required on each pay-roll a certificate stating in bstance that the head of the department has hired the men said pay-roll in the order in which they stand on the labor t as near as he could do so and could induce the man to take e work. The commission would recommend that some change made for cities of the third class, which class includes atertown, in regard to the civil service law applicable to orers.

Furthermore, it has been customary formerly in this city employ on public works men who were making applications the superintendent of the poor for aid. As the law now ands the board of charities is compelled to take care of these n, and cannot make them earn their own sustenance.

In answer to the questions contained in your letter of Decem- r 22d, the commission would report as follows:

1 The names of the commissioners are James M. Dorsey, ry M. Jones and Charles J. Bellinger. Commissioner Dorsey he proprietor of a clothing store in this city. Commissioner

Jones is principal of the Watertown high school, and formerly practiced law in this city. Commissioner Bellinger is the correspondent for several newspapers, mostly trade papers. None of the commissioners receive any salary.

2 The only employee of the municipal civil service commission is the secretary, John H. O'Brien, who was appointed October 7, 1899, and receives a salary of $300 per year.

3 Seven meetings have been held during the past year. The reason for this small number, as hereinbefore stated, is that the commissioners are easily accessible, and, therefore, do not hold meetings on any appointed dates, but on the call of the president when necessity requires.

4 There are in the city unclassified service at present 190 persons, besides teachers in the public schools and commissioners of deeds.

5 There are in the exempt class 3 persons, in the competitive class 38 persons, in the non-competitive class 3 persons.

6 During the past year eleven competitive examinations have been held for the positions of firemen, drivers, janitors, patrolmen, weighmaster and sidewalk inspector.

In an examination for drivers of fire department 3 passed.
In an examination for firemen 6 passed.
In an examination for drivers 3 passed.
In an examination for weighmaster 4 passed.
In an examination for sidewalk inspector 4 passed.
In an examination for patrolmen 8 passed.
In an examination for firemen 4 passed.
In an examination for drivers 3 passed.
In an examination for firemen 5 passed.
In an examination for drivers 2 passed.
In an examination for janitors 6 passed.

We are unable to state how many failed in each examination, as we kept no record of the same.

7 During the past year two non-competitive examinations have been held, one for chief of police and one for engineer in the fire department, both of whom passed.

8 The number of appointments to exempt positions is 1. The number of appointments to competitive positions is 17. The number of appointments to non-competitive positions is 1. (An engineer in the fire department was given a non-competitive examination for the reason that he was the only one who applied for the position, which had been advertised as a competitive position.) We are unable to state the number of appointments to labor positions, as such appointments have no stated duration.

9 No removals in any class have been made.

10 One resignation occurred in the non-competitive class, that of chief of police. Three resignations occurred in the competitive class.

11 No transfers have been made except that an inspector of masonry on sewers was used as an inspector of concrete work on pavements.

12 There has been one promotion, that of a fireman to captain of his company.

13 Under section 14, paragraph 2, of the civil service law two exceptions from examination were made. One was that of inspector on a new high school building in this city, which was authorized by your honorable commission, but afterward the appointment was not made. The other was appointment of a practical millwright and builder, temporarily, to make repairs on the dam for the water board of this city, but in this case it was also a case of emergency, which could not wait for an examination, and where the position would not last for more than four or five weeks. In this latter case the local commission considered the appointment as an emergency appointment.

14 The provisions of the law giving preference to veterans have been strictly complied with, so far as the cases have come within the knowledge of the commission.

15 The provisions of the law in regard to the certification of pay-rolls have been strictly complied with. The commission does not keep track of the accounts. Such pay-rolls are reviewed and certified by the secretary of the commission, with the exception of one or two cases when he has been out of town. At that time the president of the commission has certified to them.

16 The provisions of the law requiring registration of laborers and certifications from the labor list have not been strictly complied with, for the reasons hereinbefore set forth, viz: that it is impossible to do so.

17 The commission has a complete roster of all city employees.

18 The city treasurer requires the certificate of the commission upon all pay-rolls.

19 There has been a slight increase in the number of persons employed in the civil service of the city as compared with 1901, about fifteen persons in number having been added for the reason that the police and fire departments have been enlarged.

20 In the opinion of the commission the effect of the application of the civil service law to appointments and promotions, and as to the character and efficiency of the persons appointed, has been good.

21 In the opinion of the commission the appointing officers are better satisfied with the results of civil service law and the manner of making appointments. This is especially true in the police and fire departments, where they think that they are able to preserve general discipline on account of being relieved of the importunities of their friends for positions, the men who are appointed being in a way independent of the heads of the department and the heads of the department being under no obligations to the men, and they being in many cases absolute strangers. This is something which they seem to appreciate in a small city, where most people are known to each other.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

WATERVLIET, N. Y., January 1, 1903

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.— I hand you herewith the annual report of the municipal civil service commission of the city of Watervliet, N. Y.

The commission consists of Harry M. Hulsapple, president; Walter D. Burt and Thomas E. Shaughnessy. These commissioners serve without remuneration. The only employe of the commission is the secretary, who was appointed January 9, 1901, by the mayor, and whose salary is $150 per annum.

The commission has held two meetings during the year. There are 9 persons in the unclassified service. In the classified service there are 3 persons in the exempt class, 10 persons in the non-competitive class and 30 persons in the competitive class. The commission has held one competitive examination during the year for the position of driver. One applicant passed. One non-competitive examination was held for assistant chief in the fire department and the party examined was certified as fitted for the position. One appointment was made in the competitive class and one in the non-competitive class. There have been no removals, resignations, transfers or promotions and no exceptions were made from examinations.

The provisions of the law giving preference to veterans have been strictly complied with. The pay-rolls of the departments of the city are reviewed and certified by the secretary of the commission.

A list of registrations in the labor class is kept by the commission. The commission has a roster of all city employes, a copy of which is forwarded with this report. The financial officers of the city require the certificate of the commission upon all pay-rolls.

Yours respectfully,

(Signed) MORRIS S. MACKENZIE

Yonkers

YONKERS, N. Y., January 24, 1903

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN.— I beg leave to submit herewith the report of the municipal civil service commission of the city of Yonkers for the year ending December 31, 1902, together with a copy of the official roster of the classified civil service.

On December 17, 1901, the mayor, Hon. Michael J. Walsh, appointed as municipal civil service commissioners:

Robert H. Neville, proprietor livery stable.

Stephen T. Bell, proprietor livery stable.

Malcolm B. Francis, bookkeeper.

Max Cohen, lawyer.

The commission met on December twenty-third, and organized by the election of Robert H. Neville as president and Max Cohen as secretary.

On March 10, 1902, Commissioner Stephen T. Bell resigned, and the mayor appointed in his stead Albert C. Bogert, bookkeeper.

The salary of the commissioners is $150 per annum; the secretary, however, receiving $800, inclusive of his salary as commissioner.

There are no employees engaged by the commission, other than that the secretary performs all of the clerical duties, and that the services of various physicians are from time to time secured to conduct the medical and physical examinations, the compensation paid being $1 for each medical examination and $3 for each medical and physical examination.

There have been held during the year twenty-one meetings of the commission.

Elected by the people	20
Head or heads of departments	64
Superintendents, principals and teachers	199
Total	283

In the classified service:

Exempt class	4
Competitive class	256
Labor class	187
Total	447

There were twelve examinations held during the year, of which nine were competitive and three non-competitive. The results of each were as follows:

Competitive examinations

				Failed in physical	Failed in mental	Passed
				3	12	2
					1	1
				37	9	61

*1 failed to appear

The following number of appointments were made:

	Competitive	Labor class
Department of public works	.....	27
Water board	1	26
Board of education	2	.....
Board of health	2	.....
Fire department	20	.....
Police department	3	.....

There were seven removals in the competitive class, of which three were in the board of health, three in the water board and one in the fire department. There was in addition one removal by death in the police department in the competitive class.

There was one resignation in the competitive class in the water department.

There were eleven promotions; one in the police department and ten in the fire department.

The exceptions from examination are very few, and the employment in nearly all the cases for a very brief period; thus, the department of public works was compelled to employ a stone mason for a few days to make necessary repairs that permitted of no delay; the water board was similarly compelled to meet emergencies, to employ a carpenter, and on another occasion to secure eleven laborers to store a cargo of supplies, and on still another occasion to secure the services of an engineer at the tube well station, for the purpose of running the pumps continuously to keep the water down in the wells so that the contractor that has the work of lowering the suction main could proceed with his work. When it was found that this work was for more than a brief period, we insisted on the engineer being given a non-competitive examination for a temporary appointment, and this was done.

Another exception is that of the appointment of a janitor by the board of education. The reason given is that it is difficult to secure applicants for positions as janitors of the schools in the outlying districts, as the compensation is only twenty-five or thirty dollars per month; that there are but few in the vicinity who would accept the position at that salary, and that it would not pay for those living at a distance to ride to and from the school. These reasons were not entirely satisfactory to the civil service commission, as it was deemed a proper course, which has been suggested to the board of education, that the examinations could be advertised for the specific schools and stating the conditions as preliminary requirements. I have not certified the pay-rolls, and I understand that the course suggested will be followed.

The requirement of the law in respect to the certification of pay-rolls is strictly complied with, the review of the pay-rolls and the comparison with the official roster being done by the secretary of the civil service commission.

The provisions of law in regard to the labor class are in all respects complied with. There were 165 registered as laborers, of whom 10 were registered as caulkers, 29 as rock men, 15 as gardeners, 2 as assistant hostlers, 1 as stonecutter and paver, 5 as street sprinklers, 8 as teamsters with teams, 27 drivers. There were 53 appointments made from this registration; 27 in the department of public works and 26 in the water board.

The requirement of the certification by the civil service commission is observed by the financial officers except in the case of the board of education, heretofore referred to.

Observation demonstrates that the operation of the civil service law is found to be satisfactory by all of the appointing powers, except occasionally in cases of emergency, such as I have indicated in the exceptions to examinations. The sense of permanency of tenure adds to the efficiency of the force, and the relief from pressure for appointment solely on political grounds is a source of gratification which finds frequent expression. All the appointing officers show the greatest solicitude to be within the strict provisions of the law.

At the first examination held by the present commission the envelope system was introduced and has since been maintained. The method pursued is that of placing a number on each of as many envelopes as there are persons to be examined; the envelopes are indiscriminately distributed, and the numbers on the envelope received by each candidate, and into which he has placed his application paper that has been handed to him, is thereafter affixed by him on every examination paper instead of his name, which he is not allowed to place on any paper. The examiners have therefore no means of knowing who has written any particular paper until the envelopes are opened after all the papers have been marked and rated.

The provisions of the law giving preference to veterans have been strictly complied with.

The commission has a complete roster of the classified city service.

EY, J.— In my opinion mandamus is the proper remedy. natter of Blust v. Collier et al., 62 App. Div., 478, the y-general argued that this was the proper remedy, and support of his contention: Chittenden v. Wurster, 152 62; Curtis v. Barton, 139 N. Y., 505; People v. Keller, ., 196.

convinced by an examination of these and other cases right in his argument, and that "a classification made ivil service commissioners once made is good until set some judicial proceedings," and that mandamus is such eding.

e question of the exemption of persons holding such s as the relators do under the sheriff was an open, ed question I might well hold with the representative of rney-general, at least as to some, if not all of the relators, the appellate division of the fourth department has th no dissenting voice in the Blust case that "any one ntents and purposes acting as representative of the and standing in his place, occupies a confidential place elations to the sheriff, and as to his subordinates, he be left free to select his own agents," and in view of that every one of these relators brings himself by his uncontradicted affidavit within the plain meaning and protection of this decision, I have no choice in the matter, and am compelled to follow that authority, and to hold that their places are all confidential and exempt from competition. As I read that decision it means to the full, as the attorney-general there argued, that if the theory of the contention of the relator was upheld any and all positions in the sheriff's office would be exempt. I believe that is the logical conclusion. If one whose principal work was that of an engineer in the jail, and who occasionally acted as a deputy sheriff, should be in the exempt class, then all these relators show their work is equally confidential. In fact, they each and all make out a stronger case of confidential work than did the relator in the Blust case.

The fact that the sheriff may require bonds of his subordinates does not distinguish the cases, as the sheriff in the Buffalo case was a salaried officer and had the power to exact a bond for his subordinates, and that fact was argued and considered. Writ will issue in each case as asked for. Ten dollars costs in each case.

GAYNOR, J.—The decision in Crummey v. Palmer and Chittenden v. Wurster have to be explained away before these applications can be denied. If Crummey, a mere bill clerk, whose duties were merely clerical and formal, and who had no discretion or leeway whatever (for no bills came to the comptroller until they had been audited, and had the auditor's certificate on them, which voucher was under the comptroller's s he signed the warrants) held a confidential position to nptroller, then it seems to me that these applicants held relation to the register. If the decisions are to be d from, it must be by an appellate court. Applications d; $50 costs in each case.

ME COURT—KINGS COUNTY

ople of the State of New York ex Charles Colne and thirty-nine s

a Miller Collier, Cuthbert W. d and John E. Kraft, constig the State Civil Service Comon

EAN, J.— Formerly the subordinates of the register and clerk were mere servants of the officers. All the duties office imposed by law, were duties of the incumbent offid any neglect or malfeasance of any subordinate, for the se of civil remedies, was the neglect or malfeasance of ficer himself.

the laws of 1901, making these offices salaried and izing the appointment of a specified force of subordinates d salaries, payable out of the public treasury, subject to vil service laws and rules, has largely relieved the officer esponsibility except for his own acts. His subordinates ot be independent public officers, but they are servants public, under his direction and supervision, and not his nts; his relation to them, and to the duties of the office ed by him to them, is analagous to that of a foreman in e of his master's work and having the direction of his r's servants.

o not think that either the register or county clerk is otherwise than for his own acts or acts which he perto be done in his name, or under the official seal, and for rsonal negligence, and for fees which the statute expressly charges him with though they may be received by a subordinate. Murphy v. Commissioners, 28 N. Y., 134, 146; Wiggins v. Hathaway, 6 Barb., 632; Bailey v. Mayor, 3 Hill, 531; Brissac v. Lawrence, 2 Blatch., 121; Story in Agency, sec. 319, 319a, 319b; Throop in Public Officers, sec. 592.

Having assigned to each subordinate his duty, as he is authorized to under the statute, the neglect or malfeasance of such subordinate is not his, he has no more interest in it, and is no more affected by it than any other citizen, unless it concerns the receipt of fees or be an act done in his, the officer's name, like the certification of a record, or a copy thereof, or by the affixing of the seal of the office, or unless the officer, in himself performing some act, may reasonably, and does in fact, in the ordinary course of business rely upon their faithful and accurate performance of the duties assigned to them. (For example, the register, in appending to each liber of the record of deeds and mortgages a certificate that it is a true copy of the original instruments recorded therein, relies upon the comparing clerk, but not at all upon the copyist.) The subordinates in these two offices, who do acts in the officer's official name, i. e., who are permitted in the exercise of their judgment to sign his name to any writing where his official signature is required, or to affix the official seal to any matter requiring that seal, those who receive fees for which the officer is made responsible, and thereupon whose integrity, skill and care the officer does reasonably rely, in himself performing official acts, should be placed in the exempt list; all others not; unless expressly by name placed in that list by the civil service statute.

The statute of 1899 does not in terms put confidential positions only certain specified positions and "all other subordinate offices for the filling of which competitive or non-competitive examination may be found to be not practicable." Rule V prescribed by the Commission, places in the exempt class "such subordinate positions as the Commission may deem it not to be practicable to fill by competitive examination." Under these provisions any position which for sound reasons ought to be exempt belongs in the exempt class. It ought probably to be held impracticable to fill by examination most of the positions which, under the former law, were held confidential, but certainly it should be deemed impracticable to so fill any position, the incumbent of which may, by his acts or neglect, involve his superior in pecuniary liability.

The importance of a subordinate's duty, however great, does not exempt his position of the duty owed to the public only, if the officer has only that interest in the performance which other citizens have.

I think the security which the officer may require is intended to secure the public exactly as does the security given by the officer himself, but it will afford indemnity to the officer as well, in any case where the malfeasance or neglect results in loss to him.

I find that the equity clerks, document searchers, comparing clerks and messengers should be placed in the exempt class, and that copyists, index clerks, clerks of old records and custodians, should not.

Ordered accordingly.

COURT DECISIONS

Digest of decisions in the supreme court and court of appeals reported during the year 1902, affecting the civil service law and rules relating to appointments and removals in the civil service.

ASSIGNMENT OR DETAIL NOT AN APPOINTMENT

The assignment, after a civil service examination, of a sweeper employed in the department of street cleaning, New York city, to duty as an assistant section foreman, which position is not recognized in the statute organizing the department, although it fixes the salary to be paid to "sweepers or drivers acting as assistants to the section or stable foreman," is a mere detail and not an appointment to a distinct position. If the commissioner of street cleaning, in the exercise of his discretion, determines that there are too many assistant section foremen, he may properly revoke the assignment of any one of them and relegate him to his duties as sweeper. (Matter of Leach v. Woodbury, 75 App. Div. 503.)

CLASSIFICATION NOT OPEN TO COLLATERAL ATTACK

Where the municipal civil service commission of the city of Rochester has duly certified the pay-rolls of the police department containing the name of the person assigned by the commissioner of public safety under a resolution of the common council to duty as a detective for an indefinite time, the city comptroller must, in accordance with the charter, countersign checks which the city treasurer has issued to the detective for his pay, and cannot be permitted in a collateral manner to raise the questions that the position of detective has never been classified by the said commission and that it does not appear that the commission has determined that a promotion examination for the position of detective is necessary. (People ex rel. Barnet v. Johnston, 318 Misc. 645.)

UNCLASSIFIED SERVICE, ELECTIVE AND LEGISLATIVE OFFICERS

See Matter of Shaughnessy v. Fornes, 172 N. Y. 323.

SUBDIVISION OF ELIGIBLE LIST BY "DISTRICTS" OR "LOCALITIES"

The words "district" and "locality," contained in section 17 f the civil service law, providing for separate registration lists or districts or localities, refer to some political division of the tate created by legislative act and existing at the time the egistration lists are furnished, and such section does not uthorize the civil service commission of the city of New York, or the purpose of appointment of bridge tenders, to divide ne of the boroughs of that city into four districts and to main- ain separate lists for each one of such districts and to pro- ide that a person upon the list in one district shall not be ligible for appointment in any of the other districts. (People x rel. Melledy v. Shea, 73 App. Div. 232.)

Under section 17 of the civil service law the civil service ommission of the city of New York may, for the purpose of he appointment of bridge tenders, make a separate list in ach one of the four boroughs into which the city is divided nd provide that vacancies existing in one borough shall be illed from the eligible list for that borough. (People ex rel. Coyne v. Shea, 73 App. Div. 239.)

PROBATIONARY TERM

Under rule 35 of the municipal civil service rules of the city of New York, the probationary term of a bookbinder in the office of the City Record appointed by a resolution providing "said appointment to take effect on and after November 14, 1901," began when he commenced work under his appointment and not from the date specified in the resolution appointing him. Where, therefore, he did not actually commence work until November 18, 1901, and his services did not prove satisfactory, it was competent for the appointing officer to discharge him on February 17, 1902. (Matter of O'Grady v. Low, 74 App. Div. 246.)

A regular clerk in a department of the city of New York appointed for the probationary period of six months cannot be removed during that period except upon charges, and, if the appointing officer wishes to dispense with his services without preferring charges against him, he can do so only upon one day and that is upon the expiration of the probationary period. If all the days of actual probationary service, although intermittent because of illegal discharges in the meantime, together exceed six calendar months the appointing officer cannot discharge the clerk summarily, as his appointment has become permanent, and he cannot be removed under the city charter until he has been allowed an opportunity to make an explanation. (People ex rel. Kastor v. Kearny, 36 Misc. 717.)

RIGHT OF RETENTION DURING PROBATIONARY TERM

A person who stood at the head of the eligible list for appointment as searcher in the tax department of the city of New York was summarily discharged at the end of his probationary term, although his conduct, capacity and fitness were satisfactory to the department, while another searcher appointed a month later and performing similar duties was not discharged at the end of his probationary term. Held, that in view of rule 35 of the municipal civil service rules which provides "If the conduct, capacity and fitness of the probationer are satisfactory to the appointing officer, his retention in the service after the end of such term shall be equivalent to his permanent appointment, but if his conduct, capacity or fitness be not satisfactory, he may be discharged at the end of such term. Whenever two or more persons appointed from the same eligible list are serving as probationers in the same department and there is necessity for reduction of the force of such department affecting such persons, they shall be preferred for retention in the order of their original standing upon the list," the discharge was unauthorized. (People ex rel. Dempsey v. Wells, 38 Misc. 573.)

PROMOTION

The action of the police commissioner of the city of New York in increasing to $2,500 per annum, the salary of a clerk in the police department, who had theretofore been receiving an annual salary of $1,500, the maximum compensation attached to the grade in which his position was classified, constitutes a promotion within the meaning of section 15 of the civil service law and cannot be done except in compliance with the civil service rules. (People ex rel. Bacon v. Knox, 71 App. Div. 306.)

PREFERRED LIST OF SUSPENDED EMPLOYEES

Under section 1543 of the Greater New York charter, where a position in the civil service of the city of New York or of the city has been abolished and a different position involving similar duties has been created and the appointing officer neither makes a valid appointment to the new position nor makes any request of the civil service commission for the name of the person entitled to the position, the court is not justified in granting a peremptory writ of mandamus requiring the appointing officer to forthwith appoint the removed officer to the new position. It is only where there is need for his services that the removed official is entitled to be reinstated, and such need is to be determined by the appointing officer as evidenced by his request to the civil service commission for the name of the person entitled to the position. (Matter of Morrison v. Cantor, 75 App. Div. 480.)

Each coroner of the city of New York has a right to appoint a coroner's physician, and his term is the same as that of the coroner. Therefore, where the position of the coroner is abolished by law the term of the physician ends and the municipal civil service commission has no right or power thereafter to place his name upon the preferred list of suspended employees or to certify it for an appointment to a vacancy. (People ex rel. Whitman v. Goldenkranz, 38 Misc. 628.)

The amended charter of Greater New York by creating, in place of the department of buildings, a bureau of buildings for each borough, operated to legislate out of office the employees of the former department of buildings. A plumber inspector in the former department, who with other employees, was not retained after the amended charter went into effect because the appropriation was not sufficient to permit the retention of all such employees, is, by virtue of section 1543 of the charter suspended without pay until such time as his services shall be required. The power to determine when the services of the suspended employee are required is vested in the superintendent of buildings and the court has no control over such determination, and he is therefore not entitled to reinstatement until the appointing officer determines to make additional appointment and appoints those having a prior right to be reinstated. (Matter of O'Toole v. Stewart, 75 App. Div. 497.)

PREFERRED LIST OF SUSPENDED EMPLOYEES — VETERANS

A veteran soldier who was an assistant sergeant-at-arms to the council of the city of New York when the council was abolished and its powers and duties imposed upon the board of aldermen by the new charter, is not entitled to a writ of mandamus requiring the board of aldermen to elect him to the position of assistant sergeant-at-arms to that body under the statute giving preference to veteran soldiers (civil service law, section 21) or under section 1543 of the charter requiring that any clerk or employee of any department of the city whose position or employment may be abolished by the abolition of any department or its consolidation with another, shall be reinstated in the same or a similar position or employment in any department, since the board of aldermen is a legislative body with power to elect its own officers and attendants untrammeled by the provisions of the statute invoked by the relator which were intended to govern appointments in the various departments of the civil service of the city and have no application to elective officers or appointees. (Matter of Shaughnessy v. Fornes, 172 N. Y. 323; 73 App. Div. 462.)

A veteran volunteer fireman who has risen by competitive examinations to the position of chief engineer of highways and sewers of the borough of Richmond in the city of New York, who remained such until the abolition of that position on or about February 1, 1902, and who was at once placed by the municipal civil service commission at the head of the list of persons eligible to appointment to the position of chief engineer in the county of New York, is, upon the creation on or about the same day of the position of chief engineer in the bureau of highways in the office of the commissioner of public works of the borough of Manhattan, with the same salary and similar duties, entitled to a peremptory writ of mandamus requiring said civil service commissioners to certify his name to the borough president for appointment to said position and to certify it upon the pay-roll as of February 1, 1902, where the said president has attempted to appoint to the position a person not a veteran soldier, sailor or fireman, and one who was not certified by said commissioners for appointment to that position or any other. (Matter of Morrison v. Cantor, 38 Misc. 328.)

PREFERENCE IN RETENTION

A veteran volunteer fireman of the city of New York who alleges that he is a regular clerk in its fire department cannot be summarily discharged therefrom if it shall appear, as he alleges the fact to be, that persons neither veterans nor honorably discharged firemen are retained in the department doing the same work or work similar to that which he has been doing. (People ex rel. Wanzor v. Sturgis, 38 Misc. 433.)

STATUS OF LABOR IN REGARD TO SUSPENSION

In view of the provisions of the charter of the city of New York authorizing the commissioner of street cleaning to appoint such and so many mechanics and helpers as may be necessary, their aggregate salaries, however, not to exceed in any year the amount appropriated therefor by the city, a person appointed as a mason in said department has no right to continuous employment, and therefore, where the commissioner lays him off or puts him on half-time in order to keep the expenses within the appropriation or because there is no work for him to do, he cannot subsequently recover of the city for the periods during which he was willing to work but was not permitted to do so. (Driscoll v. City of New York, 38 Misc. 453.)

REMOVAL

A messenger in the department of parks of the city of New York may be removed summarily where his position is abolished in good faith in the interests of economy and no substantial duty of his position has been assigned to or is performed by any other employee of the department. (Matter of Seide v. Heustis, 38 Misc. 663.)

REMOVAL OF VETERAN — CONFIDENTIAL POSITION

The position of a deputy collector of assessments and arrears for the borough of Brooklyn, appointed by the collector of assessments and arrears, is within the exception contained in that clause of section 21 of the civil service law relative to the removal of veterans which provides, "nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to the position of private secretary or deputy of any official or department, or to any other person holding a strictly confidential position to the appointing officer." (People ex rel. O'Keefe v. McFadden, 75 App. Div. 264.)

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY-GENERAL

Veteran, Spanish-American war, employed in Elmira reformatory is protected from discharge by section 21 of the civil service law, and can only be removed upon charges preferred and hearing had.

STATE OF NEW YORK

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S OFFICE

ALBANY, January 30, 1902

F. W. ROBERTSON, Esq., General Superintendent, Elmira Reformatory, Elmira, N. Y.:

DEAR SIR.— I have received your letter of the twenty-ninth instant, referring to your conversation yesterday, by telephone, with my deputy, Mr. Warner, concerning the proper construction to be placed upon section 21 of the civil service law. I also have before me a communication dated January twenty-eighth, which seems to deal with the same question.

As I understand the matter from your letter and the conversation referred to, you have now employed in the steward's office connected with the reformatory a clerk who is a veteran of the Spanish-American war. That there are other clerkships or positions in said office or in connection with your institution which are similar in class, or, in other words, the duties of which are substantially the same, as those connected with and attached to the position held by the alleged veteran, and that these other clerkships referred to are held by persons, some of whom had been in the employ of the institution a number of years prior to the appointment of the clerk who claims to be a veteran, but none of whom are veterans or entitled to the specific protection afforded by said section 21. It appears from your letter that your board of managers are desirous of reducing expenses in connection with the institution, and for such purpose have decided that the clerical force can be reduced by one, and that the clerk who claims to be a veteran has been invited to tender his resignation, which he practically refuses to give, claiming protection under the law referred to. Your letter states that he has not been doing as satisfactory work as some of the other clerks, but that it would be difficult to establish his incompetency.

You ask to be advised as to whether this person is entitled to the protection of section 21 of the civil service law.

Upon the statement of fact contained in your letter, assuming, of course, that he is a veteran of the Spanish-American war, I have no hesitation in advising you that he comes within the provisions of said section 21 and can only be removed from his position or employment "except for incompetency or misconduct shown after a hearing upon due notice, upon stated charges and with the right of such employee, etc., to review by writ of certiorari," as therein provided. The previous provisions of the section, which possibly you have overlooked, to the effect that "no person holding a position by appointment or employment in the state of New York, or in the several cities, etc.," without doubt covers the place held by this person. He is to be regarded as now in the employment of the state of New York.

It has been held and may be taken to be the law, under the provisions of the section already referred to, that a position coming within this section may be abolished in the interests of necessary and substantial economic administration of the department, providing it is abolished in good faith. This proposition, however, is to be, in the case under discussion, considered in connection with another line of cases which hold that where several persons are employed as clerks, and one of them is a veteran, if discharges become necessary, the veteran is entitled to be discharged last. (Peo. ex rel. O'Connor v. Adams, 53 Hun, 141.) As stated in Civil Service Commissioner Collier's work on Civil Service, the two lines of decision are to be distinguished thus: "One line of authorities holds that a veteran's position may be abolished and its duties added to those of a position held by a non-veteran (if done for reasons above mentioned). The other merely holds that if any of the positions like the one held by the veteran are continued, veterans must be retained in preference to non-veterans."

The instance which you use for an illustration in your letter, stating it to be an extreme case, I think is really entitled to be regarded as an extreme case. The temporary increase of the usual force by the addition of temporary employees, one of whom may be a veteran, would present quite a different proposition when the time came for dispensing with the temporary employees. Certainly, the regular force could hardly be interfered with for the purpose of keeping in employment a man who happened to be a veteran, who had only been temporarily employed in the way of additional help.

Of course, all these cases depend upon and must be determined in the light of the particular facts surrounding each, and in expressing this opinion I have only endeavored to advise you as to what the courts have held under this section as applicable to the case as stated by you. The latter part of the section, having reference to employees in cities of the first class, does not, as I view it, embarrass the question any, for it simply provides that in such instances where the position held by the veteran has been abolished for reasons of economy, etc., the veteran, instead of being practically "out of a job," as he would be had he been in the employment of the state or any city, not of the first class, is entitled to be transferred to some other branch of the service in a position which he may be fitted to fill.

Trusting I have made the matter sufficiently plain and regretting that I am not able to meet your evident views of the case, I am,

Yours very truly,

JOHN C. DAVIES

Veterans, Spanish-American war, not entitled preference in appointment under section 20, civil service law, although protected from removal by section 21.

STATE OF NEW YORK
ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S OFFICE
ALBANY, February 11, 1902

Mr. WILLIAM H. JOHNSON, Syracuse, N. Y.:

DEAR SIR.— I am in receipt of your letter of the seventh instant, making inquiry as to whether a veteran of the Spanish-American war, who is on the eligible list, is entitled to the same preference under the civil service law as a veteran of the late civil war.

The preference accorded veterans in the way of appointments is prescribed by section 20 of the civil service law, and you will notice upon examination the same does not apply to veterans of the Spanish-American war. This class of veterans are, however, protected against removal by section 21 of the civil service law.

I am advised by the Civil Service Commission that no ruling has been made contrary to the foregoing suggestion, and it would therefore appear as though Spanish-American war veterans upon the eligible list, etc., do not have the same preference as veterans of the late civil war.

Yours very truly,

JOHN C. DAVIES

Exempt volunteer firemen — to become such must have served full term of five years.

STATE OF NEW YORK

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S OFFICE

ALBANY, March 31, 1902

MR. H. VAN BENSCHOTEN, Germantown, N. Y.:

DEAR SIR.— The secretary of state has referred to me your communication to him of the twenty-sixth instant, inquiring how long a volunteer fireman must serve to receive a certificate entitling him to exemptions. In reply I have the honor to say that by section 6 of title 3 of chapter 291 of the laws of 1870, every member of a village fire department while such member shall be exempt from serving in the militia, except in cases of war, invasion and insurrection, and every person who shall serve in such fire department five successive years shall thereafter be entitled to the like exemption from military service, and the certificate of such service authenticated by the president of the village and the corporate seal, shall be presumptive evidence before all courts and officers, civil and military, of such exemption. This law has been substantially reënacted in the present village law (chap. 414, laws 1897, § 209), which provides that "a full term of service in a fire department is fi-successive years. A person who has served in a fire department of a village, after becoming eighteen years of age, shall be entitled to a certificate of such service, signed by the president and under the corporate seal, or by the chief engineer and the secretary of the fire department, or by a majority of the members of the board of fire commissioners in a village in which separate fire commissioners are appointed. Such certificate shall be presumptive evidence of the facts stated therein.

"A member of a fire department who removes from the village shall be allowed, as part of a full term, the time he has served continuously as fireman therein, if, within three months thereafter, he becomes a member of the fire department of another village or city; and, upon completing a full term, shall be entitled to all the privileges and exemptions thereby secured to firemen."

By section 8 of chapter 315, laws 1887, regarding fire companies in unincorporated villages, as amended by chapter 745, laws 1895, it is provided that every active fireman who shall be a member of any department or company organized under the provisions of that act shall be entitled to all exemptions provided by chapter 291, laws 1870, and the acts amendatory thereof.

By section 1030 of the code of civil procedure, subdivision 13, "a member of a fire company or fire department duly organized according to the laws of the state and performing the duties therein; or a person, who, after faithfully serving five successive years in such a fire company or fire department, has been honorable discharged therefrom," is entitled to exemption from service as a trial juror, upon his claiming such exemption.

It is, therefore, my opinion that to entitle a fireman to a certificate entitling him to exemption he must have served the full term of five years.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN C. DAVIES

A person appointed, pursuant to the tax law, to the position of transfer tax clerk in the office of the surrogate of a county, is a county and not a state officer.

STATE OF NEW YORK

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S OFFICE

ALBANY, April 22, 1902

JOHN C. BIRDSEYE, Esq., Secretary, State Civil Service Commission, Albany, N. Y.:

DEAR SIR.— I have received your letter of the 10th instant enclosing communication from W. E. Hoysradt, surrogate of Dutchess county, together with notice of appointment of one Isaac P. Tice to the position of transfer tax clerk in the office of the surrogate of that county, made pursuant to section 234 of the tax law, as amended by chapter 283 of the laws of this year, with a request for an opinion from this department as to whether the position to which Mr. Tice has been appointed is a county or state office.

Section 2 of the public officers law seems to be plain upon this subject, and provides "The term state officer includes every officer for whom the electors of the state are entitled to vote * * * and every officer appointed by one or more state officers, * * * and authorized to exercise his official functions throughout the entire state without limitation to any political division of the state. * * * The term local officer includes every other officer who is elected by the electors of a portion only of the state, every officer of a political subdivision or municipal corporation of the state, and every officer limited in the execution of his official functions to a portion only of the state. The office of a state officer is a state office. The office of a local officer is a local office."

Under this section there would seem to be no doubt but that the position in question is a local office of Dutchess county.

The communication of the surrogate and the certificate of appointment are herewith returned.

Yours very truly,

JOHN C. DAVIES

Civil service—Veteran not entitled to preference in appointment of a collector of a school district

STATE OF NEW YORK

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S OFFICE

ALBANY, September 16, 1902

D. A. LOCKWOOD, Esq., Attorney, etc., Mechanicville, N. Y.:

DEAR SIR.— I have yours of the thirteenth instant, asking for my opinion as to the necessity under the law of giving a preference to a veteran in the appointment of a collector for a school district, and referring to the case of the People ex rel. Burlingame v. Hayward (19 App. Div. 46).

The later cases of People ex rel. McAvoy v. School Board (43 App. Div. 613) and Ridenour v. Board of Education (reported in 15th Misc. 418) will probably be of interest to you in this connection.

In the recent text-book with relation to civil service, written by Commissioner Collier, this question is discussed upon pages 115-116. What the author says is too extensive to be inserted in this letter. It is sufficient to say that the construction of the provisions of law relating to this question given by Justice Lambert in the case in nineteenth appellate division is considerably commented upon and somewhat criticised, the author saying: "But whether or not a veteran can properly claim a preferential right of appointment as janitor of a public school, it would seem that a veteran incumbent of a position is entitled to the protection of section 21."

That as the statutes exist at the present time, the cases reported in 19 and 43 App. Div. must control, so far as preference of appointment is concerned, and such seems to be the view taken by the secretary of the Civil Service Commission, with whom I consulted with reference to your letter this morning.

Of course you understand that the provisions of the civil service law generally have no application to localities of the description of yours, except as extended thereto by the making of rules and classifications.

Yours very truly,

JOHN C. DAVIES

Quo warranto actions allowed against captains of police in the city of New York who are alleged to have been appointed illegally.

STATE OF NEW YORK

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S OFFICE

ALBANY, December 29, 1902

BEFORE THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL

IN THE MATTER OF THE PETITION OF JOHN N. PARTRIDGE, POLICE COMMISSIONER OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK TO JOHN C. DAVIES, ATTORNEY-GENERAL OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, TO BRING AN ACTION OR ACTIONS against

EDWARD J. O'TOOLE, MICHAEL DEVANEY, JOHN COONEY, JOHN BUCHANAN, EDWARD A. GANS, JOHN E. COLGAN, EDWARD J. KENNY, MICHAEL E. FOODY, JOHN J. LANTRY, FRANCIS A. CREAMER, FRANCIS J. KEAR, JOHN F. FLOOD, JOHN MARA, EDWARD WALSH, LAWRENCE J. MURPHY, CHARLES C. WENDELL, JAMES GANNON, MICHAEL GORMAN, JEFFERSON DEEVY.

Hon. George L. Rives, corporation counsel, for petitioner.

Hon. Wm. C. De Witt and James, Schell & Elkus, for respondents.

This is an application to the attorney-general to commence an action or actions in the nature of quo warranto, against the above-named respondents, for the purpose of ousting them, respectively, from the office of police captain in the city of New York, upon the ground that they are unlawfully intruding into and usurping such office.

The basis of the application is that the respondents were appointed to the office of police captain, in violation of the provisions of the civil service law and in pursuance of the fraudulent and collusive action of a former board of police commissioners, in giving to them ratings to which they were not entitled.

Without entering upon any extended discussion of the merits of the controversy, I am satisfied from the evidence presented to me that the situation is such as to demand an investi-

ɔsed.

ıave concluded, therefore, to grant the application, and and direct that such actions be immediately commenced ıst such of the above-named respondents as are not three commissioners shall constitute the State Civil Service Commission. They shall hold no other official place under the state of New York. The governor may remove any commissioner, and any vacancy in the position of commissioner shall be so filled by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, as to conform to said conditions for the first selection of commissioners. The three commissioners shall each receive a salary of three thousand dollars a year, and each of said commissioners shall be paid his necessary traveling expenses incurred in the discharge of his duty as commissioner. [As amended by chap. 36, laws of 1900.]

§ 4 Officers and employees of the Commission. The Commission may elect one of its members to be president, and may employ a chief examiner, a secretary, and such other officers, clerks and examiners as it may deem necessary or proper to carry out the purposes of this act, and such employees shall hold office during the pleasure of the Commission. Persons so selected shall be entitled to compensation from the Commission for their necessary expenses occasioned by the service actually rendered, in addition to the regular service required in the department or office where they are regularly employed. The compensation of examiners shall not exceed five dollars per day, except in the case of special and expert examiners employed in the preparation of questions and rating of candidates; the Commission shall not expend or authorize the expenditure of moneys for any purpose in excess of the sums appropriated therefor by law.

§ 5 Rooms and accommodations. It shall be the duty of the trustees of public buildings to cause suitable and convenient rooms and accommodations to be assigned or provided, and to be furnished, heated and lighted, at the capitol in the city of Albany, for carrying on the work and examinations of said Commission, and said Commission may order the necessary stationery, postage stamps, an official seal and other articles to be supplied, and the necessary printing to be done for its official use. It shall be the duty of the officers of the state of New York or of any civil division thereof, at any place where examinations are directed by the Commission or its rules to be held, to allow the reasonable use of public buildings, and to heat and light the same for holding such examinations, and in all proper ways to facilitate the same.

§ 6 The powers and duties of the Commission. The State Civil Service Commission shall

First — Prescribe, amend and enforce suitable rules and regulations for carrying into effect the provisions of this act and of section nine of article five of the constitution of the state of New York, as herein provided. The rules prescribed by the state and municipal commissions pursuant to the provisions of this act shall have the force and effect of law.

Second — Keep minutes of its own proceedings and records of its examinations and other official action.

Third — Make investigations concerning and report upon all matters touching the enforcement and effect of the provisions of this act and the rules and regulations prescribed thereunder, concerning the action of any examiner or subordinate of the Commission and any person in the public service, in respect to the execution of this act, and in the course of such investigations each commissioner and the secretary and the chief examiner shall have power to administer oaths.

Fourth — Have power to subpoena and require the attendance in this state of witnesses and the production thereby of books and papers pertinent to the investigation and inquiries hereby authorized and to examine them and such public records as it shall require in relation to any matter which it is required to investigate. And for the purposes of the examination hereby directed, the Commission possesses all the powers conferred by the legislative law upon a committee of the legislature or by the code of civil procedure upon a board or committee, and may invoke the power of any court of record in the state to compel the attendance and testifying of witnesses and the production thereby of books and papers as aforesaid.

Fifth — Make an annual report to the governor for transmission to the legislature, showing its own action, the rules and regulations and the exceptions thereto in force, and the practical effects thereof and any suggestions it may approve for the more effectual accomplishment of the purposes of this act.

Sixth — Meet in Albany at least once in each calendar month, except the month of August, and hold such other meetings as the needs of the public service may require. A majority of the members of the Commission shall constitute a quorum.

§ 7 Duties of public officers. It shall be the duty of all officers of the state of New York or of any city or civil division thereof to conform to and comply with and to aid in all proper ways in carrying into effect the provisions of this act, and the rules and regulations prescribed thereunder and any modification thereof. No officer or officers having the power of appointment or employment shall select or appoint any person for appointment, employment, promotion or reinstatement except in accordance with the provisions of this act and the rules and regulations prescribed thereunder. Any person employed or appointed contrary to the provisions of this act or of the rules and regulations established thereunder, shall be paid by the officer or officers so employing or appointing, or attempting to employ or appoint, him, the compensation agreed upon for any services performed under such appointment or employment, or in case no compensation is agreed upon, the actual value of such services, and any expenses incurred in connection therewith, and shall have a cause of action against such officer or officers or any of them for such sum or sums and for the costs of the action. All appointments or employments in the classified service, except those of veterans of the civil war, honorably discharged from the military or naval service of the United States, shall be for a probationary term not exceeding the time fixed in the rules. [As amended by chapter 270, laws of 1902.]

§ 9 Rules for the classified state service. Within one month after the passage of this act, the commission shall make rules for the classification of the offices, places and employments in the classified service of the state, and thereafter from time to time rules for the classification of the offices, places and employments in such other civil divisions thereof, except cities. as after due inquiry by the Commission shall be found practicable, and for appointments and promotions therein and examinations therefor, not inconsistent with the constitution and the provisions of this act, and shall amend the same from time to time. Such persons shall be municipal civil service commissioners and shall constitute the municipal civil service commission of such city. All appointments or designations of municipal civil service commissioners shall be made in such manner that not more than two-thirds of such commissioners in any city shall at any time be adherents of the same political party. Such rules herein prescribed and established, and all regulations now existing for appointment and promotion in the civil service of said city, and any subsequent modification thereof, whether prescribed under the authority of a general law or of any special or local law, shall be valid and take or continue in effect only upon the approval of the mayor of the city and of the State Civil Service Commission. The authority by this section conferred shall not be so exercised as to take from any policeman or fireman any right or benefit conferred by law, or existing under any lawful regulation of the department in which he serves. All examinations herein authorized shall be public, and all rules shall be published, and, with all the proceedings and papers connected with said examinations shall be at all times subject to the inspection of said State Commission and its agents; and said Commission shall set forth in its reports the character and practical effects of such examinations, together with its views as to the improvement and extension of the same, and also copies of all rules made under the authority hereby conferred. Subject to the provisions of this act and of said rules, the municipal commission of any city shall make regulations for and have control of examinations and registrations for the service of such city, and shall supervise and preserve the records of the same. In case, for any reason, the mayor of any city within sixty days after he has the power to appoint, fails to appoint such municipal commissioners, the State Commission shall appoint them to hold office until the expiration of the term of the mayor then in office and their successors are appointed and qualify. It shall be the duty of such persons to prepare and to procure the approval of the rules herein provided for, and, if they fail to do so within sixty days after their appointment, the State Commission shall forthwith make said rules. It shall be the duty of such persons to make reports from time to time to the State Commission, whenever said Commission may request, of the manner in which this law, and the rules and regulations thereunder, have been and are administered, and the results of their administration in such city, and of such other matters as said Commission may require, and annually on or before the fifteenth day of January, to make such a report to said commission; and it shall be the duty of said State Commission in its annual report to set out either these reports, or a sufficient abstract or summary thereof, to give full and clear information as to their contents. A copy of the roster of the classified civil service of such city shall be transmitted to the State Commission with the annual report aforesaid, and shall be filed in the office of said Commission as a public record. The mayor may at any time remove any municipal civil service commissioner appointed by him. Said State Commission may also, by unanimous vote of the three commissioners, with the written approval of the governor, remove any municipal civil service commissioner appointed or employed under the authority of this section, for incompetence, inefficiency, neglect of duty or violation of the provisions of this act, or of the rules and regulations in force thereunder, or of any of them, specifying in writing the particulars of the incompetency, inefficiency, neglect of duty or violation charged, and filing the same as a public document in the office of the city clerk, or if there be no city clerk, in the office of the clerk of the board of aldermen, and a certified transcript thereof in the office of the State Civil Service Commission, first giving him an opportunity to make a personal explanation in self-defense. Whenever a municipal civil service commissioner has been removed by the unanimous vote of the three State Commissioners, with the written approval of the governor, or whenever any municipal commissioner shall resign or be removed by the mayor pending an investigation by the State Commission of the administration of the civil service of the city in which such person is a municipal commissioner, or whenever any municipal commissioner shall resign or be removed by the mayor pending a hearing by the State Commission of charges preferred against such municipal commissioner, the State Commission and not the mayor of such city shall have power to appoint persons to fill such vacancies, and such persons so appointed by the State Commission shall hold office as municipal civil service commissioners of such city until the expiration of the term of the mayor then in office and until their successors are appointed and qualify. Said State Commission may at any time, by unanimous vote of the three commissioners, amend or rescind any rule, regulation or classification prescribed under provisions of this section, provided that said State Commission shall state the reasons for such action in writing and file the same and a certified transcript thereof as a public document as hereinbefore provided, and give an opportunity to the municipal civil service commissioners concerned to make a personal explanation and to file papers in opposition to such action. The said State Commission, however, shall not take such action upon any ground other than that the provisions or purposes of this act are not properly or sufficiently carried out by such rule, regulation or classification, nor without specifying in writing and detail in what particular such provisions or purposes are not carried out, nor shall said State Commission exempt from competitive examination any position, or place or employment in any city without the consent of the municipal commission of such city. [As amended by chapter 675, laws of 1900.]

*NOTE.—The appropriations for expenses of examinations (chaps. 644, laws 1901 and 593, laws 1902) provide for examinations in the following places: Albany, Amsterdam, Auburn, Binghamton, Buffalo, Elmira, Hornellsville, Ithaca, Jamestown, Kingston, Lockport, Malone, Newburgh, New York, Ogdensburg, Olean, Plattsburg, Poughkeepsie, Rochester, Syracuse, Utica and Watertown.

§ 11 Classification. The officers and positions in the classified service of the state or of any city or civil division thereof for which civil service rules shall be established pursuant to this act, shall be arranged in four classes to be designated as the exempt class, the competitive class, the non-competitive class, and, in cities, the labor class.

§ 12 The exempt class. The following positions shall be included in the exempt class:

1 The deputies of principal executive officers authorized by law to act generally for and in place of their principals;

2 One secretary of each officer, board and commission authorized by law to appoint a secretary;

3 One clerk, and one deputy clerk if authorized by law, of each court, and one clerk of each elective judicial officer;

4 In the state service, all unskilled laborers and such skilled laborers as are not included in the competitive class or the non-competitive class; and in addition thereto there may be included in the exempt class all other subordinate offices for the filling of which competitive or non-competitive examination may be found to be not practicable. But no office or position shall be deemed to be in the exempt class unless it is specifically named in such class in the rules, and the reasons for each such exemption shall be stated separately in the annual reports of the Commission. Not more than one appointment shall be made to or under the title of any such office or position, unless a different number is specifically mentioned in such rules. Appointments to positions in the exempt class may be made without examination.

§ 13 The competitive class. The competitive class shall include all positions for which it is practicable to determine the merit and fitness of applicants by competitive examination, and shall include all positions now existing, or hereafter created, of whatever functions, designations or compensation, in each and every branch of the classified service, except such positions as are in the exempt class, the non-competitive class or the labor class. Appointments shall be made to or employment shall be given in all positions in the competitive class that are not filled by promotion, reinstatement, transfer or reduction under the provisions of this act and the rules in pursuance thereof, by appointment of those graded highest in open competitive examinations conducted by the state or municipal commission, except as herein otherwise provided. The term of eligibility shall be fixed for each eligible list at not less than one nor more than four years. Appointment shall be made from the eligible list most nearly appropriate for the group in which the position to be filled is classified, and a new list shall be created for a stated position or group of positions only when there is no appropriate list existing from which appointment may be made. No person shall be appointed or employed under any title not appropriate to the duties to be performed, and no person shall be transferred to, or assigned to perform the duties of, any position subject to competitive examination, unless he shall have previously passed an open competitive examination equivalent to that required for such position, or unless he shall have served with fidelity for at least three years in a similar position. Appointments to positions in the state service, the duties of which are confined to a locality outside of Albany county, shall, so far as practicable, be made from residents of the judicial district including such locality. The examinations shall be public and shall be practical in their character and shall relate to those matters which will fairly test the relative capacity and fitness of the persons examined to discharge the duties of that service into which they seek to be appointed. Such commissions shall prepare lists of preliminary requirements and subjects of examination for the several positions or groups of positions in the competitive class and shall publish its rules and such information, and advertise such examinations in such manner as the nature of the examinations may require. Each of such commissions shall require intending competitors to file in its office a reasonable length of time before the date of any examination, a formal application in which the applicant shall state under oath:

1 His full name, residence and post-office address.

2 His age, the place and date of his birth.

3 His health and physical capacity for the public service.

4 His right of preference by reason of military or naval service.

5 His business or employment, and residence for at least the previous five years.

6 Such other information as may reasonably be required touching the applicant's merit and fitness for the public service.

Blank forms for such applications shall be furnished by said commissions without charge to all persons requesting the same. Such commissions may require in connection with such application such certificates of citizens, physicians, public officers or others having knowledge of the applicant, as the good of the service may require. Such commissions may refuse to examine an applicant, or after examination to certify an eligible, who is found to lack any of the established preliminary requirements for the examination or position for which he applies; or who is physically so disabled as to be rendered unfit for his performance of the duties of the position to which he seeks appointment; or who is addicted to the habitual use of intoxicating beverages to excess; or who has been guilty of a crime or of infamous or notoriously disgraceful conduct; or who has been dismissed from the public service for delinquency or misconduct; or who has intentionally made a false statement of any material fact, or practiced, or attempted to practice, any deception or fraud in his application, in his examination, or in securing his eligibility or appointment. When the position to be filled involves fiduciary responsibility, the appointing officer, where otherwise permitted by law, may require the appointee to furnish a bond or other security and shall notify the state or municipal commission of the amount and necessary details thereof.

1 Whenever there are urgent reasons for filling a vacancy in any position in the competitive class and there is no list of persons eligible for appointment after competitive examination, the appointing officer may nominate a person to the state or municipal commission for non-competitive examination, and if such nominee shall be certified by such commission as qualified after such non-competitive examination, he may be appointed provisionally to fill such vacancy until a selection and appointment can be made after competitive examination, but such provisional appointment shall not continue for a longer period than two months, nor shall successive temporary appointments be made to the same position under this subdivision.

2 In case of vacancy in a position in the competitive class where peculiar and exceptional qualifications of a scientific, professional or educational character are required, and upon satisfactory evidence that for specified reasons competition in such special case is impracticable and that the position can be best filled by the selection of some designated person of high and recognized attainments in such qualities, the state or municipal commission may suspend the provisions of the rule requiring competition in such case, but no such suspension shall be general in its application to such place, and all such cases of suspension shall be reported in the annual reports of such commissions with the reasons for the same.

3 When the services to be rendered by an appointee in the state service are for a temporary period not to exceed one month and the need of such service is important and urgent, the appointing officer may select for such temporary service any person on the proper list of those eligible for permanent appointment without regard to his standing on such list. [As amended by chapter 355, laws of 1902.]

§ 15 Promotion, transfer, reinstatement, reduction. Vacancies in positions in the competitive class shall be filled, so far as practicable, by promotion from among persons holding positions in a lower grade in the department, office or institution in which the vacancy exists. Promotions shall be based upon merit and competition and upon the superior qualifications of the person promoted as shown by his previous service, due weight being given to seniority. For the purposes of this section an increase in the salary or other compensation of any person holding an office or position within the scope of the rules in force hereunder beyond the limit fixed for the grade in which such office or position is classified, shall be deemed a promotion. No promotion, transfer or reinstatement shall be made from a position in one class to a position in another class unless the same be specially authorized by the state or municipal commission, nor shall a person be promoted or transferred to a position for original entrance to which there is required by this act or the rules an examination involving essential tests or qualifications different from or higher than those required for original entrance to the position held by such person, unless he shall have passed the examination or attained a place upon the eligible list for such higher position.

§ 16 The non-competitive class. The non-competitive class shall include such positions as are not in the exempt class or the labor class and which it is impracticable to include in the competitive class. Appointments to positions in the non-competitive class shall be made after such non-competitive examination as is prescribed by the rules.

§ 17 The labor class in cities. The labor class in cities shall include unskilled laborers and such skilled laborers as are not included in the competitive class or the non-competitive class. Vacancies in the labor class in cities shall be filled by appointment from lists of applicants registered by the municipal commissions. Preference in employment from such lists shall be given according to date of application. There shall be separate lists of applicants for different kinds of labor or employment, and the commissions may establish separate labor lists for various institutions and departments. Where the labor service of any department or institution extends to separate localities, the commissions may provide separate registration lists for each district or locality. The commissions shall require an applicant for registration for the labor service to furnish such evidence or pass such examination as they may deem proper with respect to his age, residence, physical condition, ability to labor, skill, capacity and experience in the trade or employment for which he applies.

§ 18 Official roster; reports of appointing officers. No person all be appointed to or employed in any position in the classified rvice of the state or of any city or civil division thereof for ich rules have been prescribed pursuant to the provisions of s act, until he has passed an examination or is shown to be ecially exempted from such examination in conformity with h rules and the provisions of this act. Any sums paid contrary to the provisions of this section may be recovered from any officer or officers making such appointment in contravention of the provisions of law and of the rules made in pursuance of law, or any officer signing or countersigning, or authorizing the signing or countersigning of any warrant for the payment of the same, and from the sureties on his official bond, in an action in the supreme court of the state, maintained by a citizen resident therein, who is assessed for and is liable to pay, or within one year before the commencement of the action, has paid a tax therein. § 20 Preferences allowed honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines. In every public department and upon all public works of the state of New York and of the cities, counties, towns and villages thereof, honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines from the army and navy of the United States in the late civil war who are citizens and residents of this state, shall be entitled to preference in appointment and promotion without regard to their standing on any list from which such appointment or promotion may be made to all competitive and non-competitive positions, provided their qualifications and fitness shall have been ascertained as provided in this act and the rules and regulations in pursuance thereof; and the persons thus preferred shall not be disqualified from holding any position in the civil service on account of his age or by reason of any physical disability provided such age or disability does not render him incompetent to perform the duties of the position applied for. If the position so held by any such honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine, or volunteer fireman shall become unnecessary or be abolished for reason of economy or otherwise, the said honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine, or volunteer fireman holding the same shall not be discharged from the public service, but shall be transferred to any branch of the said service for duty in such position as he may be fitted to fill receiving the same compensation therefor, and it is hereby made the duty of all persons clothed with power of appointment to make such transfer effective. The burden of proving incompetency or misconduct shall be upon the person alleging the same. No person in the civil service of the state or of any city or civil division thereof, is for that reason under any obligation to contribute to any political fund or to render any political service, and no person shall be removed or otherwise prejudiced for refusing so to do. No person in the said civil service shall discharge or promote or reduce, or in any manner change the official rank or compensation of any other person in said service, or promise or threaten so to do for giving or withholding or neglecting to make any contribution of money or service or any other valuable thing for any political purpose. No person in said service shall use his official authority or influence to coerce the political action of any person or body, or o interfere with any election.

Any person who shall be guilty of violating any provision of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 25 Officers or candidates not to promise influence, et cetera; "public officer" and "public employee" defined. Whoever, while holding any public office, or in nomination for, or while seeking a nomination or appointment for any public office, shall corruptly use or promise to use, whether directly or indirectly, any official authority or influence (whether then possessed or merely anticipated) in the way of conferring upon any person; or in order to secure or aid any person in securing any office or public employment, or any nomination, confirmation, promotion or increase of salary, upon the consideration or condition that the vote or political influence or action of the last named person, or any other, shall be given or used in behalf of any candidate, officer or party, or upon any other corrupt condition or consideration, shall be deemed guilty of bribery or an attempt at bribery. And whoever, being a public officer, or having or claiming to have any authority or influence for or affecting the nomination, public employment, confirmation, promotion, removal or increase or decrease of salary of any public officer, shall corruptly use, or promise, or threaten to use any such authority or influence, directly or indirectly, in order to coerce or persuade the vote or political action of any citizen or the removal, discharge or promotion of any officer or public employee, or upon any other corrupt consideration, shall also be guilty of bribery or of an attempt at bribery. Every person found guilty of such bribery, or an attempt to commit the same, as aforesaid, shall, upon conviction thereof, be liable to be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than three thousand dollars, or to be imprisoned not less than ten days nor more than two years, or to both said fine and said imprisonment in the discretion of the court. The phrase "public officer" shall be held to include all public officials in this state, whether paid directly or indirectly from the public treasury of the state, or from that of any civil division thereof, or by fees or otherwise; and the phrase "public employee" shall be held to include every person not being an officer who is paid from any said treasury.

§ 26 Attendance of witnesses; fees. Witnesses and officers to subpoena and secure the attendance of witnesses before said commission, shall be entitled to the same fees as are allowed witnesses in civil cases in courts of record. Such fees need not be prepaid, but the comptroller shall draw his warrant for the payment of the amount thereof, when the same shall have been certified to by the president of the commission, and duly proved by affidavit or otherwise to the satisfaction of the said comptroller; and all state, county, town, municipal and other officers and their deputies, clerks, subordinates and employees shall afford the said board all reasonable facilities in conducting the inquiries specified in this act, and give inspection to said board of all books, papers and documents belonging, or in any way appertaining to the respective offices, and shall also produce said books and papers, and shall attend and testify when required to do so by said commission.

§ 27 Taxpayer's action. The right of any taxpayer to bring an action to restrain the payment of compensation to any person appointed to or holding any office, or place or employment in violation of any of the provisions of this act, shall not be limited or denied by reason of the fact that said office, or place or employment shall have been classified as, or determined to be, not subject to competitive examination; provided, however, that any judgment or injunction granted or made in any such action shall be prospective only, and shall not affect payments already made or due to such persons by the proper disbursing officers, in accordance with the civil service rules in force at the time of such payments.

§ 28 Saving clause. All rules, regulations and classifications for appointment or promotion in the civil service of the state or any city or civil division thereof, not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, established with the approval of the governor or the State Commission under authority of law prior to the passage of this act, shall continue in full force and effect until annulled or amended pursuant to the provisions of this act; and the State Civil Service Commissioners and the municipal civil service commissioners of any city, now in office, appointed or designated under the provisions of law prior to the passage of this act, shall continue in office until their successors are appointed and qualify, and shall have the same tenure and all the powers and duties which they would have if appointed under the provisions of this act. All merit and eligible lists of persons examined prior to the passage of this act, under the civil service rules and regulations in force at the time of such examination, shall be continued in full force and effect as if formed under the provisions of this act, subject, however, to such reasonable regulation and revision as the rules shall prescribe.

§ 29 Repeal. Of the laws enumerated in the schedule hereto annexed, that portion specified in the last column is repealed. All other acts or parts of acts, whether general, special or local, and all rules, regulations and classifications for appointment or promotion in the civil service of the state or any civil division thereof, inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed; provided, however, that any act done or right accruing, accrued or acquired, or liability, penalty, or punishment incurred prior to the passage of this act shall not be affected or impaired; but the same may be asserted, enforced, prosecuted or inflicted as fully, and to the same extent, as if the several acts herein referred to had not been amended or repealed.

13 The term "veterans" refers to honorably discharged soldiers and sailors from the army and navy of the United States, in the late civil war, who are citizens and residents of this state.

14 The terms "laborer" and "unskilled laborer" are used synonymously and shall be construed as applying only to persons employed as ordinary laborers, and shall not include mechanics, artisans, tradesmen and other skilled laborers, and no person shall be deemed a "laborer" who receives a compensation greater than two dollars for each day of actual service or sixty dollars per month, unless facts relating to the work done by such person are presented to the Commission showing that such work is that of an ordinary unskilled laborer. [As amended April 18, 1902.]

15 The masculine pronoun "he" and its derivatives shall include the feminine pronoun "she" and its derivatives.

16 Whenever in these rules there is a direction that the Commission shall report any matter to the legislature it shall be construed as referring to the next ensuing annual report of the Commission to the legislature as required by law.

2 The commission may further subdivide for the purposes of examination the positions in any group or subdivision thereof, so as to test practically the special qualifications requisite for such positions.

3 The classification of all positions shall be governed solely by the respective duties and functions of such positions, and in requesting from the commission certifications from eligible lists for selection for appointment, the heads of offices shall give in detail the duties attached to such positions, and shall name so near as may be the groups and subdivisions that comprise respectively such duties and functions.

4 For the purpose of orderly arrangement and of regulated promotion, the positions in each subdivision of each group shall be divided into grades based upon the rates of annual compensation.

Rule VIII — Appointments to positions in the competitive class

1 Appointments shall be made to or employment shall be given in all positions in the competitive class that are not filled by promotion, reinstatement, transfer or reduction under these rules by selection from the persons graded highest on the most nearly appropriate eligible list resulting from open competitive examination held by the commission, except as herein otherwise provided. (As amended May 8, 1900.)

2 Whenever an appointing officer shall request a certification from the commission for appointment to or employment in any position in the competitive class, he shall specify the title ities and compensation of such position, so that certification ay be made from the proper eligible list, or that when neces- ry a proper eligible list may be prepared as the result of an en competitive examination held for that purpose. The sec- ary shall thereupon as soon as practicable certify to the ap- inting officer for appointment, from the eligible list most arly appropriate to such position, as it may then exist, the mes of the three persons, if there be so many, standing highest such eligible list, indicating such of them, if any, as are hon- ibly discharged soldiers, sailors or marines from the army navy of the United States in the late civil war, citizens and idents of this state, together with the average percentages d post-office addresses of such persons. If the appointing icer shall notify the commission of more than one vacancy at y time, the secretary shall certify to the appointing officer names of as many persons as there are vacancies to be filled, th the addition of two names. No person shall be certified m an eligible list more than three times to the same appoint- officer for the same or a similar position, except at the re- st of said officer, unless the person so certified is a veteran, which case his name shall continue to be certified so long it remains on the eligible list under these rules. Whenever sex of those whose names are to be certified is fixed by any , rule or regulation, or is specified in the request for certifica- n, the names of those of the sex so fixed or specified shall be tified, but in other cases certification shall be made without ard to sex. When an eligible certified for appointment shall l to accept an offer of appointment by mail within the four siness days next succeeding the mailing of notice of appoint- nt, or shall fail to accept an appointment within the same next succeeding business day when notification is sent him telegram, he shall be deemed to have declined the appoint- nt, and upon proper notice of such fact from the appointing er the secretary shall certify from the list an additional name ames to replace the names of the persons so declining. An ible who has declined an appointment shall not thereafter ertified for a position at the same or any less salary except his written request to the commission. Whenever one or more eligibles shall have declined any appointment offered and an eligible whose relative standing is lower shall have been appointed to the position, the salary or compensation of such appointee shall not be increased within a period of six months after his appointment beyond that offered to the persons so declining. (As amended May 8, 1900.)

3 From the persons whose names are so certified the officer shall make selection to fill the vacancy or vacancies, subject, however, to the provisions of the constitution giving preference in appointment to veterans. Whenever the appointing officer who shall have made a requisition to fill a certain number of vacancies shall appoint a number smaller than that of the vacancies named by him, he shall not make selection from the whole number certified to him but only from that number of names standing highest upon the list that would have been certified to him had the requisition stated the number of vacancies which he actually filled. Whenever an eligible list from which certification is to be made contains only one name, such person shall be eligible for temporary appointment until additional eligibles can be certified after competitive examination, but may be appointed permamently in the discretion of the appointing officer. (As amended May 8, 1900.)

4 Whenever there are urgent reasons for filling a vacancy in any position in the competitive class, and there is no list of persons eligible for appointment after competitive examination, the appointing officer may nominate a person to the state commission for non-competitive examination, and if such nominee shall be certified by such commission as qualified after such non-competitive examination, he may be appointed provisionally to fill such vacancy until a selection and appointment can be made after competitive examination, but such provisional appointment shall not continue more than ten days after notice to the appointing officer that an eligible list has been prepared for such position, nor in any case for a longer period than two months.

5 In case of vacancy in any position in the competitive class, where peculiar and exceptional qualifications of a scientific, professional or educational character are required, and upon satisfactory evidence that for specified reasons competition in such special case is impracticable, and that the position can be best filled by the selection of some designated person of high and recognized attainments in such qualities, the commission may suspend the provisions of the rule requiring competition in such case, but no such suspension shall be general in its application to such place, and all such cases of suspension shall be reported to the legislature, with the reasons for the same.

6 When the services to be rendered by an appointee in the state service are for a temporary period, not to exceed one month, and the need of such service is important and urgent, the appointing officer may select for such service any person on the proper list of those eligible for permanent appointment, without regard to his standing on such list.

7 No person shall be eligible to temporary appointment to any position in the competitive class if he has received a temporary or provisional appointment within the previous four months.

8 The acceptance by an eligible of a temporary appointment shall not affect his standing on the register for a permanent employment, nor shall the period of temporary service be counted as part of the probationary service, in case of subsequent appointment to a permanent position.

9 The commission may by special action except from examination under these rules any person engaged in private business who shall render any professional, scientific, technical or other expert service of an occasional and exceptional character to any state officer, and whose compensation in any one year shall not exceed $300; provided, that such limitation of compensation shall not apply to any such person employed by the governor, comptroller or attorney-general; and further provided, that the commission may suspend such limitation of compensation by special resolution in other cases. All exceptions granted under this section, with the reasons therefor, shall be set forth by the commission in its next annual report.

10 Whenever a vacancy exists in the competitive class, and there is no eligible list from which an appointment can be made thereto, and in an open competitive examination duly advertised there either are no applicants or none of the applicants appearing is found qualified, the head of the office may nominate a person to the commission for non-competitive examination, and if such nominee shall be certified by the commission as qualified, he may be appointed to fill such vacancy. In case there is a person serving in such a position under provisional examination, and no one applies to compete with him in an open competitive examination duly advertised, the provisional appointment of such person may be made permanent.

11 A person legally holding a position by appointment for a fixed term, may be retained without examination at the expiration of such term upon receiving a reappointment, but otherwise the position shall be deemed vacant for the purpose of choosing his successor. (Added November 14, 1900.)

Rule IX — Applications to enter examinations

1 No person shall be admitted to any examination for a position in the competitive class, until as provided by the civil service law, he shall have filed an application under oath upon a form prescribed by the commission and accompanied by such certificates as may be prescribed.

2 Every applicant for examination must be a citizen of the United States, and an actual resident of the state of New York at the time of his application, provided, that such requirements as to citizenship and residence may be specially suspended by the commission as to any position requiring high professional, scientific or technical qualifications, or in cases where through low compensation for services such requirements are disadvantageous to the public interests, but all such cases, whether of individuals or groups, with the reasons therefor, shall be reported to the legislature.

3 No application for examination shall be accepted, unless the applicant is within the age limitations fixed by the commission for entrance to the position to which he seeks to be appointed.

4 The commission may refuse to examine an applicant, or after examination to certify an eligible who is found to lack any of the established preliminary requirements for the examination or position for which he applies; or who is physically s lisabled as to be rendered unfit for the performance of the luties of the position to which he seeks appointment; or who s addicted to the habitual use of intoxicating beverages to xcess; or who has been guilty of a crime or of infamous or iotoriously disgraceful conduct; or who has been dismissed rom the service for delinquency or misconduct; or who has ntentionally made a false statement in any material fact, or racticed, or attempted to practice, any deception or fraud in is application or examination, or in securing his eligibility or ppointment. Any of the foregoing disqualifications shall be ood cause for the removal of an eligible from the service after is appointment.

5 In applications for examination for positions requiring cientific, professional or technical qualifications, the commis- ion may require evidences of special education for, or of practi- al experience for a satisfactory term in, such science, pro- ession, art or trade; and shall require the production of such ertificates of competency and licenses as are provided by the tatutes of this state as necessary to enable the practice of any profession, art or trade.

6 Any application for a position in the civil service made in contravention of the provisions of section 4 of rule II, will be rejected.

Rule X — Examinations

1 All examinations shall be public and shall be practical in their character and relate to such matters as will fairly test he relative capacity and fitness of the persons examined to lischarge the duties of that service into which they seek to be ppointed.

2 The commission shall prepare lists of preliminary require- nents and subjects of examination for the several positions and roups of positions in the competitive class, and under its direc- ion and subject to its approval the chief examiner shall, from ime to time, prepare such examinations for the positions and roups of positions aforesaid as shall be pertinent to them, nder the provisions of the preceding section of this rule. All such special certificates shall be properly filed and retained as public records in the office of the commission.

8 When the position to be filled involves fiduciary responsibility, the appointing officer, where otherwise permitted by law, may require the appointee to furnish a bond or other security and shall notify the commission of the amount and necessary details thereof.

9 No person who has entered any competitive examination for a position in the classified service shall be admitted within nine months from the date thereof to a new examination for the same position. (As amended November 28, 1899.)

10 Examination papers shall be rated on a scale of 100, and the subjects therein shall be given such relative weights as the commission may prescribe. After a competitor's papers have been rated he shall be duly notified of the results thereof.

Rule XI — Eligible lists

1 Every competitor who attains an average percentage of 75 or over on all the obligatory subjects in any examination, and whose standing on every such obligatory subject is 60 or over, shall be eligible for appointment to the position for which he was examined; and the names of eligibles shall be entered, in the order of their average percentages, on the proper register of eligibles; provided that the names of competitors who have passed as above and whose claims for preference under section 9 of article V of the constitution have been allowed by the commission, shall be placed in the order of their respective average percentages at the head of the proper register of eligibles.

2 When two or more eligibles on a register have the same average percentage, preference in certification shall be determined by the order in which their applications were filed, but neither priority in the date of application nor of examination will give any other advantage in position on the registers of eligibles.

3 Appointment shall be made from the eligible list most nearly appropriate for the group in which the position to be filled is classified, and a new list shall be created for a stated position or group of positions only when there is no appropriate list existing or when the existing list from which certification is to be made is likely to be exhausted.

4 The commission shall prescribe the character of the distinct eligible lists, designating the positions that may be filled by certification from each of such lists. (As amended April 18, 1902

5 The term of eligibility shall be fixed by the regulations of the commission at not less than one nor more than four years with reference mainly to the probable number and frequency of certifications to be made from such lists respectively.

6 Merit lists for appointment in the state service existing at the time of the passage of the civil service law shall be continued as the eligible lists from which appointments are to be made until an examination for similar position shall be held and reported by the commission under these rules, and all eligible lists prepared as the results of fitness examinations are hereby abolished.

Rule XII — Term of probation

1 Except in the case of veterans of the civil war, honorably discharged from the military or naval service of the United States, every original appointment to or employment in any position in the competitive class shall be for a probationary term of three months, and an appointing or nominating officer in notifying a person certified to him for appointment or employment shall specify the same as for a probationary term only and if the conduct, capacity and fitness of the probationer are satisfactory to the appointing officer, his retention in the service after the end of such term shall be equivalent to his permanent appointment, but if his conduct, capacity or fitness be not satisfactory he may be discharged at the end of such term.

Whenever two or more persons appointed from the same eligible list are serving as probationers in the same department, and there is necessity for a reduction in the force of such department affecting such persons, they shall be preferred for retention in the order of their original standing upon such list. (As amended March 21, 1900; April 18, 1902.)

2 Every officer under whom any probationer shall serve during any part of his probation shall carefully observe the quality and value of the services rendered by such probationer, and his conduct, and if so required shall report in writing to the proper appointing officer the facts observed by him, showing the character and qualifications of such probationer, and of the service rendered by him, and such reports shall be preserved on file.

Rule XIII — Season positions

1 All positions in the competitive class, where the nature of service is such that it is not continuous through the year, but recurs in each successive calendar year, shall be designated as season positions and shall be subject to the provisions of these rules applicable generally to positions in such class, except as herein otherwise provided.

2 Any person originally appointed to or employed in a season position, under the provisions of these rules, and who has been temporarily separated from the service by the expiration thereof in any year, shall be entitled to reappointment to or reëmployment in the same position in the next ensuing year, upon filing in the office of the commission, in such form as it may prescribe, a request for such reappointment or reëmployment within six weeks previous to and at least thirty days before the date of resumption of such short term service. The commission shall certify to the proper appointing or employing officer the names and post-office addresses of the persons who have made such formal requests, and they shall be reinstated in the positions vacated by them in the previous year in the order of the date of their original appointment or latest promotion in the several grades, provided that in the meantime they are not disqualified from any of the causes recited in the fourth section of rule IX.

Rule XIV — Promotions

1 Except as otherwise provided in this rule whenever a vacancy occurs in any position in the competitive class above the lowest grade in any group, the chief examiner shall forthwith arrange to hold a promotion examination limited to those persons who have for more than six months served with fidelity in the next lower grade in such group in the same office, department or institution, provided, that if there are no persons who have served with fidelity for six months in the next lower grade, or provided all persons in the next lower grade fail in any promotion examination, then all persons in the second lower grade who have served with fidelity for six months in the same group in the same office, department or institution, shall have the right to compete in said promotion examination. On the request of the appointing officer, sufficient and proper reasons being set forth in detail in writing showing that the competition in the promotion examination should not be limited to the persons heretofore mentioned, the commission may permit the incumbents of any of the following classes of positions to enter a promotion examination: first, persons who for more than six months have served in any of the lower grades in the same group in the same office, department or institution; second, persons who for more than six months have served in another group but in a similar position in the same office, department or institution; third, persons who for more than six months have served in the same or another group but in a similar position in other offices, departments or institutions; provided, however, that no persons in any of the three classes or positions aforementioned shall be permitted to enter such promotion examination unless the commission shall first find, after due inquiry, that the nature of the duties of the positions held by the persons in the said classes, who seek to enter such promotion examination, are such as naturally and properly fit them to perform the duties of the position to which they seek promotion as fully as the duties of the persons holding positions in the next two lower grades in the same group in the same office, department or institution; but all promotions of clerks, bookkeepers, stenographers, copyists, messengers, pages, and other employees whose duties are of a clerical character in all the state departments, bureaus, divisions, commissions and offices, shall be subject to the provision of section 6 of chapter 521 of the laws of 1901, to wit: "Promotions shall be made by successive grades so far as practicable, and no person shall be promoted to a position in the higher grade who has not served at least six months in the next lower grade." Whenever it is found by the state commission not practicable to fill a vacancy in any position through promotion in the manner herein prescribed, such vacancy shall be filled by original appointment through competitive examination in accordance with the provisions of subdivision 1 of rule VIII. (As amended July 29, 1899; October 2, 1899; September 24, 1900; April 18, 1902.)

2 As provided by the civil service law, an increase in the salary or other compensation of any person holding an office or position within the scope of these rules beyond the limit fixed for the grade in which such office or position is classified shall be deemed a promotion.

3 No promotion can be made from a position in one class or group to a position in another class or group, unless the same be specially authorized by the commission, but a person employed in any position shall not, because of such appointment, be barred from the open competitive examination provided for original entrance to any other position.

4 The test of actual service being the main factor in fitness for promotion, there shall be kept in every office continuous and comparative records of the efficiency, punctuality, attention and general good conduct of all persons employed therein. Such records shall at all times be open to inspection by the state commission, and if the same have been regularly and properly kept they shall constitute one of the elements in such promotion examination, with such relative weight as shall be assigned to them by the chief examiner. If such records have not been regularly and properly kept, the chief examiner shall prescribe such tests as to him may seem best calculated to determine the relative merit and fitness of the persons entitled to enter the promotion examination.

5 The appointing officer shall notify the commission of any vacancy in a position in his office to be filled by promotion, and thereupon, after consultation with the appointing officer, the commission shall direct a competitive examination of those entitled to enter the same under the provisions of this rule, and shall publish the same by notice, giving date and place, posted conspicuously in the office where such vacancy exists, and sent by mail to those eligible to such examination.

6 After consultation with the appointing officer under whom the vacancy exists, the commission shall appoint an examining board of three members. The written part of the examination shall be confined to the duties of the office in which the vacancy occurs, and particularly to the duties of the position to be filled. Due weights will be given to the candidates' seniority and past record in the office and to any special fitness for the duties of the higher position.

7 The conduct of such examination and the preparation of the eligible list shall be subject to the general provisions of rules X and XI, provided, however, that no eligible list for promotion shall be valid beyond one year. The commission shall certify from the eligible list for promotion in the same manner provided in section 2 of rule VIII for certification for original appointment, except that where vacancies in the position of first assistant physician in any of the state hospitals are to be filled, the commission shall certify in addition to the three highest names upon the eligible list the names of all persons at that time connected with the institution in which the vacancy exists whose rating is 85 per cent. or over. (As amended May 8 and July 10, 1900.)

8 No recommendation of any person for promotion, whether verbal or written, shall be entertained or received, unless made in the ordinary course of duty by his immediate official superiors, and the presentation of any recommendation other than that of such superiors shall be considered an unwarrantable interference with the public service, and the person so recommended may be required to show, before being certified for promotion, that such recommendation was not made by his request or connivance.

9 Whenever there is but one person entitled to promotion to fill a vacancy and willing to compete therefor, or whenever an appointing officer is desirous of promoting all the persons in a particular grade entitled to compete for promotion, and also whenever the salary or compensation of a person holding a position is to be increased without any change whatever in the duties of the position, such person or persons may be promoted to the next higher grade without examination upon a certificate of the facts and the approval of the commission; provided that for original entrance to the position to which promotion is sought there is not required an examination involving essential tests or qualifications different from or higher than those required for original entrance to the position then held by such person. (Added Octobed 2, 1899; amended April 18, 1902.)

Rule XV — Transfers

(As amended April 18, 1902.)

Transfers may be made, upon request of the heads of the departments affected, as follows:

1 A person who has received an appointment from an eligible list and has served the required probationary term may be transferred to a similar position in the same group, subdivision and grade. When a proposed transfer involves a change in grade only, the same may be allowed in the discretion of the commission.

2 A transfer of a person holding a position in the competitive class, who has served the required probationary term, to a position in a different group or subdivision may be allowed in the discretion of the commission, provided said person has attained a place upon the appropriate eligible list for the latter position in force at the time the request for the transfer is made.

3 A person holding a position in the competitive class who did not enter the service after qualifying in an open competitive examination, may be transferred to a similar position in the same group, subdivision and grade, provided he has served at least three years in the position from which he desires transfer, or has attained a place upon the appropriate eligible list in force at the time the request for the transfer is made.

4 A transfer of a person holding a position in the exempt or non-competitive class to a position in the competitive class may be allowed in the discretion of the commission only when the person to be transferred has qualified in an open competitive examination and his name is upon the appropriate eligible list in force at the time the request for the transfer is made.

5 A transfer from a position in the competitive class of the civil service of the state to a similar position in the same class in any of the cities or civil divisions thereof, and vice versa, may be allowed in the discretion of the commission only when the person to be transferred obtained his appointment by virtue of an open competitive examination conducted by or under the direction of the state civil service commission, and when the proposed transfer is in accord with sections 1, 2 and 3 of this rule.

Rule XVI — Reinstatement in service

1 Any person who has held a position by appointment under the civil service rules, and who has been separated from the service through no delinquency or misconduct on his part, may be reinstated without reëxamination in a vacant position in the same office and in the same group, subdivision and grade, within one year from the date of such separation, provided that for original entrance to the position proposed to be filled by reinstatement there is not required by these rules, in the opinion of the commission, an examination involving essential tests or qualifications different from or higher than those involved in the examination for original entrance to the position formerly held by the person proposed to be reinstated.

2 Whenever in any department or institution an office or position is abolished, or whenever the number of positions of a certain character is reduced, or whenever by reason of a lack of appropriation or otherwise it becomes necessary to discharge or suspend one or more of several persons holding the same position, veterans of the civil war, veterans of the volunteer army or navy of the United States in the Spanish war, and exempt volunteer firemen shall be entitled to preference in retention in such positions over other persons. (As amended April 18, 1902.)

3 Persons legally holding such positions at the time of such reduction or discharge shall be entitled to reappointment or reinstatement in the same position or positions if they are thereafter within one year reëstablished under the same or any other designation. The names of such persons shall be entered upon lists of suspended employees and shall remain thereon for a period of one year, and upon notice of a vacancy in the same or a similar position in any department, names from such lists of suspended employees shall be certified to the appointing officer in preference to names from the eligible lists. Preference in certification from such lists of suspended employees shall be given in the following order: first, veterans of the civil war in the order of their separation from the service; second, veterans of the Spanish war and exempt volunteer firemen in the order of their separation from the service; third, other persons in the order of their separation from the service. Persons specified in the first and second classes above mentioned shall be entitled to certification for positions to which they are eligible in any department or institution, but persons specified in the third class shall be entitled to certification only to the department from which they were discharged. (Added April 18, 1902.)

Rule XVII — Certificates for promotion, transfer and reinstatement

1 Upon the written request of an appointing officer, stating the essential facts in regard to any proposed promotion, transfer or reinstatement, the commission will, if such promotion, transfer or reinstatement be in accordance with law and the provisions of these rules, issue its certificate of that fact to such officer.

2 All promotions, transfers and reinstatements herein authorized shall be made only after the issuance of such certificate, except those which may be specifically exempted from such condition by regulation of the commission.

Rule XVIII — Definition of the non-competitive class

The non-competitive class shall include such postitions as are not in the exempt class and which it is impracticable to include in the competitive class.

It shall comprise the following positions and such positions as may hereafter be added; provided, that from time to time, the commission shall transfer positions from this class to the competitive class whenever it may be found practicable to hold competitive examinations to fill them:

Rule XIX — Employment in the non-competitive class

1 The positions in the non-competitive class must be filled by such persons as upon proper non-competitive examinations shall be certified as qualified to discharge the duties of such positions by an examiner or examiners selected or appointed for that purpose by the commission. The head of any office, department or institution in which there may be a vacancy or vacancies in any position or positions in this class, may name for examination a person for each vacancy. The commission may provide by special regulation that in any institution where a number of persons are employed in the same grade, the employing officer may name for examination more than one person, in order that there may be a list of qualified persons from which to make an immediate selection in case of vacancy. Such nomination may be made to the commission, or to an examiner or board of examiners, as the commission may prescribe by regulations.

2 The commission shall select, appoint and commission examiners or boards of examiners to test the qualifications of persons named for employment in positions in the non-competitive class, and they shall be subject to the provisions of the fourth section of rule X.

3 Examinations for positions in the non-competitive class shall be such as shall determine the following qualifications:

First — That the person examined is within the limits of age prescribed for the position or employment to which he has been named;

Second — That he is properly certified as free from any physical defect or disease which would be likely to interfere with the proper discharge of his duties;

Third — That his character is such as to qualify him for such position or employment; and Fourth — That he possesses the requisite knowledge and ability to enter on the discharge of his duties in the service.

To preserve a uniform standard in such qualifications for like positions and employments in the several institutions and offices of the state service, the commission, after consultation with the principal officers concerned, may by regulations prescribe uniform limitations and tests for the government of the examiners.

Rule XX — Reports of appointing officers

For the purpose of certification to the comptroller, or other fiscal officer, for the payment of salaries and to enable the commission to keep an official roster of the classified service as required by law, each appointing and employing officer, from time to time after the date of the promulgation of these rules and upon the date of the official action in or knowledge of each case, shall report to the commission as follows:

(a) Every appointment or employment whether probationary, temporary, or otherwise, in the classified service, with the date of commencement of service and the title and compensation of the position.

This includes every employment or designation of any person to render any service, whether permanent, temporary or special, to the state of New York or any of its civil divisions to which these rules shall be extended, in any capacity whatever, compensation for which is to be made to the person employed or designated, except in the military service and the unclassified service as defined by law and by section 2 of rule III.

(b) Every failure to accept an appointment under him by a person entitled thereto, with copies of the offer or notice of appointment and the reply thereto, if any.

(c) Every discharge during or at the end of a probationary term, with the date thereof.

(d) Every vacancy in a position, whether caused by dismissal, resignation or death, with the date thereof.

(e) Every position abolished, with date of such abolition.

(f) Every change of compensation in a position, with the date thereof.

(g) Every promotion, giving positions from which and to which made, with the salaries and date thereof.

(h) Every transfer, giving the positions from which and to which made, with the date and salaries thereof.

(i) Every reinstatement in a position, with the date and salary thereof.

Rule XXI — The official roster

The commission shall keep in its office an official roster of the classified state service, and shall enter thereon the name of each and every person who has been appointed to, employed, promoted or reinstated in any position in such service upon such evidence as it may require or deem satisfactory that such person was appointed to, or employed, promoted or reinstated in the service in conformity with the provisions of law and of these rules. The official roster shall show opposite, or in connection with each name, the date of appointment, employment, promotion or reinstatement, and the office in which and the compensation of the position, date of commencement of service, and the date of transfer in or separation from the service by dismissal, resignation, cancellation of appointment, or death.

Rule XXII — Certification for payment for services

For the purpose of certification of pay-rolls, estimates and accounts as required by section 19 of the civil service law, appointing officers and heads of departments shall furnish the commission with pay-rolls, estimates, accounts and certificates in form and manner as follows:

1 Heads of departments, offices and institutions in the state service, whose employees are paid individually direct from the treasury of the state or any civil division thereof, shall furnish the commission, at least five days before payment is to be made, pay-rolls in duplicate, showing the names of the persons to be paid, the title of the position held or kind of service performed by each person, the rate and amount of compensation to which he is entitled, and the period for which he is to be paid, and shall certify that the persons named therein are employed solely in the proper duties of the positions and employments indicated, and that persons described as or proposed to be paid as "laborers" are employed at ordinary unskilled labor only. After examination and certification by the commission as hereinafter prescribed, such pay-rolls shall be transmitted by it to the comptroller or fiscal officer of such civil division for further examination and payment as required by law, and one of said duplicates shall accompany the warrant on the treasurer or other disbursing officer.

2 For payments for irregular or occasional services, and for advances of salary to regular employees, the head of such a department, office or institution shall transmit to the commission the original account or a special pay-roll or a request for advance payment, bearing his written approval, which approval shall be deemed to be a certificate of the facts required by the preceding section to be certified on the regular pay-rolls. Upon examination and certification by the commission such account, pay-roll or request shall be forwarded to the comptroller or other fiscal officer.

3 Heads of departments, offices or institutions whose employees are paid directly by the department without previous detailed estimate to the comptroller, shall furnish the commission, before payment is made, or in case of employees of the department of public works and of the state engineer and surveyor on the canals, outside of Albany, before credit is claimed from the comptroller on such pay-rolls, the pay-rolls and certificates as required in section 1 hereof, and except in the case noted, disbursing officers of such departments, offices and institutions shall not pay such persons until the commission shall certify as hereinafter prescribed. Heads and disbursing officers of such departments, offices and institutions shall file the pay-rolls certified by the commission as vouchers in claiming credit from the comptroller or other fiscal officer for such payments.

4 The estimates for payment of officers and employees, and for services of state hospitals and charitable institutions required by law to render detailed estimates in advance, under what is known as the "estimate system," containing the names, titles of positions held or kind of service performed and rate of compensation of all officers and employees in the classified service with the certificate specified in section 1 hereof, shall be submitted to the commission for certification before approval by the comptroller or other department having power of revision of such estimates, and no vouchers for payments for services shall be received unless in accord with such estimates, and the certificate of the commission.

I hereby certify that the person (or persons) named in this (or the attached) pay-roll (or estimate or account) for services rendered to the state of New York in the ..... containing ..... names have been appointed or promoted to or employed in the positions or places and at the rates of compensation indicated in pursuance of the civil service law, and the rules made in pursuance thereof as shown by the official roster of the state service, except (Here insert names in regard to which the pay-roll, estimate or account disagrees with the official roster.)

....., Secretary of the State Civil Service Commission

To provide for the making of such certifications and for other purposes the commission shall designate an employee in its office to act as assistant secretary of the commission, under and by direction of the secretary when that officer is on duty and for him and in his stead in his absence.

6 Upon satisfactory evidence that, with intent to evade the provisions of law and of these rules, any person appointed to or employed in any position in the classified service has been assigned to perform duties other than those for which he was examined and certified, or under any title not appropriate to the duties to be performed, the commission will refuse certification and remove his name from the official roster.

4 In order to properly identify competitors, each person presenting himself for examination shall fill out a "declaration sheet" on which he shall state the essential facts contained in his application paper. Each declaration sheet shall bear a different number which shall be used to designate the examination papers of the competitor. The name of the competitor shall not appear on his examination papers except on the declaration sheet. (Added November 23, 1899.)

5 For the further identification of appointees and for the prevention of impersonation in examinations, every person appointed after a competitive examination shall be required to fill out an identification sheet to be called "declaration of appointee." Said declaration shall require a reiteration of the essential facts of the application and declaration sheet and the statement of such other facts as the chief examiner shall require, and shall be filled out by the appointee in the presence of the appointing officer or his representative who shall attach his certificate of such fact. Such declaration shall be forwarded with the notice of appointment to the state civil service commission and shall be filed with the examination papers of the appointee. (Added November 23, 1899.)

6 The relative weights given to the several subjects or qualifications in an examination shall be fixed before the date thereof by the chief examiner under the direction of the commission.

7 Non-competitive examinations for provisional appointments under the provisions of rule VIII shall be in their scope and character the same as competitive examinations to fill vacancies in the same positions.

2 The marking of each competitor's papers shall be made on the scale of 100, which maximum shall represent the highest attainable accuracy, and 0 shall represent entire ignorance. The average of the marking of the several answers upon any one subject shall be the standing on that subject.

No person shall have his name entered upon an eligible list who fails to attain an average percentage of 75, or over, on all the obligatory subjects in the examination, and a percentage of 60 or over on every such obligatory subject.

3 The absolute or general average standing of each competitor will then be made up in form substantially as follows, in accordance with the respective weights accorded to the subjects:

EXAMINATION OF.....

	SUBJECT	Relative weights	Standing on subjects	Products
1	Writing from dictation	3	95	285
2	Copying from manuscript	2	78	156
3	Handwriting	4	80	320
4	Spelling	3	98	294
5	Arithmetic	4	62	248
6	Geography and history	1	70	70
7	Constitutional questions	1	63	63
8	Making a summary	2	75	150
	Total weight and product	20	.....	1,586
	General average standing	.....	.....	79.30

It will be observed that the standing on each subject is multiplied by the weight given that subject and the product placed in the third column, and the sum of these products, divided by the sum of the weights, gives the general average standing.

4 Within five days after the filing of the report of any competitive examination, each competitor will be advised by mail by the secretary of the commission as to the result of his examination and his relative position on the eligible list. Prior to that time no inquiries to the commission, or its officers, will be answered, nor will any letters, explanatory of errors presumed to have been made in an examination, receive any attention.

5 A competitor receiving such notice may, in person or by duly authorized agent, in the presence of any officer of the commission, inspect his examination papers, and if, in his opinion, injustice has been done him, he may, within fifteen days after the receipt of notice, appeal to the commission, specifying particularly and in detail the cause of complaint. Such appeal will be considered by the commission, and, if necessary, it will direct the revision of the marking or grading of the appellant's papers, or otherwise do justice in the premises.

6 The commission shall appoint a committee on appeals, consisting of one commissioner, to whom all appeals shall be referred immediately upon their receipt, and who shall report thereon at the next meeting of the commission. (Added December 19, 1902.)

Regulation VII — Eligible lists

1 After an examination for positions in any grade or subdivision in the competitive class, the names of such competitors as are eligible under the provisions of rule XI shall be entered upon an eligible list for such position in order as follows:

First, the names of veterans in the order of their rating; and, second, the names of other eligibles in the order of their rating. 3 The term of eligibility shall be one year from the date of filing of the report of the examination, or until a new list of eligibles for the same positions shall be filed, if longer than one year, unless otherwise prescribed by the commission. If the appointment shall be made of any person other than one of the three standing highest on the eligible list, the appointing officer shall forward to the commission with the notice of appointment copies of all correspondence to and from the persons declining such appointment, in accordance with the provisions of rule XX and section 2 of rule VIII. (As amended May 7, 1900.)

(d) In certification from the eligible list of court attendants for appointment in the appellate division of the supreme court, residents of the judicial department in which the vacancy exists shall be preferred. (Added March 15, 1901.)

When the services to be performed in any position for which eligibles are to be certified from any of the eligible lists mentioned in this section, are confined to a locality outside of Albany county, the secretary shall certify from the proper eligible list the person or persons standing highest who are residents of the judicial district in which the service is located or of the judicial district indicated above; but if there be no eligibles who are residents of such judicial district, or if all such eligibles shall decline the appointment, the person or persons standing highest on the whole eligible list shall be certified.

For the purpose of certification under this regulation, the residence of any person shall be deemed to be the place stated by such person in his application to be his legal residence at the time such application is filed, but in case any person has removed from the judicial district in which he resided at the time of the filing of his application for examination, such person shall no longer be eligible to appointment from that district, but shall, after three months, be on the eligible list for the judicial district into which he has moved. (As amended February 6, 1900.)
